Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIRST DAY, Wednesday, January 3, 1996

Speaker Griffin in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"The servant is not greater than his/her master." (Jn. 13:16)

We are grateful for the start of a new year, always a time of hope and promise.

We ask a special blessing, gracious God, on the work of this 88th General Assembly, Second Regular Session, and especially for our change of leadership. May we address issues, not personalities, and however much we disagree, may we not be disagreeable. May we keep sight of the State's motto, the well-being of the people, which is the goal of our work, the supreme law which has brought us here and is expected to be the guide which governs us while we serve the people who are our true masters. We pray for eternal life and consolation for the families of those former colleagues and family members who died since our last gathering in this Chamber. And we pray for those recovering from surgery or a serious illness at this time. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE SECRETARY OF STATE

To the Honorable House of Representatives of the Eighty-Eighth General Assembly, Second Regular Session, of the State of Missouri:

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

SECOND DAY, Thursday, January 4, 1996

Speaker Griffin in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Cheryl L. Tatham.

As the hours tick by, O God of Past, Present and Future, we enter this new year with all its risks and possibilities.

You have, throughout the centuries, given us strong leadership-- leadership with commitment, leadership with courage, leadership with vision. In these uncertain days, we trust you to bring to the forefront such leaders once again.

Inscribed in this state's capitol are the words, "Where there is no vision, the people perish." Let not the people of this great state perish for our lack of vision.

On this day when patience is tested and spirits sag, we entrust the proceedings of this House to your guidance and these present here and their families to your providential care. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Ann Adkens.

THIRD DAY, Monday, January 8, 1996

Speaker Griffin in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"God finished his work and rested on the seventh day." (Gen. 2:2).

Today we face a near record-breaking storm on the East Coast, the nation's government is still partially shut-down and we are still focused on the leadership of the House.

Eternal Father, help us to recognize that in times of change there is uncertainty as we face the unknown and we put forward what we believe is right or think we want. Politics has become a dirty word in so much of our speech, but mixed in with the unsavory, are the things that are most important to us, our core values and our ideology as we seek a program to put flesh on that vision. Excuse our messy process Lord, as we thank you for the privilege that is ours, to exercise our rights as free citizens and create differences in the system here and in Congress, knowing that not even a major reform, and no change of personnel is a guarantee of trouble-free operation from this time out. The "Pardon Our Mess While We Make Improvements" sign is always going to be up in a free society. There is no final seventh day of complete rest for us mortals, only temporary breaks in the schedule. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Speaker Griffin appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Nicholas Hartzler, Hollyce Hartzler and William Hartzler.

ELECTION OF SPEAKER OF THE HOUSE

Which motion was adopted.

FOURTH DAY, Tuesday, January 9, 1996

Speaker Griffin in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"A light that shines in the dark, a light that darkness could not overpower." (Jn. 1:5).

At this time of year, the Jewish and Christian faiths have just celebrated the beginning of the return of light with special religious meaning, building on the earth's natural rhythm at the mid-winter solstice.

It is a time to celebrate life and hope and to once again claim the fragile bonds that bind us together as human family under you, the one eternal God. As the Jewish rabbi said at the Governor's prayer breakfast, each soul is connected to every other soul. Too often today we see collections of special interest groups or coalitions seeking something for just ourselves, or for me, instead of looking to the common good and what is best for all. We are family despite what labels and tribal war-cries do to keep us at war with the others. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTH DAY, Wednesday, January 10, 1996

Speaker Griffin in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Cheryl L. Tatham.

In the midst of the complicated situations of life and the unsolved problems of this world, deliver us, God, for a sense of futility. Let your servants feel the support of the people they serve and let them feel the encouragement of friends and family. Remind us all that your power has never been obstructed by difficulties nor is your love limited by our confusion.

As we draw on our limited resources of knowledge and wisdom may we be propelled toward dependence upon you.

Save these who serve here from the tyranny of the nonessential, from the weary rounds of debate which sap strength and energy, and let them concentrate and devote themselves to the important issues before this body. May their decisions be guided by a self-less acknowledgment of their accountability to the people of this state and to you. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Speaker Griffin appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Eugene Stroud III.

LETTER OF RESIGNATION

January 10, 1996

Speaker Bob F. Griffin

Missouri House of Representatives

The Capitol

Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Mr. Speaker:

The events of the last week have prompted many of us in the Missouri House of Representatives to deeply reflect on ways to resolve the political impasse that has paralyzed this body. The difficulties in trying to restructure our leadership, combined with deep political divisions within the House, have resulted in a discord heretofore unseen by our body.

During this crisis, I have been the subject of much of the political speculation and I am pained by critics who believe that I do not have the best interests of this institution at heart. I am proud of the contribution I have made to this body and to the people of the state of Missouri. I have only the highest respect for this body, its members and the work we do in the chamber.

Due to my deep respect for this body and the people who serve here, today I am resigning as Speaker Pro Tem of the Missouri House of Representatives. I hope this action will encourage compromise and provide the necessary incentive for the House to select its new leadership. This has been an intensely personal decision made free of any outside influence.

I sincerely appreciate the support all of you have given me during my tenure as Speaker Pro Tem. The confidence that many of you have expressed publicly for me during recent days, particularly those who believed that I would have been an effective Speaker of the House, has been especially gratifying. However, I feel that my resignation will provide more opportunities to resolve this impasse.

I have sincerely enjoyed working with all of you during my service as Speaker Pro Tem of this body and I look forward to working with the new leadership as a House member for the remainder of the 88th Missouri General Assembly. My thoughts and prayers are with those who take over the reins and lead the House into the new century.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/ Speaker Pro Tem Jim Barnes

Representative Crump moved that nominations for Speaker Pro Tem of the House be held and that they serve for the remainder of the session and be elected by roll call vote. Representatives voting Democrat will vote green and Representatives voting Republican will vote red, and that the board be held open no longer than fifteen minutes.

Which motion was adopted.

Representative Carter nominated Representative Fletcher Daniels as the Democrat nominee for Speaker Pro Tem of the House.

Representative Gaw seconded the nomination.

Representative Scott nominated Representative Mark Richardson as the Republican nominee for Speaker Pro Tem of the House.

Representative Lograsso seconded the nomination.

Speaker Griffin requested that a green vote be cast for Representative Daniels and that a red vote be cast for Representative Richardson.

House Journal

SIXTH DAY, Thursday, January 11, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Cheryl L. Tatham.

This is a new day, Gracious God of Life, full of promises and possibilities. As we reflect on days past, we ask your forgiveness for words spoken in anger and frustration. We give thanks for Representatives Griffin and Barnes who served their offices with fortitude in the face of good days and bad. Bless them in their service completed. We thank you for Representatives Gaw and Daniels who bring to this House new enthusiasm and experienced wisdom. Give them strength and guidance for the journey through the days ahead.

Protect and direct these servants of the people, O Lord, as they look toward the future with anticipation of great accomplishment. Reassure them that you are a great and loving God, ever watchful over your creation. Bless them as they return to their homes and their families this weekend and give them rest and refreshment for their bodies and their spirits, and may they return to this place with renewed commitment and courage.

We lift our prayers to you for those struggling with illness or grief, especially for Logan Crump, 4 month old son of Rep. Wayne Crump, as he fights respiratory problems. Support him and his parents, Wayne and Tiffany, with your healing touch.

Hear our prayers, O Lord. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

VACANCY: 001

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, Honorable John C. Holstein. The Chief Justice was duly escorted to the House Chamber and the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in the Joint Session.

STATE OF THE JUDICIARY ADDRESS
by John C. Holstein, Chief Justice to Joint Session of the General Assembly

January 11, 1996

Lieutenant Governor, Mr. Speaker, members of the General Assembly, colleagues, and fellow Missourians:

It is a great honor to be the twelfth chief justice since the tradition began in 1974 to be invited to speak to the General Assembly. Both you and I, as public servants, are privileged to stand here today on the broad shoulders of earlier chief justices, senators, representatives, and members of the executive branch. Their foresight in designing and implementing our state system of justice reflects immense wisdom. They were progressive when progress was called for. They exercised restraint when restraint was appropriate.

In recent years the General Assembly has upheld that great tradition. You have continued to provide the tools necessary to make the delivery of justice to Missouri citizens better, faster and more efficient than ever before. The backlogs and delays that exist in other states do not exist in Missouri. The General Assembly has been most helpful in two particular areas. First, in order to meet the challenge presented by an unprecedented growth rate in caseloads, prior chief justices have come to the legislature to seek funding for judicial transfer programs, and for the broader use of our senior judges. The General Assembly and the Governor have responded favorably to those requests in the past. As a result, tens of thousands of cases have been disposed of by judges on transfer and by senior judges. We are grateful to the other two branches of government for assisting the courts. All Missourians should be enormously grateful to the senior judges and to the judges who have been transferred, often at considerable inconvenience and, in the case of senior judges, without receiving full compensation. Last year alone, the number of days our senior judges worked were equivalent to more than 10 full-time sitting judges.

The second area in which the General Assembly in recent years has been most helpful is in providing the courts with ability to automate. Beginning in 1994, the legislature provided for a funding mechanism to develop a statewide computerized court system. The General Assembly has challenged us to create a court system that is more accessible and more effective than ever before.

Meetings are being held around the state with those who will use electronic courts -- appellate judges, trial judges, clerks, attorneys, and state agencies, who routinely need access to court information. We are now beginning to see the first fruit of the court automation project. Through arrangements made with the Court Automation Committee, Missouri statutes and Missouri cases going back to 1950 are now available on compact disk to all trial judges in the state who want them. We hope to put more of our Supreme Court publications, Approved Instructions and judicial bench books on computer disk in the near future. A judge traveling a circuit may carry a complete Missouri law library in a briefcase. In the future, we may be able to have such a library on line. Plans are being made for the Missouri Bar and the Missouri State Courts Administrator to have a home page on the internet so that lawyers and citizens alike may access information about the courts. Lawyers will be able to register for continuing legal education programs, and information regarding selecting a lawyer, small claims court, or recent court decisions may be located by citizens.

A more important and certainly the more costly aspect of the project is the contract entered into this fall to design an architecture which will provide a statewide judicial information system that will take us well into the next century. Ultimately, that system will allow us the option of electronic filings of pleading, giving of notices, and archiving of court records for retrieval on a 24-hour-a-day basis. Video conferencing will be included in the plan so that some court proceedings may be conducted from remote locations. The contract will give us an architecture for a computer system which will not become obsolete before the system is completed.

As originally conceived, our court automation project required ten years of funding. As you know, the court automation bill as it finally passed only provided for five years of funding. I again commend to you the need to consider extending that funding for the five additional years necessary to complete the project.

As we enter into court automation, we are making every effort not to computerize merely for the sake of computerization. Now is the time to eliminate bad practices and procedure. Every aspect of our judicial process must be open to thorough examination.

The story is told about a young wife who baked a ham every Sunday. Every Sunday she cut the ends of the ham off before she baked it. After watching her do this for a few weeks, her young husband asked her why she did it. She said, "I do it because my mother did it." She then called her mother and asked her why she cut the ends off the ham. Her mother said, "My mother did it." So grandma was called. She asked grandma why she cut the ends off the ham. Grandma replied, "Simple. My pan was too small."

We are trying to be careful as we computerize not to perpetuate a senseless practice merely because "that's how grandma did it." We should not become so steeped in tradition that we are incapable of change.

To obtain the full benefit of computerization will undoubtedly require some statutory changes. We will be coming to you to assist us in making the necessary changes so that we do not continue to cut the ends off the ham.

This brings me to legislation which we are going to ask you to consider and, hopefully, pass during this session of the legislature. It has to do with our present system of court costs. As most of you are aware, that system is extremely complex. Court costs have been used and, in the view of some, overused as a revenue enhancement device. Court costs and fees have historically been a method for offsetting some of the public cost of operating the court system from the users of that system. To ask those who most directly benefit from operation of the court to share in the costs of its operation is not inherently wrong.

At the same time, for the court to fulfill its role and to provide citizens their constitutional rights to due process, access must not be prevented or unduly restricted by the amount of court costs or by the proliferation of costs unrelated to court operations that are charged. The costs for filing circuit civil cases has risen from $60 in 1982 to over $100 in 1995. These costs, surcharges and fees may occur within the case due to service of process, payment of jury fees, copying fees, court reporter transcript fees, etc. These must be sorted out and billed by the clerks of the court. Then the costs must be distributed to the proper agency. Each of you have been provided with a diagram of our court costs system. Larger versions of that same diagram have been set up in the front of each of the two galleries.

The diagram graphically illustrates the present system and why court costs are a prime target for reengineering as we enter the electronic age. The current court costs system is scattered through more than seventy sections of the statutes, beginning in chapter 14 and concluding in chapter 595 of the Revised Statutes. Under the current billing system, the billing may be quite late. It is not at all unusual that the responsible party is dead or that an attorney has lost contact with his or her client who is the responsible party. The billing system is unnecessarily complex. In one associate circuit court, I was shown a receipt form that was more than eighteen inches wide merely so that it could have a box to be filled in for each of the separate court costs involved.

Auditing is quite difficult. There is no system of immediate electronic audit that follows a case from filing through the judge's entry of orders, including assessment of fines and costs, and on to the clerk, who collects the costs, and then to the state or county agencies that receive the funds. Much of this is done manually. Naturally, it must await a manual audit. As you know, those audits often occur only every two or three years.

The final problem and, perhaps, the most important problem, is the public's perception that costs are too high and too complicated. We have regularly heard complaints from people that costs and fines in one county are significantly different for the same type case a few counties away.

Here are the basic solutions which the legislation proposes:

First, to the maximum extent possible, all court costs should be placed in one chapter. In that chapter should be found not only provisions for the amount but the procedures for collection and distribution of the funds. By doing that, it is less likely that some fee or cost required to be collected by law will be missed or will not reach the proper account. In addition, terminology used in all statutes relating to various costs, fees and surcharges will be defined and made uniform.

Second, to the maximum extent possible, funds will be distributed more rapidly to the appropriate state and local government agencies. Provision should be made for electronic transfers of funds to the appropriate agencies at the state and county level.

Third, we hope to provide courts with the same flexibility accorded executive agencies for establishing charges that are directly related to the costs of services provided, such as mileage, copying papers, jury fees, and the like. To the maximum extent possible, these fees should be uniform. Costs charged in one type case in St. Charles County should not vary significantly from costs charged for the same type case in Clay County. Just like executive fees, these charges should always be subject to legislative review but, like executive agencies, the Supreme Court should have the ability to adopt uniform rules regarding the amount of costs which should properly be recovered from the parties.

Fourth, as part of court automation, a clear trail of what money is collected and where it goes that is capable of electronic audit must be established. If all the fines and costs in a particular case are not collected, that case should be flagged immediately in the system so that at least two people, perhaps the judge who assessed the fine and costs, and clerk responsible for collecting them, will be aware of the shortfall. Court automation, coupled with simplification in court costs in a unified code using uniform terminology and uniform fee schedules, should result in accurate and timely billing, collection and disbursement of court costs.

There may be some immediate costs related to this legislation. I would hope that in the long term, collections would in fact be enhanced. As you can guess from the diagram, there may be some holes in the bucket. If we can make court costs simpler, uniform, understandable and efficient, that will be a major step in earning the confidence of the people we all serve.

I wish I could say that legislation to simplify and clarify court costs is simple and clear. As you can see from the diagram, you are being asked to untie a gordian knot of court costs that has developed over many, many years and to do so without reducing revenues. As we undertake this task, I am reminded that sometimes the hardest things we do can be the most rewarding.

Returning for a moment to the subject of court automation, I wish to point out we have placed a high priority on the planning phase of court automation. We have demanded from our consultants an organized, well thought out approach to automation which sidesteps waste and false starts made by other states who fell into the temptation of quick solutions and wholesale purchases of hardware and off-the-shelf software. As we bring forward the plan, and as you see the complexity of what is required to create the statewide system that is envisioned, we hope that the system will earn your trust, confidence and support.

In this regard, we are hopeful that you will ask questions and closely follow the court automation project as well as our efforts to simplify, clarify and make more efficient the billing, collection and distribution of court costs.

There are other less costly but nonetheless important matters that we have placed before the legislature this year for consideration. One such matter is court security. I would not want to see our courthouses turned into fortresses. But insuring the safety of court staff, lawyers and litigants is essential. Court security in our circuit courts around the state is largely the responsibility of county government. Most county governments have taken that responsibility quite seriously, particularly in view of the events that occurred in Oklahoma City last year. Currently, our Supreme Court security staff is very small. Security equipment that is standard in most urban courthouses, most federal courthouses and some of the courts of appeals is not available for the Supreme Court. A committee appointed last year by the Supreme Court is working on overall recommendations for court security in the state. One of their immediate recommendations is that we strengthen the security of our own building across the street. While we have been fortunate to not have any serious incidents, we would not want to wait until something actually occurs to take action.

The Governor's Commission on the Judiciary recently made nineteen specific recommendations regarding the judicial system. While neither the Judicial Conference nor the Supreme Court has taken a position on the recommendations, I can assure you that members of the judiciary have closely observed the Governor's Commission in its deliberations. The Commission's report is thoughtful and thorough. I commend them for their work. I commend their report to you for your careful consideration. If we in the judiciary can be of any assistance to you, we will gladly make ourselves available for discussing specific topics included in the Commission's report and how those topics will affect court operations.

As previously noted, daunting caseloads are facing the courts in Missouri. In the last ten years, excluding traffic and municipal cases, the overall caseload has grown 25%. In two specific areas, domestic relations and felonies, the growth rate has been even more startling. In domestic relations, the annual number of cases filed has increased 59%. Seventy-four percent more felony cases were filed in 1995 than in 1985.

One way the trial judges have met the challenge is by moving cases faster. The Supreme Court has established case disposition guidelines. Basically, those guidelines provide a framework within which trial judges can measure whether the cases are moving through a particular judge's court within a reasonable time. By proper use of the guidelines, judges are in a better position to track their own efficiency. However, I have always been cautious to remind everyone that the quality of justice cannot be measured by how fast we dispose of cases. Every case and every court's docket is unique. Every case involves the life, liberty or property of some real person. The delivery of quality justice remains the primary focus of our work.

Educational programs have assisted in handling caseloads. In the early 1980's, a program was established to ensure that Missouri's trial judges had an opportunity at least once annually to receive an update on changes in the statutes, new caselaw, and the most current information regarding procedures. This year, for the first time, we are asking for a significant increase in our training budget to provide regional in-service training programs for the clerical staff. Just as it is important that judges keep up to date on new law and innovations in court administration, it is also critical that our clerks be given similar opportunities for continuing education, particularly in view of constantly increasing caseloads. Included in our budget for this year is additional funding to provide training to the clerks of our courts in various locations in the state. We are seeking approval of that important program.

It would be wrong for me to leave you with the impression that transfer programs, continuing education programs, and case disposition guidelines imposed by the Supreme Court were entirely responsible for this state's ability to deal with what appears to be an overwhelming caseload. In point of fact, our trial judges and court clerks simply work harder, longer, and smarter than before. That has given us the ability to meet the challenge of the last ten years. Excluding traffic cases, on average, every judge in Missouri today must dispose of 250 more cases per year than a judge did ten years ago. Ten years ago, the clerks of our state courts were handling $93 million in child support collections. This past year, those collections had rocketed to over $300 million. We should all take great pride in what our trial judges and court clerks have accomplished.

The one fact that remains clear is that this growth pattern in caseloads is almost certain to continue into the future. As we face new challenges, there will be an ever greater necessity to give trial courts and clerks the additional tools necessary to help meet the growing demand for services.

At the beginning of my comments, I spoke of the great debt we owe to the members of the General Assembly who, over the course of many years, designed our system of justice. One significant piece of legislation was Missouri's civil code which became effective ten days before I was born. The civil code formed the basis for the Missouri Supreme Court Rules. The Code contained a remarkably simple phrase that established the vision for the Missouri justice system. The statute said that all the laws relating to practices of the courts should be "construed to secure a just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every action." Those same words were incorporated into Missouri's Supreme Court rules in 1972. I look forward to working with you as we continue to make a just, speedy, and inexpensive determination of every case a reality for the citizens of Missouri.

The Joint Session was dissolved by the Lieutenant Governor.

The Speaker resumed the Chair.

EIGHTH DAY, Monday, January 15, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Overcome evil with good." (Rom. 12:21)

Today we honor the 67th birthday of Martin Luther King Jr., Gracious God. It is a day of celebration of our diversity, a celebration of alternatives, including the precious gift of non-violence, a day of repentance for what has not been done yet, even as we celebrate that which has been accomplished, while we regret the set-backs arising from pride, selfishness and hearts that will not open to love and justice. As the nation debates its policies of racial quotas and school integration, may we be debating the ways to make ourselves more just, not whether there should be justice. We think especially today of the horrific increase of the use of guns in crimes, mostly in our cities and so many of the victims and the assailants are so young; the fact that one out of three young adults is in prison or on probation or parole and that one out of every seven black men is in prison, compared to one of every ten white citizens, is cause for serious questions as we take responsibility for leading this State toward the "liberty and justice for all" we will proclaim shortly in the Pledge.

I heard a black preacher quoted this morning from yesterday's sermon, "let us give others a piece of our heart rather than a piece of our mind." Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixth day was approved as corrected and the Journal of the seventh day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels addressed the House.

My fellow members of this august body, I am especially grateful to have this opportunity to be able to serve in this capacity as Speaker Pro Tem and especially to have my first day while people all over the nation are celebrating the birthday of a great leader the Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Many of you might know that I was close to the Dr. Martin Luther King. I walked with him in 1957 and heard him make his first famous speech in that we came to tell our fellow government to give us the ballot and we would no longer worry about our basic needs. For we would fill the halls of the legislature with men of good will and carry to the sacred halls of Congress men who will not sign a southern manifesto because of their devotion to the manifesto of justice.

And I walked with Dr. King in 1963 when he made his famous speech, " I Have a Dream". To me, today in this House we have started to fulfill that dream. Thank you.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

NINTH DAY, Tuesday, January 16, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"God saw (creation) and it was good." (Gen. 1:19).

Yesterday and this morning the news showed us the latest Hubble photographs from space with some new hints about the origin of our universe, and some challenges to our present understanding of the presence of planets earlier than previously thought at the beginning of our world.

We pray today, God of light and power, that this kind of knowledge will humble all of us as well as encourage us. Science is so often so self-confident about theories which disturb some in the religious community and some in the religious community cannot avoid the same error and so they interfere with the legitimate findings and theories of science.

In our personal lives too, gracious God, we pray that we would be slower to make final judgments about the other, and even about ourselves, until we have allowed ourselves to go back and look long into the deep places in our hearts from which new light can arise to give us new insights in prayer and in reflection. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TENTH DAY, Wednesday, January 17,1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Leave your offering before the altar, then go and be reconciled with your brother/sister first." (Mt. 5:23)

Today the Governor gives us his State message. We pray for the State and for all in public service as we seek to bring about the fair and measured growth in the economy and in the general well-being of the State which does the most good and the least harm to all of our citizens, particularly the most vulnerable.

We pray also for the Congress and the President as the budget negotiations continue that there might also be the same spirit of justice and concern for our most vulnerable in the final outcome there also.

As we speak of budget reconciliation and deficit reduction, gracious God, pray also for the reconciliation we need among ourselves and the reduction of bad feelings in this chamber, acknowledging and honoring the hurts, the disappointment and the sense of betrayal that some have. At the same time, we pray for a spirit of forgiveness and moving forward. Anger that is not healed hurts us physically and emotionally and it gives the other power over us. As the great St. Augustine told us, we hate the sin, but love the sinner. Common sense would add to that, make sure that we ask ourselves first to admit our own part of the sin. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the ninth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

VACANCY: 001

The Doorkeeper announced the approach of the Governor of the State of Missouri, Honorable Mel Carnahan. The Governor was duly escorted to the House Chamber and to the Speaker's dais, where he delivered the following message to the assembly in the Joint Session.

STATE OF THE STATE ADDRESS

ADDRESS BY

GOVERNOR MEL CARNAHAN

January 17, 1996

Mr. President, Mr. Speaker, Mr. President Pro Tem, distinguished state officials, members of the 88th General Assembly, and citizens of Missouri:

I appreciate the opportunity to appear before you today.

One of the greatest rewards of being governor is meeting so many remarkable people who share their dreams with you.

As you know, I particularly enjoy meeting young people because of their boundless energy and enthusiasm, and their refreshing views on life.

Last June, I received a very special letter from one young person inviting me to "do" lunch.

I say this invitation was very special because this wasn't just any lunch.

This was a lunch to celebrate Kendra Davis's tenth birthday, and Kendra -- who lives inuot; lunch.

Osage Beach -- wanted to have lunch with me in my office.

She even wrote that if I agreed, then I would be "extra excellent."

How could I refuse her request ... and this chance to be "extra excellent?"

So Kendra and I had her birthday celebration in my office.

We had chicken fingers, soda, and, of course, a chocolate cake with candles.

I had looked forward to visiting with Kendra and expected a conversation about school, her friends, and maybe her favorite games or television shows.

Well, I was certainly mistaken.

Kendra opened the conversation by asking me my views on Bosnia and smoking.

We discussed the quality of education, the future of our state and nation, and even the quality of our roads.

At ten years of age, Kendra Davis was already focused on the future...not just her future, but our future.

She believes that she can make a difference in this world, and she is expecting us to make a difference as well.

Kendra and her family are here today, sitting with my wife Jean.

I asked her to come, because -- at least to me -- she serves as a wonderful reminder of the most important reason we are here: to make Missouri a safer and better place for our most precious resource--our children and grandchildren...the youngest citizens of Missouri.

You can bet she's going to hold us accountable.

Kendra's counting on us...to do the right thing for Missouri.

And so are all the other young people of our state.

They are watching to make sure we do what we were sent here to accomplish... to keep Missourians safe from crime, to make sure our schools offer a quality education, and to make certain there are enough good jobs to provide our families with a reasonable level oft financial security.

So let us take this opportunity to review how far we have come and where we need to go.

Many good things are happening in Missouri, but there are also some areas where we still have improvements to make.

CRIME

Probably the most serious threat to providing the quality of life we want for all Missourians is violent crime.

Our homes, our neighborhoods, our businesses, and our schools will never breathe freely as long as they are constricted by fear.

As long as I am governor, we will not be content until our students can go to school unafraid.

We will not rest until our children can play in their neighborhoods without the threat of violence.

And we will not stop until our citizens can live and work without fear.

Over the past three years, we have passed some of the toughest anti-crime laws in the country.

We passed one of the nation's toughest "truth in sentencing" laws.

Now, dangerous and violent criminals must serve at least 85 percent of their sentences behind bars--far more than they were serving before this change.

I don't know if you noticed, but a story ran in the St. Louis Post-Dispatch several weeks ago about a man named Edward Post who killed his wife in 1986 and finally pleaded guilty to second degree murder.

The story went on to say that Post will be eligible for parole in 1999, after serving just ten years of a 30 year sentence.

I---along with many other Missourians--was outraged.

Ten years for someone who murdered his wife is not enough.

And serving just one-third of his sentence for murder does not serve the interests of justice.

But since Post committed his crime in 1986, his case fell under the old law which allowed such lenient treatment for murder.

This injustice won't happen again under our new sentencing law.

If Post had committed his crime today and received a 30 year sentence, he would not be eligible for parole under any circumstances until he had at least served 25 years and six months of his 30 year sentence behind bars.

Ten years is definitely too short a sentence -- 25 years before parole can ever be considered is a step in the right direction.

To combat the increasing occurrence of juvenile violence, we have overhauled our juvenile crime law to hold these young offenders accountable for their actions.

Dangerous juveniles no longer have a "Get Out Of Jail Free" card in Missouri when they turn 18.

Now the most dangerous and violent juvenile offenders can be tried as adults and sent to prison (even for life, if that's appropriate) instead of being returned to the streets where they can strike again.

We have expanded the number of law enforcement officers on duty and given them the newest and most sophisticated tools to bring criminals to justice.

We've given prosecutors tough new tools to get convictions against child molesters and rapists.

We have increased the number of prison cells to ensure that violent criminals serve their time.

And we have set things straight on how criminals will spend their time in prison.

Under our new laws, all inmates must work, get a basic education, and get treatment.

We're not going to let them sit idly in their cells.

They're going to use their time working and developing job skills.

These changes are real, and they're needed.

But the war against crime continues to rage on, and so this year I am proposing an arsenal of new weapons against violent crime.

Regrettably, one of the battle zones in this war is our schools.

Too many classrooms are caught in the crossfire.

We can't expect our students and our teachers to be able to focus fully on reading, or writing, or math, when, by necessity, their greatest concern must be on protecting themselves against the possibility of violence.

Too many of our students and teachers must step into a combat zone of guns, gangs, and drugs whenever they enter the classroom.

We're not going to tolerate violent and disruptive students -- period.

The Safe Schools initiative I have recently announced will give our schools the force of law and the resources they need to make our schools safer for students who are serious about getting an education.

Among these important changes, we will guarantee schools the access to juvenile records of students who have broken the law.

We will require that disciplinary records for violent students follow them if they change schools.

And my plan also includes helping school districts establish alternative schools for violent, abusive, and disruptive students.

These alternative schools will make our regular classrooms a safer and better learning environment.

And it also ensures that these troubled youth will get the help they need.

This alternative education will provide these dangerous and abusive young people with the educational, social, and behavioral skills necessary to turn their lives around.

An even more deplorable situation than being threatened at school is being threatened at home.

Countless cases of domestic violence against spouses and children go unreported each year because the victims believe they have no place to go and no one to turn to.

This year, I am calling for increased support for domestic violence shelters and other help for domestic violence victims.

These victims need our help to escape from this horrible abuse.

And I am proposing tough new sentencing and lifetime supervision requirements for sexual predators, who rob their victims of their self respect.

My proposal eliminates the possibility of probation for dangerous sexual offenders.

And it requires that, if and when a sexual predator does get out of prison, he will be kept under supervision for the rest of his life.

This will allow us to return him to prison at any time if he commits another crime or violates the conditions of his release.

In addition, I am proposing legislation that will allow judges and juries to give life imprisonment to those convicted of child abuse when the result of that abuse is the death of the child.

Missouri is drawing the line on violent crime, and the message from this building today is that anyone who dares to cross that line better be prepared to pay and pay dearly.

CHILD HEALTH CARE

Another challenge before us is to improve our children's health.

Despite recent efforts, Missouri ranks 49th in the nation in childhood immunization rates.

This is not acceptable.

Immunizations are the most powerful and cost-effective way to prevent nine infectious/P> diseases in children, including polio and measles.

Not only do children and their families benefit from these voluntary immunizations, everyone benefits by avoiding the cost of treating these preventable diseases.

Our failure to achieve adequate immunization rates is not simply an embarrassment for Missouri; it jeopardizes the health and lives of our children.

To address this critical problem, I am directing the Missouri Department of Health to implement a plan that will make it easier for all families to have their children immunized.

The plan sets a goal of having 90% of the two-year-olds in Missouri fully immunized byP>
September 1997.

To reach this goal, I am calling for legislation that will allow parents to authorize grandparents, adult siblings, or other designated individuals to take children to be vaccinated.

And I am calling for legislation requiring that all health insurance plans that provideP> coverage to children include childhood immunizations without requiring the family to payP> deductibles or co-payments.

Quite simply, good preventive health care makes good sense, and voluntary immunizations are an integral part of that good, preventive treatment.

Another highly effective way to help safeguard the health of our children is to expand the availability of school nurses.

My budget proposal increases grants to local schools for basic health services and screenings.

With the addition of these grants and other related state initiatives, every school district will be able to have a school nurse or other necessary health services for its students.

HELPING CHILDREN

The school nurse program and childhood immunizations are just two examples of the ways our children are counting on us to help them get off to a good start, particularly in the areas of health, mental health, and protection from abuse.

This budget accepts that challenge by providing help for some of the state's most vulnerable children.

This budget provides funds for more foster care placements for abused and neglected children.

It expands the number of child advocacy centers that serve as safe havens and assessment centers for abused children, establishing new centers in Springfield, Columbia, and Southeast Missouri.

And it provides additional residential placements for severely disturbed children and respite support for families shouldering the care of mentally ill children.

EDUCATION

And now, I would like to turn to a subject that is a recurring theme in my administration -- the education of our young people.

Our young people are counting on us to provide them with a quality education.

Together, we have laid the foundation for schools that will prepare our students for the next century.

With the education reforms we initiated three years ago, we are doing a better job of giving students the education and training they need to be ready to compete in the 21st century.

As you travel around Missouri, you can already see tangible improvements in our classrooms -- smaller class sizes for our first, second, and third graders; more computers; and up-to-date vocational education.

Through increased funding of our Parents As Teachers Program, early childhood education is now available to over 160,000 Missouri families.

This year we will achieve full funding of the new, more equitable school foundation formula.

The dollars needed to reach full funding are made possible in part by the savings we achieved in the Kansas City desegregation case -- the first reduction in the on-going costs of desegregation in Missouri history.

For the first time, desegregation savings are being deposited into the school foundation formula and distributed to schools all across Missouri.

Our young people need to be ready for the new information economy of the next century.

This year, I am proposing another initiative to help our schools use the latest technology to improve learning.

My budget includes a $20 million investment to help schools acquire computers and new information technologies.

Schools will be able to link up to the information superhighway and enhance interactive instruction.

These funds will be available on a matching basis to help accelerate the placement of computer technology in our schools.

Let's face it, if our children do not leave school computer literate, then their opportunities for good jobs and good careers in the years ahead will be greatly diminished.

HIGHER EDUCATION

We must not underestimate the importance of higher education to our economic growth.

The need for higher education has increased dramatically as the economy switches from an industrial base to an information base.

My budget provides a sizable investment to ensure our colleges and universities graduate well- prepared students who will be successful in the global economy.

It gives increased support to Missouri's community colleges which are providing education and customized training.

Community colleges give our students the skills necessary for high paying jobs or thend coursework credits to transfer to four-year institutions.

And my budget provides increases in on-going support for our public four-year colleges and universities, and added one-time dollars for significant capital improvements.

In addition to their immediate contributions to Missouri's work force and economy, our universities are important research institutions.

I am recommending additional one-time state funds to be matched with private and University of Missouri funds for the University's Endowed Chairs program.

Since we began this partnership with the University, 16 professorships and seven endowed chairs have been established.

These endowed chairs help Missouri recruit outstanding researchers and scholars to our campuses.

Finally, my higher education budget includes a fifteen percent increase in the Missouri Student Grant program and increases in other student financial aid programs.

We want to help Missouri families and students realize the dream, and the necessity, of of gaining a higher education.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Our young people are certainly the hope of tomorrow, and we must help them get off to a good start.

But we also must not neglect those who have worked to make this state the great place we enjoy today.

I strongly believe the federal government must balance its budget.

But I am troubled by some of the proposals I have heard coming out of Washington, especially those which adversely affect our senior citizens.

In Missouri, we must remain committed to helping our senior citizens live with dignity.

This year, I am proposing an initiative designed to help Missouri's seniors remain healthy and independent.

First, I am renewing my call for a tax cut for families which shoulder the cost of caring for an elderly parent.

Specifically, I propose increasing the exemption for dependents over the age of 65 from $400 to $2,000.

This is modest tax relief, but those caring for elderly parents need it and deserve it.

Secondly, I am proposing to expand proven, cost-effective services that help senior citizens remain in their homes and communities instead of having to move to more costly nursing homes.

These include:

---training and respite services for family members and others who provide care to seniors;

---crisis prevention services that help seniors avoid the necessity of entering a nursing home due to unforeseen, one-time circumstances;

---and meals on wheels, which has permitted so many senior citizens to continue living independently in their homes.

This new assistance for Missouri's senior citizens is not just good for seniors; it makes good economic sense for Missouri taxpayers as well.

Our seniors have given each of us -- individually and as a society -- more than we can ever repay.

So, as Washington considers what its commitment to the elderly will be, I want them to know that Missouri's commitment will remain strong.

STRONG ECONOMY

Our commitment to jobs and economic growth must also remain strong.

When I first assumed office, our economy was not living up to its expectations.

Today, we are outpacing the nation.

In the past year alone, the number of jobs in Missouri has grown 4.6 percent --compared to just 1.4 percent for the nation.

And, over 230 companies either located or expanded operations here last year alone, pumping more than one billion dollars in new investments into our state.

Overall, we gained about 112,000 new jobs during our last budget year.

As a result, Missouri's current unemployment rate is lower today than at any time during the past twenty years.

It stands at just 3.2 percent -- much lower than the national rate.

And growth in personal income for Missourians is far surpassing the nation.

It seems clear that Missouri has indeed become a good place to do business and a good place to earn a living.

While this is good news for most of us, we must remember there are still Missourians out there who can't find work.

We must continue this progress, create more good jobs, and invest in training so that everyone who wants to work can find a job in Missouri.

If our strong economy is to continue, we must pay particular attention to our transportation needs.

After all, Missouri lies at the heart of this nation's commerce.

Our road, port, airport, rail, urban, and rural transit systems are vital parts of our commerce and every day life.

We are already a huge exporter and the starting point for billions of dollars in international trade.

Our favorable geographic location gives us a tremendous economic edge.

We have a good start on placing each piece of the transportation puzzle together.

But it is essential that we develop an effective, well-planned strategy to make the most of our transportation resources, ensure that they are coordinated, and identify any improvements that need to be made.

That is why I will be appointing a special Total Transportation Commission with representation from across the state.

This commission will evaluate our transportation needs and examine how our sources of transportation should be integrated as well as how our transportation financial resources should be distributed over the next decade.

FISCAL RESPONSIBILITY AND TAX CUTS

One reason for our economic success has been our tradition of fiscal responsibility.

This year, we should be proud that Financial World, one of the nation's most-respected business publications, ranked Missouri as the third best managed state in the nation.

Financial World cited our "excellent long-range planning," our "conservative accounting and budgeting," and our "results-oriented approach" as reasons for awarding Missouri this honor.

The publication also praised our innovative budget process, which demands that each year, we go back and review previous spending to determine which programs work and which should be cut.

This year, after extensive and painstaking review, I am calling for cuts totaling over 60 million dollars.

Since becoming governor in 1993, I have proposed cutting over 275 million dollars in unnecessary spending and have redirected those funds toward high priority areas such as education and fighting crime.

And for the second year in a row, my budget includes a reduction in the total number of state employees.

This reduction is made possible by increasing productivity through investments in technology and by privatizing some government functions.

Financial World is right.

When it comes to fiscal responsibility, Missouri is among the nation's leaders.

We have very low debt -- and we will pay off some of the debt we do have with this budget.

We have a Triple-A bond rating from all three major rating agencies.

We have lower state taxes than at least 44 other states.

And now, we are preparing to give Missourians a much greater voice in future tax decisions.

With your approval, I have put on the ballot this coming April, the tax limitation amendment proposed jointly by my office and the Missouri Farm Bureau.

Our proposed amendment will keep taxes down by requiring that all major tax increases bet submitted to a vote of the people.

I encourage you once more to actively support this simple and common-sense tax limitation plan.

It will give Missourians the final say on all major tax decisions.

When you combine the strength of Missouri's economy, our dedication to fiscal responsibility, and our commitment to innovation, we get a recipe for some powerful results.

For example, over the past three years, we have concentrated a great deal of effort on reforming welfare in Missouri.

We've overhauled the program and made innovative changes to help welfare recipients get off welfare, move into private sector jobs, and become self-sufficient.

As a result of our welfare reform initiatives and our strong economy, the number of people on AFDC, the state's major welfare program, has declined by about 26,000 over the past two years.

This is real reform and real progress which will pay long-term dividends for Missouri families and taxpayers.

And now, our recipe for success is making it possible for us to cut taxes.

I am proposing a permanent quarter-cent cut in Missouri's sales tax -- the first sales tax cut in the history of the state.

In addition to this sales tax cut, there will also be a tax refund for 1996.

This is over and above the tax refund I announced in 1995.

The combination of Missouri's strong economic growth and our commitment to fiscal responsibility make these tax cuts affordable, and in fact, necessary to meet our responsibilities under Missouri's revenue limit.

PAY PLAN

To deliver high quality services to taxpayers, the state must be able to compete for qualified and efficient employees.

However, state employee salaries have not kept pace with inflation and remain on the average 20 percent below market rates for comparable jobs.

This wide disparity between our pay scale and the private sector pay scale continues to make it difficult for our state to recruit and retain qualified employees in many job classes.

To help remedy this problem and assist state employees in keeping up with inflation, I am proposing a salary increase of two percent for state employees plus marketplace salary increases for successful employees as recommended by the Commission on Management and Productivity.

Under my proposal, state employees will receive an average increase of 5.8 percent.

FEDERAL BUDGET CUT PREPARATION

As we all know, the best laid plans may be affected by decisions made a thousand miles away in Washington.

No state in the Union will be able to address all the unmet needs, if the more radical Congressional budget plans are implemented over the next months and years.

We continue to wait for Washington to make decisions which will have a great impact here in Missouri.

We do not know the outcome of those decisions yet, but there are some prudent steps which we can and must take to prepare for the dramatic changes in federal fiscal policy that may soon unfold.

To help us meet the challenges ahead, I will appoint a commission to help us assess the effect of these impending changes.

This commission will obtain vital input from our local communities, citizens, and Missouri businesses.

It will develop policy options and make recommendations to us about how state government can best restructure to meet the challenges and take advantage of any opportunities coming from Washington.

Second, we will build a substantial reserve in the rainy day fund.

My recommendations include increasing this fund to 115 million dollars, or about two and one- half percent of general revenue collections.

The rainy day fund will give us the flexibility to deal effectively with the economic effects of federal policy changes.

Third, I propose increasing the reserve funds we count on to deal with emergencies, federal contingencies, and economic downturns.

Next, we must continue to keep Missouri a low debt state.

This year, we will use significant one-time resources to retire high-interest state debt.

This action will save Missouri taxpayers tens of millions in long-term interest costs.

All of these steps are essential if we are to be ready for the changes that are coming from Washington.

I'd like to point out that Washington could learn a lesson from the Missouri General Assembly in responsible budgeting.

Under the capable leadership of Senator Lybyer and Representative Lumpe, you pass responsible balanced budgets, and you pass them on time.

CONCLUSION

I know I have placed a lot on your plate.

But working together we have been able to accomplish a lot during the past three years -- and we can do it again.

I also know that each of you in this body -- Democrat and Republican, rural and urban, young and old--share a common goal, if not always a common path.

That goal is our state motto --"Let the welfare of the people be the supreme law."

This is the cause that bonds us together, and the one that I hope will direct our course during the months ahead.

Missouri has energy, talent, and an innovative spirit that we haven't even begun to tap.

Let's use them now to build a Missouri legacy that Kendra Davis and all the other children of this state will be proud to inherit.

Kendra, I promise you we will do our best to live up to your expectations.

We want Missouri to continue to be a state where you, like thousands of other young Missourians, can stay healthy, get a good education, find a good job, and some day, if you choose, raise a family of your own.

The Joint Session was dissolved by the Lieutenant Governor.

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels assumed the Chair.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

ELEVENTH DAY, Thursday, January 18, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Mark K. Tyler.

Dear Lord,

Woe is me. Woe is me. For I am undone. For I am a man of unclean lips and I dwell in the midst of a people with unclean lips. God, we stand before you with our sin exposed seeking your forgiveness. Turn now your ear to the prayer of your servant. Lord, we thank you for stirring us this morning and giving us the strength to rise. We thank you, for we know all our blessings come from you.

Now Lord, we ask in a special way that you enter into these halls of state government. Send down your Spirit of wisdom and guidance and let it lead these, the elected servants of the State of Missouri. Bless the Governor, the Lieutenant Governor, the House Speaker and the Pro Tem, bless each Senator and Representative, and each staff person.

Cause them to stand for right, when it may be more convenient to sit. Challenge them to put You first when some would rather forget You. Inspire them to stand boldly for the truth, when some would rather overlook it. Then Lord, will we be ever careful to give you the praise, the glory and the honor, in Your name we pray.

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWELFTH DAY, Monday, January 22, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

This month, the Islamic community celebrates its daily fast from sunrise to sundown to commemorate the delivery of the Qu'ran (Koran) to the Prophet Mohammed.

We celebrate this special time for our brothers and sisters and pray for a renewed spirit of fidelity to you, the One God, which is the keystone of their beliefs.

We pray also for continued reconciliation between the three monotheistic faiths, Judaism, Christianity and Islam, and for the end of misunderstanding and our tendency to judge others by what their extremists have done or still do.

This requires a conversion of heart for all of us, gracious Lord, a willingness to listen and to repent. We pray especially for the Islamic families and victims, whose bodies were just discovered in Sarajevo and for the ethnic conflict there and in other parts of the world, where denial of basic dignity by one group toward others and the unwillingness to share the fragile space of this earth often carries a religious label.

May we listen to the holy men and women and the prophets of all our major faiths, whose healing words and deeds are often overshadowed by the harsh words and the bombs and guns of the extremists. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the tenth day was approved as corrected and the Journal of the eleventh day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTEENTH DAY, Tuesday, January 23, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"But for you who fear my name, the Sun of Righteousness will shine out with its healing rays." (Mal. 4:2)

This evening the President will give his annual State of the Nation message. This morning, we lift up in prayer the needs of the United States. The image that came to mind this morning is that of a body. At all times there are unhealthy forms of life in our bodies. Some develop into temporary illnesses. Some become life-threatening and need aggressive treatment. Some can be fatal.

Eternal God of our liberty, we pray for the nation, for a tolerance of the sin and evil that we can handle in a healthy democracy. We pray for a discerning spirit, about how to tackle the more serious threats to our health. Sometimes "the cure is worse than the disease," sometimes we are addicted to a life-style that cancels out even the best medical treatment, or an aggressive treatment in one area sets off new problems.

Gracious God, we can all name the diseases, the threats to our national health. Give us wisdom to resist the wrong prescription and a fearless spirit to do the needed surgery. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twelfth day was approved as corrected by the following vote.

Speaker Gaw assumed the Chair.

Speaker Gaw addressed the House.

It is an honor and a privilege to stand before you on a day when we are scheduled to take up and debate our first bill of the 1996 legislative session. The bill, as you all know, will determine the rate of speed Missourians and visitors may travel on our roads.

The road that brings me to Jefferson City each week is Highway 63. Like many of you have discovered during your trips to the Capitol, the roads we travel to get here reveal much about our district and our state. For me, I have found a powerful sense of community in the towns and cities I pass on my 70-mile drive to the capital city.

Just before I pass from Randolph County into Boone, there is a small Amish settlement near the town of Clark. If you drive along the back roads surrounding Clark, you will see several barns that stand as proud testament along the rural Missouri skyline.

Many of these structures were built in a matter of hours when the citizens of that community got together for what we call a barn-raising. On any given barn-raising day, old men work side by side with young boys, passing on their traditions and knowledge to the next generation of builders.

And before you pass from Boone County into Callaway County, there is a road that takes you to the community of Hartsburg. During the floods of 1993 and 1995, the citizens of Hartsburg and the surrounding area came together to fight back the powerful overflow of the Missouri River. Again, citizens of all ages and races stood side by side, forming an assembly line of sandbaggers in an attempt to protect their community.

As I cross over the Missouri River bridge and go into Cole County, I see the Missouri State Capitol, built of Missouri stone and constructed with Missouri hands - a true monument to the people of this state. In these examples, we see demonstrated proof of the importance of working together. In each situation, no one man or woman was more important than the other - each person played a vital role.

It's no different in the Missouri House of Representatives. At full membership, there are 163 of us that work here and we are all dependent upon one other.

As author Joshua Liebman wrote, even the smallest particles on earth are dependent upon each other. For example, he said carbon atoms form charcoal when related in one way and become diamonds when related in another. A lone atom is a meaningless atom but a related atom is the building stone of nature.

Although science teaches that the natural order of the universe is inclusion, there often seems to be human resistance to this truth. We need to understand that success from interdependence is possible. The power to succeed is gained by empowering each other. All we have to do is open our minds to this truth and move beyond our walls of defensiveness to rebuild the strength that is inherently ours.

We must breathe new life into old thought forms. As Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. wrote from his cell in a Birmingham, Alabama jail: "We are caught in an inescapable network of mutuality, tied in a single garment of destiny. What affects one directly affects all indirectly."

Leading on this journey will not just be my job, although I will do everything in my power to facilitate this process. Leadership instead must become a collaborative effort.

In previous sessions, we have demonstrated that leadership. We balance our state's budget every year. We have approved legislation that has made great strides in education, sentencing, juvenile crime, welfare and health care. We have proven that we believe in investing in Missouri's future.

I am confident we can pull together the wisdom of the experienced and the enthusiasm of the young, the conservative and the liberal, the black and the white, the male and female in this body to write a chapter in Missouri's history book that our grandchildren and theirs will never forget.

The power of our shared vision, and our willingness to use our imaginations to create a new future for this body, will thrust us forward as we not only enter a new century, but also a new millennium.

We have an opportunity to restore the voters' confidence in us by our example. We can inspire them as the leaders we had hoped and dreamed of being. We have the unique opportunity to restore their faith in the democratic process, the way our founding fathers had intended it to work. This means we must make some necessary reforms in the way we do business here.

First, we need to immediately address the use of public funds spent on House travel. Within the next ten days, I will appoint members to a new House committee to evaluate all travel requests received by my office. The committee will ensure that our funds are spent wisely and appropriately.

Not only must we be prudent with our expenditures, but we must also be mindful of our conduct. The public has a fundamental right to expect ethical behavior from its elected officials. It also has a right to expect that a legislative body can police its own members.

Today I propose that the House form a separate Ethics Committee whose sole function would be to consider ethics complaints filed against House members. I believe this would be an important step in restoring public confidence in the legislative branch of government.

Beyond considering changes that will make the House more accountable and its membership more included in the process, I will be supporting other efforts to make information about the Missouri House more accessible. All of us benefit from a more informed electorate.

Later in the session, we will attempt a pilot project to broadcast at least one day of House floor action live so that Missouri schools can use the video in the classroom as a teaching tool.

In addition, Missouri cable television companies may include the signal on their public access channels, perhaps paving the way for the state legislature to be added to a menu that already features local city council meetings and the U.S. Congress.

Additionally, tomorrow the House will unveil a new Internet site that will greatly enhance the public's access to information about the House and the legislation we are considering. This public resource will be available to a worldwide audience of students and citizens 24 hours a day. And working with Rep. Larry Thomason, the House will soon be embarking on a "paper-less chamber" project to make our work in this chamber more productive and efficient.

I believe we can find common ground on these and several other legislative issues this session. Clearly, nothing that we do here is more important than what we do for our children. Our first legislative priority should be to provide a safe environment for our students to learn and our teachers to teach.

Violence in our schools must simply stop. Through improved security measures and letting disruptive students know that there will be serious consequences for their actions, we can bring a calm to the storm of violence that exists in some of our schools. It is time to tear down the walls of violence and ignorance and unlock the barriers of learning.

But as we unlock those barriers of learning, we cannot afford to throw away a troubled child's opportunity to obtain an education. Any safe schools package this legislature adopts needs to include programs to provide the disruptive student with the opportunity to still receive an education.

It is important to invest in alternative education programs so we do not bear the emotional and financial cost of the failure to educate. Last month, the House Interim Committee to Study Safe Schools and Alternative Education released its recommendations. I urge this body to closely examine the committee's proposals.

Also this year, in keeping with the legislature's commitment to education, I expect the legislature to fully fund the foundation formula for 1997 fiscal year.

Just as a lack of education leads a child down a troubled path, a lack of preventive health care exposes a child unnecessarily to illness. Only one state has a worse immunization rate than Missouri.

The Missouri Department of Health reports that for every dollar we spend toward immunizations, the state can save $21 in future health care costs. Currently, more than one-third of all Missouri two-year-olds are not protected, leaving them dangerously at risk. Just as we put warm clothing on our children in cold weather, we must take steps to protect them from deadly childhood diseases.

We also need to take steps this session to allow women who deliver babies in hospitals a minimum of 48 hours in that facility's care. Some insurance companies are approving payment for only one day in the hospital even though some dangerous health conditions are not revealed during the first day of life. I believe a mother should have the right to choose a 24-hour or 48-hour hospital stay and not be forced into, as one critic put it, "drive-through childbirth."

On the other spectrum of life, I support legislation that would provide an extra layer of safety to our nursing home residents. Nursing homes should have the opportunity to run background checks on prospective employees and keep out people who should not be working there.

Several other issues will demand our time this year. I hope we will use our shared vision and common ground to push hard on the issues we agree on.

This does not mean that we should not talk about the things we disagree about. As long as we continue to keep talking and working together, we can achieve success this session.

There's a saying that I believe is an appropriate metaphor for this body. It says an airplane cannot fly without a wing on the right and a wing on the left.

We are interdependent upon each other, and unless this body works together as a whole, we will not be able to soar this session. Our local communities have proven to us the benefits of collaboration and hard work. Let's follow this example and get to work on behalf of the people of Missouri.

Thank you.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FOURTEENTH DAY, Wednesday, January 24, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Mark Tyler.

Dear Lord,

We thank you this morning for the blessing of life itself. We thank you for being better to us than we've been to one another. Lord, we ask your forgiveness this day for we have not always lived according to your law.

We pray for the State of Missouri. We ask that your spirit would guide us to be your people. Erase from our hearts all malice and all evil thoughts, remove racism, sexism, classism and anything that would keep us from serving you. Teach us to be truly brothers and sisters in your sight.

Bless now the elected officials of this state and order their steps that they might follow your precepts.

In Your Name We Pray,

Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Speaker Gaw appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Reuben Hartzler, Bethany Hartzler and Emma Hartzler.

2. If application for registration of another motor vehicle is not made to the director of revenue within one year following the sale or transfer of ownership of a motor vehicle, the license plates held by the person who sold or transferred ownership of such motor vehicle shall be declared void, and new license plates bearing the same numbers may be issued to another registrant.

3. It shall be unlawful to fasten voided plates to any motor vehicle. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

302.020. 1. Unless otherwise provided for by law, it shall be unlawful for any person, except those expressly exempted by section 302.080, to:

(1) Operate any vehicle upon any highway in this state unless [he] the person has a valid license;

(2) Operate a motorcycle or motortricycle upon any highway of this state unless such person has a valid license that shows [he] the person has successfully passed an examination for the operation of a motorcycle or motortricycle as prescribed by the director. The director may indicate such upon a valid license issued to such person, or shall issue a license restricting the applicant to the operation of a motorcycle or motortricycle if the actual demonstration, required by section 302.173, is conducted on such vehicle;

(3) Authorize or knowingly permit a motorcycle or motortricycle owned by [him] such person or under [his] such person's control to be driven upon any highway by any person whose license does not indicate that the person has passed the examination for the operation of a motorcycle or motortricycle or has been issued an instruction permit therefor;

(4) Operate a motor vehicle with an instruction permit or license issued to another person.

2. Every person operating or riding as a passenger on any motorcycle or motortricycle, as defined in section 301.010, RSMo, upon any highway of this state shall wear protective headgear at all times the vehicle is in motion. The protective headgear shall meet reasonable standards and specifications established by the director.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 302.340, violation of subsection 1 of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor and the penalty for failure to wear protective headgear as required by subsection 2 of this section shall be deemed an infraction for which a fine not to exceed twenty-five dollars may be imposed. Notwithstanding all other provisions of law and court rules to the contrary, no court costs shall be imposed upon any person due to such violation. No points shall be assessed [under] pursuant to section 302.302 for a failure to wear such protective headgear.

302.301. 1. In addition to other restrictions imposed by this chapter, upon issuance of a license, the director shall have authority, when good cause appears, to impose restrictions suitable to the applicant's driving ability and pertaining to the type or special mechanical control devices required on a motor vehicle which the applicant may operate, or such other restrictions applicable to the applicant as the director may determine to be appropriate to assure the safe operation of a motor vehicle by the applicant.

2. The director may issue either a special restricted license or may set forth the restrictions upon the usual license form. Upon receiving satisfactory evidence of any violation of the restrictions imposed [under] pursuant to this chapter, the director may suspend or revoke the license, but the operator shall be entitled to an appeal as provided in section 302.311.

3. Any person who operates a motor vehicle in any manner in violation of the restrictions imposed in a restricted license issued to [him] the person shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

304.015. 1. All vehicles not in motion shall be placed with their right side as near the right-hand side of the highway as practicable, except on streets of municipalities where vehicles are obliged to move in one direction only or parking of motor vehicles is regulated by ordinance.

2. Upon all public roads or highways of sufficient width a vehicle shall be driven upon the right half of the roadway, except as follows:

(1) When overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction [under] pursuant to the rules governing such movement;

(2) When placing a vehicle in position for and when such vehicle is lawfully making a left turn in compliance with the provisions of sections 304.014 to 304.026 or traffic regulations thereunder or of municipalities;

(3) When the right half of a roadway is closed to traffic while under construction or repair;

(4) Upon a roadway designated by local ordinance as a one-way street and marked or signed for one-way traffic.

3. It is unlawful to drive any vehicle upon any highway or road which has been divided into two or more roadways by means of a physical barrier or by means of a dividing section or delineated by curbs, lines or other markings on the roadway, except to the right of such barrier or dividing section, or to make any left turn or semicircular or U-turn on any such divided highway, except in a crossover or intersection.

4. The authorities in charge of any highway or the state highway patrol may erect signs temporarily designating lanes to be used by traffic moving in a particular direction, regardless of the center line of the highway, and all members of the Missouri highway patrol and other peace officers may direct traffic in conformance with such signs. When authorized signs have been erected designating off-center traffic lanes, no person shall disobey the instructions given by such signs.

5. Whenever any roadway has been divided into three or more clearly marked lanes for traffic, the following rules in addition to all others consistent herewith shall apply:

(1) A vehicle shall be driven as nearly as practicable entirely within a single lane and shall not be moved from such lane until the driver has first ascertained that such movement can be made with safety;

(2) Upon a roadway which is divided into three lanes a vehicle shall not be driven in the center lane, except when overtaking and passing another vehicle where the roadway ahead is clearly visible and such center lane is clear of traffic within a safe distance, or in preparation for a left turn or where such center lane is at the time allocated exclusively to traffic moving in the direction the vehicle is proceeding and is sign-posted to give notice of such allocation;

(3) Upon all highways any vehicle proceeding at less than the normal speed of traffic thereon shall be driven in the right-hand lane for traffic or as close as practicable to the right-hand edge or curb, except as otherwise provided in sections 304.014 to 304.026;

(4) Official signs may be erected by the highways and transportation commission or the highway patrol may place temporary signs directing slow moving traffic to use a designated lane or allocating specified lanes to traffic moving in the same direction and drivers of vehicles shall obey the directions of every such sign;

(5) Drivers of vehicles proceeding in opposite directions shall pass each other to the right, and except when a roadway has been divided into traffic lanes, each driver shall give to the other at least one-half of the main traveled portion of the roadway whenever possible.

6. All vehicles in motion upon a highway having two or more lanes of traffic proceeding in the same direction shall be driven in the right-hand lane except when overtaking and passing another vehicle or when preparing to make a proper left turn or when otherwise directed by traffic markings, signs or signals.

7. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.016. 1. The following rules shall govern the overtaking and passing of vehicles proceeding in the same direction, subject to the limitations and exceptions hereinafter stated:

(1) The driver of a vehicle overtaking another vehicle proceeding in the same direction shall pass to the left thereof at a safe distance and shall not again drive to the right side of the roadway until safely clear of the overtaken vehicle; and

(2) Except when overtaking and passing on the right is permitted, the driver of an overtaken vehicle shall give way to the right in favor of the overtaking vehicle and shall not increase the speed of [his] such driver's vehicle until completely passed by the overtaking vehicle.

2. The driver of a motor vehicle may overtake and pass to the right of another vehicle only under the following conditions:

(1) When the vehicle overtaken is making or about to make a left turn;

(2) Upon a city street with unobstructed pavement of sufficient width for two or more lines of vehicles in each direction;

(3) Upon a one-way street;

(4) Upon any highway outside of a city with unobstructed pavement of sufficient width and clearly marked for four or more lines of traffic. The driver of a motor vehicle may overtake and pass another vehicle upon the right only under the foregoing conditions when such movement may be made in safety. In no event shall such movement be made by driving off the paved or main traveled portion of the roadway. The provisions of this subsection shall not relieve the driver of a slow-moving vehicle from the duty to drive as closely as practicable to the right-hand edge of the roadway.

3. Except when a roadway has been divided into three traffic lanes, no vehicle shall be driven to the left side of the center line of a highway or public road in overtaking and passing another vehicle proceeding in the same direction unless such left side is clearly visible and is free of oncoming traffic for a sufficient distance ahead to permit such overtaking and passing to be completely made without interfering with the safe operation of any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction or any vehicle overtaken.

4. No vehicle shall at any time be driven to the left side of the roadway under the following conditions:

(1) When approaching the crest of a grade or upon a curve of the highway where the driver's view is obstructed within such distance as to create a hazard in the event another vehicle might approach from the opposite direction;

(2) When the view is obstructed upon approaching within one hundred feet of any bridge, viaduct, tunnel or when approaching within one hundred feet of or at any intersection or railroad grade crossing.

5. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.017. 1. The driver of a vehicle shall not follow another vehicle more closely than is reasonably safe and prudent, having due regard for the speed of such vehicle and the traffic upon and the condition of the roadway. Vehicles being driven upon any roadway outside of a business or residence district in a caravan or motorcade, whether or not towing other vehicles, shall be so operated, except in a funeral procession or in a duly authorized parade, so as to allow sufficient space between each such vehicle or combination of vehicles as to enable any other vehicle to overtake or pass such vehicles in safety. This section shall in no manner affect section 304.044 relating to distance between trucks traveling on the highway.

2. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.019. 1. No person shall stop or suddenly decrease the speed of or turn a vehicle from a direct course or move right or left upon a roadway unless and until such movement can be made with reasonable safety and then only after the giving of an appropriate signal in the manner provided herein.

(1) An operator or driver when stopping, or when checking the speed of [his] the operator's vehicle, if the movement of other vehicles may reasonably be affected by such checking of speed, shall extend [his] such operator's arm at an angle below horizontal so that the same may be seen in the rear of [his] the vehicle;

(2) An operator or driver intending to turn [his] the operator's vehicle to the right shall extend [his] such operator's arm at an angle above horizontal so that the same may be seen in front of and in the rear of [his] the vehicle, and shall slow down and approach the intersecting highway as near as practicable to the right side of the highway along which [he] such operator is proceeding before turning;

(3) An operator or driver intending to turn [his] the operator's vehicle to the left shall extend [his] such operator's arm in a horizontal position so that the same may be seen in the rear of [his] the vehicle, and shall slow down and approach the intersecting highway so that the left side of [his] the vehicle shall be as near as practicable to the center line of the highway along which [he] the operator is proceeding before turning;

(4) The signals herein required shall be given either by means of the hand and arm or by a signal light or signal device in good mechanical condition of a type approved by the state highway patrol; however, when a vehicle is so constructed or loaded that a hand and arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear of such vehicle then such signals shall be given by such light or device. A vehicle shall be considered as so constructed or loaded that a hand and arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear when the distance from the center of the top of the steering post to the left outside limit of the body, cab or load exceeds twenty-four inches, or when the distance from the center of the top of the steering post to the rear limit of the body or load thereon exceeds fourteen feet, which limit of fourteen feet shall apply to single vehicles or combinations of vehicles. The provisions of this subdivision shall not apply to any trailer which does not interfere with a clear view of the hand signals of the operator or of the signalling device upon the vehicle pulling [said] such trailer; provided further that the provisions of this section as far as mechanical devices on vehicles so constructed that a hand and arm signal would not be visible both to the front and rear of such vehicle as above provided shall only be applicable to new vehicles registered within this state after the first day of January, 1954.

2. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.022. 1. Upon the immediate approach of an emergency vehicle giving audible signal by siren or while having at least one lighted lamp exhibiting red light visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of five hundred feet to the front of such vehicle or a flashing blue light authorized by section 307.175, RSMo, the driver of every other vehicle shall yield the right-of-way and shall immediately drive to a position parallel to, and as far as possible to the right of, the traveled portion of the highway and thereupon stop and remain in such position until such emergency vehicle has passed, except when otherwise directed by a police or traffic officer.

2. The motorman of every streetcar shall immediately stop such car clear of any intersection and keep it in such position until the emergency vehicle has passed, except as otherwise directed by a police or traffic officer.

3. An "emergency vehicle" is a vehicle of any of the following types:

(1) A vehicle operated by the state highway patrol, those vehicles operated by enforcement personnel by the division of transportation of the department of economic development, police or fire department, sheriff, constable or deputy sheriff, federal law enforcement officer authorized to carry firearms and to make arrests for violations of the laws of the United States, traffic officer or coroner or by a privately owned emergency vehicle company;

(2) A vehicle operated as an ambulance or operated commercially for the purpose of transporting emergency medical supplies or organs;

(3) Any vehicle qualifying as an emergency vehicle under section 307.175, RSMo;

(4) Any wrecker, or tow truck or a vehicle owned and operated by a public utility or public service corporation while performing emergency service;

(5) Any vehicle transporting equipment designed to extricate human beings from the wreckage of a motor vehicle;

(6) Any vehicle designated to perform emergency functions for a civil defense or emergency management agency established under the provisions of chapter 44, RSMo;

(7) Any vehicle operated by an authorized employee of the department of corrections, who as part of his official duties, is responding to a riot, disturbance, hostage incident, escape or other critical situation where there is the threat of serious physical injury or death, responding to mutual aid call from another criminal justice agency, or in accompanying an ambulance which is transporting an offender to a medical facility.

4. (1) The driver of any vehicle referred to in subsection 3 of this section shall not sound the siren thereon or have the front red lights or blue lights on except when such vehicle is responding to an emergency call or when in pursuit of an actual or suspected law violator, or when responding to, but not upon returning from, a fire;

(2) The driver of an emergency vehicle may:

(a) Park or stand irrespective of the provisions of sections 304.014 to 304.026;

(b) Proceed past a red or stop signal or stop sign, but only after slowing down as may be necessary for safe operation;

(c) Exceed the prima facie speed limit so long as he does not endanger life or property;

(d) Disregard regulations governing direction of movement or turning in specified directions;

(3) The exemptions herein granted to an emergency vehicle shall apply only when the driver of any such vehicle while in motion sounds audible signal by bell, siren, or exhaust whistle as may be reasonably necessary, and when the vehicle is equipped with at least one lighted lamp displaying a red light or blue light visible under normal atmospheric conditions from a distance of five hundred feet to the front of such vehicle.

5. No person shall purchase an emergency light as described in this section without furnishing the seller of such light an affidavit stating that the light will be used exclusively for emergency vehicle purposes.

6. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.023. 1. An operator or driver of a motor vehicle shall stop same not less than eight feet from the rear of any streetcar going in the same direction which has stopped for the purpose of taking on or discharging passengers, and shall remain standing until such car has taken on or discharged such passengers; provided, however, said driver or operator may pass such car where a safety zone is established by the proper authorities, providing, however, that in passing such streetcar [he] the operator shall proceed at a speed not faster than is reasonable and with due caution for the safety of pedestrians under the circumstances then and there existing.

2. Violation of this section is a class C misdemeanor.

304.024. 1. The state highways and transportation commission with respect to highways under its jurisdiction may erect or place signs establishing crossovers or crosswalks or prohibiting or restricting the stopping, standing or parking of vehicles on any highway where in its opinion such stopping, standing, or parking is dangerous to those using the highway or where the stopping, standing or parking of vehicles would unduly interfere with the free movement of traffic thereon. Such signs shall be official signs and no person shall stop, stand, or park any vehicle in violation of the restrictions stated on such signs.

2. Violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

[304.026. Any person who violates any of the provisions of sections 304.014 to 304.025 or of the duly authorized regulation or regulations made thereunder shall be punished by a fine of not less than five dollars nor more than five hundred dollars or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding one year or by both such fine and imprisonment.]

304.044. 1. The following terms as used in this section shall mean:

(1) "Bus", any vehicle or motor car designed and used for the purpose of carrying more than seven persons;

(2) "Truck", any vehicle, machine, tractor, trailer or semitrailer, or any combination thereof, propelled or drawn by mechanical power and designed or used in the transportation of property upon the highways.

2. The driver of any truck or bus, when traveling upon a public highway of this state outside of a business or residential district, shall not follow within three hundred feet of another such vehicle; provided, the provisions of this section shall not be construed to prevent the overtaking and passing, by any such truck or bus, of another similar vehicle.

3. Any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be deemed guilty of a class C misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished accordingly.

304.075. 1. Any motor vehicle which is not regularly being operated by a school district or under contract with a school district or by private schools for the transportation of school children shall not bear signs indicating that it is a school bus. When any person operating a school bus under contract with a school district uses it for purposes other than for the transportation of school children, [he] the person shall cover the signs thereon in such manner that it will not appear on the highways as a school bus.

2. Any person violating this section is guilty of a class C misdemeanor.

304.140. Any person violating any order or regulation adopted under section 304.130 shall upon conviction be adjudged guilty of [a misdemeanor] an infraction.

304.150. 1. No person shall leave a motor vehicle unattended on the highway without first stopping the motor and cutting off the electric current, and no person shall leave a motor vehicle, except a commercial motor vehicle, unattended on the highway of any city having a population of more than seventy-five thousand unless the mechanism, starting device or ignition of such motor vehicle shall be locked. The failure to lock such motor vehicle shall not mitigate the offense of stealing the same, nor shall such failure be used to defeat a recovery in any civil action for the theft of such motor vehicle, or the insurance thereon, or have any other bearing in any civil action.

2. Violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

304.160. 1. Any person who has purposely, accidentally, or by reason of an accident, dropped [from his person or any vehicle,] any tacks, nails, wire, scrap metal, glass, crockery, sharp stones, or other substances injurious to the feet of persons or animals, or to the tires or wheels of vehicles, including motor vehicles, upon any highway shall immediately make all reasonable efforts to clear the highway of the substances.

2. Violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

304.220. 1. Whenever the county highway engineer of any county, or in any county in which there shall be no highway engineer, such other officer as the county commission may designate, shall find that any county road or bridge of such county is in such a condition that use thereof by vehicles of the weights specified in section 304.180, will endanger the road or bridge, or the users thereof, [he] the county highway engineer may with the approval of the division engineer of the state highways and transportation department whose division includes the area in question establish maximum weight limits for vehicles using such road or bridge in such amounts as will preserve the road or bridge and provide a reasonable margin of safety to the users thereof. Notice of any such weight limit established shall be given by posting signs at convenient and public places along any such road, and in conspicuous places at each end of any such bridge.

2. It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a vehicle of a weight in excess of the maximum limit established pursuant to the provisions of this section on or over any road or bridge upon which such maximum weight limits have been established unless [he] the person shall have the express permission of the officer empowered to establish such limit.

3. Any person who shall violate the provisions of this section shall be guilty of a class C misdemeanor, and shall be liable in a civil action for any damages to the road or bridge.

304.250. 1. No metal-tired vehicle shall be operated over any of the improved highways of this state, except over highways constructed of gravel or claybound gravel, if such vehicle has on the periphery of any of the road wheels any lug, flange, cleat, ridge, bolt or any projection of metal or wood which projects radially beyond the tread or traffic surface of the tire, unless the highway is protected by putting down solid planks or other suitable material, or by attachments to the wheels so as to prevent such vehicles from damaging the highway, except that this prohibition shall not apply to tractors or traction engines equipped with what is known as caterpillar treads, when such caterpillar does not contain any projection of any kind likely to injure the surface of the road. Tractors, traction engines and similar vehicles may be operated which have upon their road wheels "V" shaped, diagonal or other cleats arranged in such manner as to be continuously in contact with the road surface if the gross weight on the wheels per inch of width of such cleats or road surface, when measured in the direction of the axle of the vehicle, does not exceed eight hundred pounds.

2. No tractor, tractor engine, or other metal-tired vehicle weighing more than four tons, including the weight of the vehicle and its load, shall drive onto, upon or over the edge of any improved highway without protecting such edge by putting down solid planks or other suitable material to prevent such vehicle from breaking off the edges of the pavement.

3. Violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction and any person violating this section, whether operating [under] pursuant to a permit or not, or who shall willfully or negligently damage a highway, shall be liable for the amount of such damage caused to any highway, bridge, culvert or sewer, and any vehicle causing such damage shall be subject to a lien for the full amount of such damage, which lien shall not be superior to any duly recorded or filed chattel mortgage or other lien previously attached to such vehicle; the amount of such damage may be recovered in any action in any court of competent jurisdiction, in the name of the state, by the municipality, county or other civil subdivision or interested party.

304.271. 1. The driver of any vehicle shall obey the instructions of any official traffic-control device applicable thereto placed in accordance with the provisions of the law, unless otherwise directed by a traffic or police officer, subject to the exceptions granted the driver of an authorized emergency vehicle in the law.

2. No provision of the law for which official traffic-control devices are required shall be enforced against an alleged violator if at the time and place of the alleged violation an official device is not in proper position and sufficiently legible to be seen by an ordinarily observant person. Whenever a particular section does not state that official traffic-control devices are required, such section shall be effective even though no devices are erected or in place.

3. Whenever official traffic-control devices are placed in position approximately conforming to the requirements of the law, such devices shall be presumed to have been so placed by the official act or direction of lawful authority, unless the contrary shall be established by competent evidence.

4. Any official traffic-control device placed pursuant to the provisions of the law and purporting to conform to the lawful requirements pertaining to such devices shall be presumed to comply with the requirements of this chapter, unless the contrary shall be established by competent evidence.

5. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.361, violation of this section is a class C misdemeanor.

304.281. 1. Whenever traffic is controlled by traffic control signals exhibiting different colored lights, or colored lighted arrows, successively one at a time or in combination, only the colors green, red and yellow shall be used, except for special pedestrian signals carrying a word legend, and said lights shall indicate and apply to drivers of vehicles and pedestrians as follows:

(1) Green indication

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a circular green signal may proceed straight through or turn right or left unless a sign at such place prohibits either such turn. But vehicular traffic, including vehicles turning right or left, shall yield the right-of-way to other vehicles and to pedestrians lawfully within the intersection or an adjacent crosswalk at the time such signal is exhibited;

(b) Vehicular traffic facing a green arrow signal, shown alone or in combination with another indication, may cautiously enter the intersection only to make the movement indicated by such arrow, or such other movement as is permitted by other indications shown at the same time. Such vehicular traffic shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians lawfully within an adjacent crosswalk and to other traffic lawfully using the intersection;

(c) Unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian control signal, as provided in section 304.291, pedestrians facing any green signal, except when the sole green signal is a turn arrow, may proceed across the roadway within any marked or unmarked crosswalk.

(2) Steady yellow indication

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a steady yellow signal is thereby warned that the related green movement is being terminated or that a red indication will be exhibited immediately thereafter when vehicular traffic shall not enter the intersection;

(b) Pedestrians facing a steady yellow signal, unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian control signal as provided in section 304.291, are thereby advised that there is insufficient time to cross the roadway before a red indication is shown and no pedestrian shall then start to cross the roadway.

(3) Steady red indication

(a) Vehicular traffic facing a steady red signal alone shall stop before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection at a clearly marked stop line but, if none, then before entering the intersection and shall remain standing until an indication to proceed is shown except as provided in paragraph (b);

(b) The driver of a vehicle which is stopped as close as practicable at the entrance to the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection or, if none, then at the entrance to the intersection in obedience to a red signal, may cautiously enter the intersection to make a right turn but shall yield the right-of-way to pedestrians and other traffic proceeding as directed by the signal at the intersection, except that the state highways and transportation commission with reference to an intersection involving a state highway, and local authorities with reference to an intersection involving other highways under their jurisdiction, may prohibit any such right turn against a red signal at any intersection where safety conditions so require, said prohibition shall be effective when a sign is erected at such intersection giving notice thereof;

(c) Unless otherwise directed by a pedestrian control signal as provided in section 304.291, pedestrians facing a steady red signal alone shall not enter the roadway.

(4) In the event an official traffic control signal is erected and maintained at a place other than an intersection, the provision of this section shall be applicable except as to those provisions which by their nature can have no application. Any stop required shall be made at a sign or marking on the pavement indicating where the stop shall be made, but in the absence of any such sign or marking the stop shall be made at the signal.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.361, violation of this section is a class C misdemeanor.

304.301. 1. Whenever an illuminated flashing red or yellow signal is used in a traffic sign or signal it shall require obedience by vehicular traffic as follows:

(1) Flashing red (stop signal). When a red lens is illuminated with rapid intermittent flashes, drivers of vehicles shall stop at a clearly marked stop line, but if none, before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection, or if none, then at the point nearest the intersecting roadway where the driver has a view of approaching traffic on the intersecting roadway before entering the intersection, and the right to proceed shall be subject to the rules applicable after making a stop at a stop sign.

(2) Flashing yellow (caution signal). When a yellow lens is illuminated with rapid intermittent flashes, drivers of vehicles may proceed through the intersection or pass such signal only with caution.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.361, violation of this section is an infraction.

304.341. 1. The driver of a vehicle intending to turn at an intersection shall do so as follows:

(1) Right turns.--Both the approach for a right turn and a right turn shall be made as close as practicable to the right-hand curb or edge of the roadway.

(2) Left turns.--The driver of a vehicle intending to turn left at any intersection shall approach the intersection in the extreme left-hand lane lawfully available to the traffic moving in the direction of travel of such vehicle and,

after entering the intersection, the left turn shall be made so as to leave the intersection in a lane lawfully available to traffic moving in such direction upon the roadway being entered.

(3) The highways and transportation commission or local authorities in their respective jurisdictions may cause official traffic-control devices to be placed within or adjacent to intersections and thereby require and direct that a different course from that specified in this section be traveled by vehicles turning at an intersection, and when such devices are so placed no driver of a vehicle shall turn a vehicle at any intersection other than as directed and required by such devices.

2. It shall be unlawful for the driver of any vehicle to turn such vehicle so as to proceed in the opposite direction at any intersection controlled by a traffic signal or police officer; nor shall such turn be made at any place unless the movement can be made in safety and without interfering with other traffic. The driver of a vehicle shall not turn such vehicle around so as to proceed in the opposite direction upon any curve or upon the approach to or near the crest of a grade, or at any place upon a roadway where such vehicle cannot be seen by the driver of any other vehicle approaching from either direction along the roadway within a distance of three hundred feet, or where the same may create a traffic hazard.

3. No vehicle in a residence district shall be turned left across the roadway or so as to proceed in the opposite direction when any other vehicle is approaching from either direction where the same may create a traffic hazard.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.361, violation of this section is a class C misdemeanor.

304.351. 1. The driver of a vehicle approaching an intersection shall yield the right-of-way to a vehicle which has entered the intersection from a different highway, provided, however, there is no form of traffic control at such intersection.

2. When two vehicles enter an intersection from different highways at approximately the same time, the driver of the vehicle on the left shall yield the right-of-way to the driver of the vehicle on the right. This subsection shall not apply to vehicles approaching each other from opposite directions when the driver of one of such vehicles is attempting to or is making a left turn.

3. The driver of a vehicle within an intersection intending to turn to the left shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction which is within the intersection or so close thereto as to constitute an immediate hazard.

4. The state highways and transportation commission with reference to state highways and local authorities with reference to other highways under their jurisdiction may designate through highways and erect stop signs or yield signs at specified entrances thereto, or may designate any intersection as a stop intersection or as a yield intersection and erect stop signs or yield signs at one or more entrances to such intersection.

(1) Preferential right-of-way at an intersection may be indicated by stop signs or yield signs as authorized in this section:

(a) Except when directed to proceed by a police officer or traffic-control signal, every driver of a vehicle approaching a stop intersection, indicated by a stop sign, shall stop at a clearly marked stop line, but if none, before entering the crosswalk on the near side of the intersection, or if none, then at the point nearest the intersecting roadway where the driver has a view of approaching traffic in the intersecting roadway before entering the intersection. After having stopped, the driver shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle which has entered the intersection from another highway or which is approaching so closely on the highway as to constitute an immediate hazard during the time when such driver is moving across or within the intersection.

(b) The driver of a vehicle approaching a yield sign shall in obedience to the sign slow down to a speed reasonable to the existing conditions and, if required for safety to stop, shall stop at a clearly marked stop line, but if none, then at the point nearest the intersecting roadway where the driver has a view of approaching traffic on the intersecting roadway. After slowing or stopping the driver shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle in the intersection or approaching on another highway so closely as to constitute an immediate hazard during the time such traffic is moving across or within the intersection.

5. The driver of a vehicle about to enter or cross a highway from an alley, building or any private road or driveway shall yield the right-of-way to all vehicles approaching on the highway to be entered.

6. The driver of a vehicle intending to make a left turn into an alley, private road or driveway shall yield the right-of-way to any vehicle approaching from the opposite direction when the making of such left turn would create a traffic hazard.

7. The state highways and transportation commission or local authorities with respect to roads under their respective jurisdictions, on any section where construction or major maintenance operations are being effected, may fix a speed limit in such areas by posting of appropriate signs, and the operation of a motor vehicle in excess of such speed limit in the area so posted shall be deemed prima facie evidence of careless and imprudent driving and a violation of section 304.010, RSMo.

8. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 304.361, violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

307.010. 1. All motor vehicles, and every trailer and semitrailer operating upon the public highways of this state and carrying goods or material or farm products which may reasonably be expected to become dislodged and fall from the vehicle, trailer or semitrailer as a result of wind pressure or air pressure and/or by the movement of the vehicle, trailer or semitrailer shall have a protective cover or be sufficiently secured so that no portion of such goods or material can become dislodged and fall from the vehicle, trailer or semitrailer while being transported or carried.

2. Operation of a motor vehicle, trailer or semitrailer in violation of this section shall be a class C misdemeanor, and any person convicted thereof shall be punished as provided by law.

307.040. 1. No person shall drive, move, park or be in custody of any vehicle or combination of vehicles on any street or highway during the times when lighted lamps are required unless such vehicle or combination of vehicles displays lighted lamps and illuminating devices as hereinafter in this chapter required. No person shall use on any vehicle any approved electric lamp or similar device unless the light source of such lamp or device complies with the conditions of approval as to focus and rated candlepower.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.120, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.045. 1. Except as in this chapter provided, every motor vehicle other than a motor-drawn vehicle and other than a motorcycle shall be equipped with at least two approved headlamps mounted at the same level with at least one on each side of the front of the vehicle. Every motorcycle shall be equipped with at least one and not more than two approved headlamps. Every motorcycle equipped with a sidecar or other attachment shall be equipped with a lamp on the outside limit of such attachment capable of displaying a white light to the front.

2. Notwithstanding section 307.120, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.055. 1. Approved single-beam headlamps shall be so aimed that when the vehicle is not loaded none of the high-intensity portion of the light shall at a distance of twenty-five feet ahead project higher than a level of five inches below the level of the center of the lamp from which it comes, and in no case higher than forty-two inches above the level on which the vehicle stands at a distance of seventy-five feet ahead. The intensity shall be sufficient to reveal persons and vehicles at a distance of at least two hundred feet.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.120, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.060. 1. Except as hereinafter provided, the headlamps or the auxiliary driving lamp or the auxiliary passing lamp or combination thereof on motor vehicles other than motorcycles or motor driven cycles shall be so arranged that the driver may select at will between distributions of light projected to different elevations and such lamps may, in addition, be so arranged that such selection can be made automatically, subject to the following limitations:

(1) There shall be an uppermost distribution of light, or composite beam, so aimed and of such intensity as to reveal persons and vehicles at a distance of at least three hundred and fifty feet ahead for all conditions of loading.

(2) There shall be a lowermost distribution of light, or composite beam so aimed and of sufficient intensity to reveal persons and vehicles at a distance of at least one hundred feet ahead; and on a straight level road under any condition of loading none of the high-intensity portion of the beam shall be directed to strike the eyes of an approaching driver.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.120, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.065. 1. Every new motor vehicle registered in this state after January 1, 1942, which has multiple-beam road lighting equipment shall be equipped with a beam indicator, which shall be lighted whenever the uppermost distribution of lights from the headlamps is in use, and shall not otherwise be lighted. Said indicator shall be so designed and located that when lighted it will be readily visible without glare to the driver of the vehicle so equipped.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.120, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.070. 1. Every person driving a motor vehicle equipped with multiple-beam road lighting equipment, during the times when lighted lamps are required, shall use a distribution of light, or composite beam, directed high enough and of sufficient intensity to reveal persons and vehicles at a safe distance in advance of the vehicle, subject to the following requirements and limitations: Whenever the driver of a vehicle approaches an oncoming vehicle within five hundred feet, or is within three hundred feet to the rear of another vehicle traveling in the same direction, the driver shall use a distribution of light or composite beam so aimed that the glaring rays are not projected into the eyes of the other driver, and in no case shall the high-intensity portion which is projected to the left of the prolongation of the extreme left side of the vehicle be aimed higher than the center of the lamp from which it comes at a distance of twenty-five feet ahead, and in no case higher than a level of forty-two inches above the level upon which the vehicle stands at a distance of seventy-five feet ahead.

2. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.120, violation of this section is an infraction.

307.075. 1. Every motor vehicle and every motor-drawn vehicle shall be equipped with at least two rear lamps, not less than fifteen inches or more than seventy-two inches above the ground upon which the vehicle stands, which when lighted will exhibit a red light plainly visible from a distance of five hundred feet to the rear. Either such rear lamp or a separate lamp shall be so constructed and placed as to illuminate with a white light the rear registration marker and render it clearly legible from a distance of fifty feet to the rear. When the rear registration marker is illuminated by an electric lamp other than the required rear lamps, all such lamps shall be turned on or off only by the same control switch at all times.

2. Every motorcycle registered in this state, when operated on a highway, shall also carry at the rear, either as part of the rear lamp or separately, at least one approved red reflector, which shall be of such size and characteristics and so maintained as to be visible during the times when lighted lamps are required from all distances within three hundred feet to fifty feet from such vehicle when directly in front of a motor vehicle displaying lawful undimmed headlamps.

3. Every towed vehicle shall be coupled to the towing vehicle by means of a safety chain, cable, or equivalent device in addition to the primary coupling device, except that such secondary coupling device shall not be necessary if the connecting device is connected to the towing vehicle by a center-locking ball located over or nearly over the rear axle and not supported by the rear bumper of the towing vehicle. Such secondary safety connecting devices shall be of sufficient strength to control the towed vehicle in the event of failure of the primary coupling device. (1) New motor vehicles which have not been previously titled and registered, prior to the initial motor vehicle registration or the next succeeding registration which is required by law;

(2) Those motor vehicles which are engaged in interstate commerce and are proportionately registered in this state with the Missouri highway reciprocity commission, although the owner may request that such vehicle be inspected by an official inspection station, and a peace officer may stop and inspect such vehicles to determine whether the mechanical condition is in compliance with the safety regulations established by the United States Department of Transportation; and

(3) Historic motor vehicles registered [under] pursuant to section 301.131, RSMo; shall submit such vehicles to an annual inspection of their mechanism and equipment in accordance with the provisions of sections 307.350 to 307.390 and obtain a certificate of inspection and approval and a sticker, seal, or other device from a duly authorized official inspection station. The certificate of inspection and approval shall be a sticker, seal, or other device or combination thereof, as the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol prescribes by regulation and shall be displayed upon the motor vehicle or trailer as prescribed by the regulations established by him. The replacement of certificates of inspection and approval which are lost or destroyed shall be made by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol under regulations prescribed by him.

2. For the purpose of obtaining an inspection only, it shall be lawful to operate a vehicle over the most direct route between the owner's usual place of residence and an inspection station of [his] such owner's choice, notwithstanding the fact that the vehicle does not have a current state registration license. It shall also be lawful to operate such a vehicle from an inspection station to another place where repairs may be made and to return the vehicle to the inspection station notwithstanding the absence of a current state registration license.

3. No person whose motor vehicle was duly inspected and approved as provided in this section shall be required to have the same motor vehicle again inspected and approved for the sole reason that such person wishes to obtain a set of any special personalized license plates available [under] pursuant to section 301.144, RSMo, or a set of any license plates available [under] pursuant to section 301.142, RSMo, prior to the expiration date of such motor vehicle's current annual registration.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

307.366. 1. This enactment of the emissions inspection program is a mandate of the United States Congress [under] pursuant to the federal Clean Air Act, as amended, 42 U.S.C. 7401, et seq. In any city not within a county, any county of the first classification having a population of over nine hundred thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, any county of the first classification with a charter form of government and a population of not more than two hundred twenty thousand inhabitants and not less than two hundred thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of not more than one hundred eighty thousand inhabitants and not less than one hundred seventy thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census and any county of the first classification without a charter form of government with a population of not more than eighty-two thousand inhabitants and not less than eighty thousand inhabitants according to the most recent decennial census, as a part of the motor vehicle inspection procedure required by sections 307.350 to 307.390, certain motor vehicles shall be tested to determine that the emissions system is functioning within the emission standards as specified by the Missouri air conservation commission and as required to attain the national health standards for air quality.

2. The provisions of this section shall not apply to:

(1) Motor vehicles with a manufacturer's gross vehicle weight rating in excess of eight thousand five hundred pounds;

(2) Motorcycles and motortricycles;

(3) Model year vehicles prior to 1971;

(4) School buses;

(7) New motor vehicles not previously titled or registered prior to the initial motor vehicle registration or the next succeeding registration which is required by law. Each official inspection station which conducts safety or emissions inspections in a city or county referred to in subsection 1 of this section shall indicate the gross vehicle weight rating of the motor vehicle on the safety inspection certificate if the vehicle is exempt from the emissions inspection [under] pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection.

3. In addition to the fee authorized by subsection 5 of section 307.365, a fee, not to exceed eight dollars and fifty cents for inspections conducted prior to January 1, 1993, and not to exceed ten dollars and fifty cents for inspections conducted thereafter, as determined by each official safety and emissions inspection station located in any city or county described in subsection 1 of this section, may be charged for an automobile emissions and air pollution control inspection in order to attain the national health standards for air quality. The official safety and emissions inspection station shall issue a certificate of inspection and an approval sticker or seal certifying the emissions system is functioning properly. The certificate or approval issued shall bear the legend: "This cost is mandated by your United States Congress." No owner shall be charged an additional fee after having corrected defects or unsafe conditions in the automobile's emissions and air pollution control system if the reinspection is completed within twenty consecutive days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, and if such follow-up inspection is made by the station making the initial inspection.

4. The air conservation commission shall establish, by rule, a waiver amount which may be lower for older model vehicles and which shall be no greater than seventy-five dollars for model year vehicles prior to 1981 and no greater than two hundred dollars for model year vehicles of 1981 and all subsequent model years.

5. An owner whose vehicle fails upon reinspection to meet the emission standards specified by the Missouri air conservation commission shall be issued a certificate of inspection and an approval sticker or seal by the official safety and emissions inspection station that provided the inspection if the vehicle owner furnishes a complete, signed affidavit satisfying the requirements of this subsection and the cost of emissions repairs and adjustments is equal to or greater than the waiver amount established by the air conservation commission [under] pursuant to this section. The air conservation commission shall establish, by rule, a form and a procedure for verifying that repair and adjustment was performed on a failing vehicle prior to the granting of a waiver and approval. The waiver form established [under] pursuant to this subsection shall be an affidavit requiring:

(1) A statement signed by the repairer that the specified work was done and stating the itemized charges for the work; and

(2) A statement signed by the inspector that an inspection of the vehicle verified, to the extent practical, that the specified work was done.

6. The department of revenue shall require evidence of the inspection and approval required by this section in issuing the motor vehicle annual registration in conformity with the procedure required by sections 307.350 to 307.370.

7. Each safety and emissions inspection station located in any city or county described in subsection 1 of this section shall purchase from the highway patrol sufficient forms and stickers or other devices to evidence approval of the motor vehicle's emissions control system. In addition, safety and emissions inspection stations may be required to purchase forms for use in automated analyzers from outside vendors of the inspection station's choice. The forms must comply with state regulations.

8. In addition to the fee collected by the superintendent pursuant to subsection 5 of section 307.365, the highway patrol shall collect a fee of seventy-five cents for each automobile emissions certificate issued to the applicable official safety and emissions inspection stations, except that no charge shall be made for certificates of inspection issued to official safety and emissions inspection stations operated by governmental entities. All fees collected by the superintendent pursuant to this section shall be deposited in the state treasury to the credit of the "Missouri Air Pollution Control Fund", which is hereby created.

9. The moneys collected and deposited in the Missouri air pollution control fund pursuant to this section shall be allocated on an equal basis to the Missouri state highway patrol and the Missouri department of natural resources, air pollution control program, and shall be expended subject to appropriation by the general assembly for the administration and enforcement of sections 307.350 to 307.390. The unexpended balance in the fund at the end of each appropriation period shall not be transferred to the general revenue fund, except as directed by the general assembly by appropriation, and the provisions of section 33.080, RSMo, relating to the transfer of funds to the general revenue fund at the end of the biennium, shall not apply to this fund. The moneys in the fund shall be invested by the treasurer as provided by law, and the interest shall be credited to the fund.

10. The superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol shall issue such rules and regulations as are necessary to determine whether a motor vehicle's emissions control system is operating as required by subsection 1 of this section, and the superintendent and the state highways and transportation commission shall use their best efforts to seek federal funds from which reimbursement grants may be made to those official inspection stations which acquire and use the necessary testing equipment which will be required to perform the tests required by the provisions of this section.

11. The provisions of this section shall not apply in any county for any time period during which the air conservation commission has established a motor vehicle emissions inspection program [under] pursuant to sections 643.300 to 643.355, RSMo, for such county.

12. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed a class C misdemeanor.

307.380. 1. Every vehicle of the type required to be inspected upon having been involved in an accident and when so directed by a police officer must be inspected and an official certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device be obtained for such vehicle before it is again operated on the highways of this state. At the seller's expense every vehicle of the type required to be inspected by section 307.350, whether new or used, shall immediately prior to sale be fully inspected regardless of any current certificate of inspection and approval, and an appropriate new certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device shall be obtained.

2. Nothing contained in the provisions of this section shall be construed to prohibit a dealer or any other person from selling a vehicle without a certificate of inspection and approval if the vehicle is sold for junk, salvage, or for rebuilding, or for vehicles sold at public auction or from dealer to dealer. The purchaser of any vehicle which is purchased for junk, salvage, or for rebuilding, shall give to the seller an affidavit, on a form prescribed by the superintendent of the Missouri state highway patrol, stating that the vehicle is being purchased for one of the reasons stated herein. No vehicle of the type required to be inspected by section 307.350 which is purchased as junk, salvage, or for rebuilding shall again be registered in this state until the owner has submitted the vehicle for inspection and obtained an official certificate of inspection and approval, sticker, seal or other device for such vehicle.

3. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 307.390, violation of this section shall be deemed an infraction.

Ordinances enacted by a municipality, owning or leasing lands outside its boundaries, may be enforced by peace officers of the municipality upon such owned or leased lands. The power of arrest authorized by this section is in addition to all other powers conferred upon law enforcement officers, and shall not be construed so as to limit or restrict any other power of a law enforcement officer.

544.665. 1. In addition to the forfeiture of any security which was given or pledged for [his] a person's release, any person who, having been released pursuant to sections 544.040 to 544.665, or upon a recognizance or bond pursuant to any other provisions of law, willfully fails to appear before any court or judicial officer as required shall be guilty of an offense and punished as follows:

(3) If arrested for the violation of a municipal ordinance, by a fine not to exceed five hundred dollars; provided that the sentence imposed shall not exceed the maximum fine or maximum period of imprisonment which could be imposed for the offense for which the accused was arrested.

[2. If the offense or ordinance violation be punished by fine only, punishment by confinement shall not be imposed.

3.] 2. Nothing in sections 544.040 to 544.665 shall prevent the exercise by any court of its power to punish for contempt.

575.150. 1. A person commits the crime of resisting or interfering with arrest if, knowing that a law enforcement officer is making an arrest, or attempting to lawfully detain or stop an individual or vehicle, or the person reasonably should know that a law enforcement officer is making an arrest or attempting to lawfully detain or lawfully stop an individual or vehicle, for the purpose of preventing the officer from effecting the arrest, stop or detention, [he] the person:

(1) Resists the arrest, stop or detention of [himself] such person by using or threatening the use of violence or physical force or by fleeing from such officer; or

(2) Interferes with the arrest, stop or detention of another person by using or threatening the use of violence, physical force or physical interference.

2. This section applies to arrests, stops or detentions with or without warrants and to arrests, stops or detentions for any crime or ordinance violation.

3. It is no defense to a prosecution [under] pursuant to subsection 1 of this section that the law enforcement officer was acting unlawfully in making the arrest. However, nothing in this section shall be construed to bar civil suits for unlawful arrest.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTEENTH DAY, Thursday, January 25, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Rev. Cheryl L. Tatham.

Gracious God, continue in these busy days of deliberation and decisions, to give guidance to the leaders in this House. To Speaker Gaw as he provides a new eye to the business of the House and to others whose leadership has been called upon.

When we falter in our journey, O Lord, failing to trust your guidance and closing our eyes to what we know is right and just, forgive us and return us again to the paths you would have us follow. Keep us steadfast in the tasks of the day and comfort us when our spirits and energies falter. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

Moment of Silence

Representative Backer requested that the House stand at ease for a moment of silence in the memory of Christa McAuliffe and the Challenger Crew. As you remember, Ms. McAuliffe was a crew member on the shuttle Challenger. Although it seems like yesterday, the shuttle tragedy occurred on January 28, 1986. This moment of silence is part of a world-wide moment of remembrance project started by Shelia Perry of Bloomfield, MO and was brought to our attention by the Representative from the Williams (159) district.

Speaker Gaw appointed the following to act as Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Maren Gehrts.

The Journal of the fourteenth day was approved as corrected.

House Members, Staff, Friends, and Honored Guests:

Life is a series of journeys--never smooth, but always eventful.

Today, I prepare to take a new one.

I intend to take this journey as I have approached every opportunity in my life--moving toward a new destination rather than away from an old one.

And I look forward to the exciting challenges ahead.

Yet, as is often the case with travelers, I take this opportunity to look back for just a few moments and marvel at how far we have come together.

I say "we" because I have been one of those fortunate travelers who has never had to walk alone.

Some of us in this chamber may have walked only a few steps together and others countless miles. But I hope whatever the length of time, you have gained the healthy respect for my ideas that I have gained for yours.

In my 26 years as a member of this body, we have accomplished much. We have made the legislative process more efficient and effective. We have expanded the budget process to give more legislators a larger voice in the way we spend state resources. By opening up the committee process and working hard to tell our story to Missourians, we have given our citizens the chance for greater input and kept the public better informed on the issues. We have made many important contributions to the welfare of Missouri.

Our Outstanding Schools Act and before that, the Excellence in Education Act have invested our state resources right where they should be--in creating better educational opportunities for all our children. We have increased access to health care for thousands of needy Missourians and school children. We have led the nation in landmark legislation to fight AIDS.

Our tougher crime laws for adults and juveniles, campaign finance improvements, stronger ethics laws for public officials, welfare reform, and Linked Deposit Loan Program are only a few of the tremendous achievements we have experienced over our years together.

Through your generous contributions, we have been able to greatly expand the Hall of Famous Missourians in the Third Floor Rotunda. These 16 bronze busts of famous Missourians will be here long after all of us to inform and inspire the quarter-of-a-million people that visit this building each year. But none of these and the many other accomplishments too numerous to name would have been possible without the total commitment and dedication of so many talented and wonderful people.

Starting right at the top and encompassing every support person in this body, we have the finest and hardest working legislative staff you will find anywhere, and once more I ask you to applaud their efforts. In my 15 years as Speaker, I was extremely fortunate to have many terrific and loyal people working for me--people like Gayle, Mark, and Sue. I have been blessed with a loving wife and two children who have stood beside me always. And I have had the good fortune to work and make lifelong friendships with many of you and many more before you.

When we completed our recent election for new House leadership, I expressed to the media that perhaps the most outstanding achievement I have witnessed in all the years I have been Speaker was the caucus process and the orderly transfer of power that we experienced. Only in a democracy such as ours does this process and smooth transition occur. Certainly, I have always been proud to be a Democrat, but I was never prouder to be one than during our caucus process.

We saw people put aside personal concerns and differences to do what was right for the people of the state of Missouri, and I believe our outstanding new leadership team truly reflects the diversity which has made this state a great one.

I will never forget the thrill of seeing Democrats, some of who have little in common in geography, background, and views, talking together, thinking things through together, and ultimately coming into this chamber smiling together because they knew they had done something good--something decent--something remarkable.

I am pleased to leave this chamber secure in the knowledge that our new Speaker, Steve Gaw, will do an excellent job. I don't know if Steve remembers the first time we met, but I do.

On May 5, 1992, we were doing a bust dedication in the Hall of Famous Missourians for Omar Bradley, who comes from Moberly. For the ceremony, we had heard about this talented singer from Moberly named Steve Gaw who could sing the national anthem. Steve very graciously agreed to perform and what a stirring rendition it was. So, as I saw him take the gavel last week, I could only think about what a rare gift we have in this wonderful government we call a democracy. We live in a state where one day, a young man is a citizen's voice in the Rotunda and the next, he is the voice of the House.

Mr. Speaker, I wish you and the rest of the new House leadership well. And I certainly want to extend my best wishes to those veterans in leadership as they continue the work their colleagues have selected them to do. I know that all of you will perform your duties admirably.

I wish I could leave all of you with some magic wisdom to prepare you for the joys and trials which lie ahead. But the lessons I have learned here are simple. Number One: your word is your bond--to your colleagues, to the media, to your constituents. If you do not have that, you have nothing. Second, worry is a waste of time and effort. Don't expend energy on things you are unable to change. Concentrate on the areas where you can make a difference. Number Three: you have an obligation not only to the people of your district, but to the best interests of the state as a whole. When these coincide, your choice is easy. When they do not, that is when you earn your paycheck and the sacred trust you have been given. And that sacred trust is only betrayed if you approach your role in a partisan way.

Save the politics for the campaign. Once you are here, you represent all the people--even the ones who didn't vote for you. Concentrate on the issues, not the ideologies. Approach those difficult decisions with all your concentration, all your courage, all your experience, and all your leadership. Do what will ultimately be the right thing for all concerned.

And my final lesson here has been that life is not always fair, and truth unfolds in its own time. But being tested only makes us stronger, and ultimately the truth will emerge. So, as I prepare to take this journey from public service back to private citizen, I realize how much I leave here.

But all of that pales in comparison to what I have to keep. Good friends--and I had no idea how many until this last year. More than any one person has any right to expect. Good memories. We have experienced much together, both professionally and personally. We can take great satisfaction in all the improvements we have made for the citizens we serve-- improvements in the quality of life which will survive us for decades to come. And good wishes.

You, the members and the staff of this body, are part of a noble endeavor. You have the will, the public responsibility, and the talent to do what is right for the people of the state of Missouri. I have every confidence that you will.

May God guide and protect you, the citizens of our great state, and this sacred body that I have loved and served to the best of my ability--the Missouri House of Representatives.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

SIXTEENTH DAY, Monday, January 29, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"You have seen what I did..I carried you on eagle's wings." (Ex. 19:4).

The Sunday magazine featured the Bald Eagle along the Mississippi here in Missouri. It got me to thinking about the consideration of the turkey as the national bird symbol, because George Washington thought of the Eagle as a scavenger and a predator while the turkey was a noble bird for him.

Our views have changed, we see the eagle as majestic and soaring and we use the word "turkey" as an insult for certain kinds of conduct.

Today, gracious God, as we begin this week and are about to end this month, we pray for the eagle that is in all of us, capable of destruction and capable of great nobility. Someone has said that "it is hard to fly like an eagle when you are surrounded by turkeys " but we know that so often we take no responsibility for our actions, and we blame our peers or the atmosphere of our place of work. Lift us high, heavenly Father, as we take heart in that other beautiful image from Isaiah, of being carried by you on eagle's wings. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Reuben Hartzler, Bethany Hartzler and Emma Hartzler.

The Journal of the fifteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

SEVENTEENTH DAY, Tuesday, January 30, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"The earth lies polluted for they have broken the everlasting covenant." (Is 24:5)

We are treated to the sermons and diatribes and the homilies from the overly pessimistic on a host of topics. While we reject extreme pessimism and the doomsayers, we do pay attention to the bad things that we have done and are responsible for, or to those things we have inherited which are now our responsibility to fix.

God of truth, beauty and goodness, we pray this morning for a spirit of truth, to recognize our sins and failures, for a spirit of honesty to take responsibility for our part in cleaning it up. We pray for a consistency, because if we solve one problem and cause another we have simply complicated the problem. The biblical quote today refers to moral pollution, but we have physical pollution caused by moral failure, and we have some moral and spiritual pollution which needs to be cleaned up, even as we recognize that the good outweighs the evil, but the evil usually gets more coverage. Renew and restore and call us back to our covenant with you, our gracious God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the sixteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

EIGHTEENTH DAY, Wednesday, January 31, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Save this moment, O God of All that is, from being just a token gesture to custom and convention, and make it a real experience for each one of us in this place, as we pause to call upon you for guidance and help.

We acknowledge our shortcomings, our selfishness, our smugness and our pride. Forgive us when we come short of your will for us and for our state. Forgive us our forgetfulness of this state's needs and our contentment to accept things the way they are -- Give us the courage to make a difference where we can.

On this last day of the first month of a new year, may we look into the months ahead with renewed commitment to do our best and to remember that with You all things are possible. Help each of us to be a part of the solution instead of part of the problem.

Guide and direct and undergird each member of this House as they work to be faithful to You and to the people of the state of Missouri. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the seventeenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

NINETEENTH DAY, Thursday, February 1, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

On this day, O Lord, deliver us from the foolishness of impatience. We know that it takes a lifetime to make a tree -- and we know that government sometimes takes longer. Help us remember that it takes time to make things happen, yet let us not stand idly by, assuming that we have no control over the circumstances in which we find ourselves.

It takes time to work out agreements. It takes time to bring about equity. It takes time to find out what we should do; what is right, and what is best.

Don't let us hurry past one another in our rush to be the best or the first or the greatest or the most popular in the polls. Let us take time to think and to pray and to discern your will.

Then, O Lord, give us the sense and the courage to do what needs doing, keeping in mind the good of the many rather than the desires of the few. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the eighteenth day was approved as printed by the following vote:

TWENTIETH DAY, Monday, February 5, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Love does not come to an end." (I Cor. 13:4)

This is the month we dedicate to the heart. We pray today for our fellow-citizens here and around the nation who suffer most intensely in body and suffer losses in property, livestock and crops from this cold.

We pray, God of Love, for our own hearts to be open to the hurts of others, the local personal issues, as well as the big national and global ones. We pray for all those whom we love and who love us, that we can do what needs to be done to deepen and strengthen those bonds. We pray for healing for those relationships which are strained, for forgiveness for those which have soured. We ask a special blessing on those wonderful people who radiate love and kindness every day in all circumstances to brighten our lives. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Stephanie Jones, Capreece Kerr, Elizabeth Roberts and Jessica Vargas.

The Journal of the nineteenth day was approved as printed.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-FIRST DAY, Tuesday, February 6, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Moses prayed for the people and God answered him." (Num. 21:8).

Prayer in the Legislature in Topeka, Kansas, came into the lime light again recently. A visiting chaplain antagonized many people with several elements in his prayer and some were offended by his praying in Jesus' Name.

Today, gracious God, we pray for a sensitive spirit as we pray in public places. We pray in assemblies like this for diverse people of different faiths, or no formal faith experience, and several denominations within the dominant Christian faith. Help us to realize that the basic values and concepts of our religious traditions and our religious heritage can be expressed in ways that will offend no one except the atheist.

Eternal God, we acknowledge today that prayer must challenge us and it may make us squirm, but it must not offend in an insensitive way. We must not let the prayer be held captive to an ideology, but neither must we let the prayer be so vague that it does not move us to search more deeply and allow our views to be changed. The commandments as recorded in the Hebrew Scriptures forbid making false gods. We pray today to be kept from making an idol of our own ideology, our own party, or our own belief system which shuts out the viewpoint of others and does not allow for reasonable challenges and loving sensitivity in a pluralistic culture. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Adam Robert Schemenauer and Joshua Ryan Anders.

The Journal of the twentieth day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-SECOND DAY, Wednesday, February 7, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

The sweeping waves of changing times continue to amaze us, O Lord; in the midst of the present, there is always the future beckoning us to take a peek at what is yet to be.

As these representatives consider new directions and avenues of change, as they deal with their own agendas and those of their constituencies, let them deal honestly and with integrity.

We would be remiss Creator God, if we did not say "thank you" for bringing warm weather back to bless us. While appreciating the crispness of winter, it is nice to enjoy the warmth of the sun. It reminds us that this is indeed a world of change and we stand in awe of your created order.

And now bless this house and those who labor within its walls. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Erin L. Riefer, Julia L. Baker, Misty Hill and Billy Lingua.

The Journal of the twenty-first day was approved as corrected by the following vote:

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-THIRD DAY, Thursday, February 8, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

By your Spirit and in your grace, O God, we bring our thanks to you this morning for another day of life. In the soft, sweet beginnings of day, we are reminded that all we are and all that we have are gifts from your generous hand.

As we labor in these great halls today, where debate and discussion compromise, and negotiations are a part of daily life, let us not forget our responsibilities: to ourselves, to our families, friends, to those we serve, and to you.

Help us never to act in such a way that we shall lose our self respect;
Never to let ourselves down by doing things which are mean or low, disloyal or dishonorable, or against our deeply felt principles and convictions;
Never to do anything that would disappoint those who have placed their faith and trust in us.
Do not let us be the kind of people who demand their rights and forget their duties, nots.
the kind who want to get everything out of life, yet put nothing into it.

Lord of Grace and Mercy, help us be worthy of our heritage as a people and as a state. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Julie Sapp and Maggie Brennan.

The Journal of the twenty-second day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-FOURTH DAY, Monday, February 12, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"I heard a voice cry...tell him the meaning of the vision." (Dan. 8:15)

Today the nation celebrates the birthday and the heritage of Abraham Lincoln.

This afternoon, gracious Lord, we acknowledge that our heroes combined two characteristics: in many ways, they were captives of their own culture, as we are, but more significantly, they could stand taller and challenge their contemporaries on some significant issues.

Today, we ask for the same spirit, the vision, and the courage we need to solve the challenges we face. Strengthen the Union, heal our divisiveness by prodding us to overcome the prejudices and the pressures which keep many of us enslaved to the old way of doing business, and so we deprive all citizens of their fair share of the blessings of liberty. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the twenty-third day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY, Wednesday, February 14, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Beloved, let us love one another, because love is from God; everyone who loves is born of God and knows God. Whoever does not love, does not know God, for God is love." (I John 4:7-8, NRSV)

Gracious God--our Creator and our Teacher, as we observe this Valentine's Day--a day set aside to show special expressions of love, help us remember the man whose life of dedication and sacrifice set an example of true love. St. Valentine--a compassionate and dedicated 3rd century Roman physician, took your law of Love to heart as he treated his patients and when confronted with the demand to deny his faith, he chose to give up his life instead.

Let us stand as firmly in our convictions and our beliefs. As issues are debated and negotiations made, as arguments ensue and tempers flare, as laws are passed and defeated, help us remember the supreme law of love--love not only for family and friends, but love for those who offend us, those who think differently than we do, those whose names we do not know and whose lives seem remote from ours--all your children, each deserving of respect and love.

Be now with those who labor here, that their work might be blessed and may the deeds done and the actions taken benefit the citizens of this state. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lindsay Anderson, Kobby Crawford, Casey Dycus and Brian Myers.

The Journal of the twenty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-SEVENTH DAY, Thursday, February 15, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Creator God, who made both night and day, we thank you for carrying us safely through the night and bringing us once again into the light of day. May we never forget that your hand guides the sun and the moon and the stars and your providence directs our lives.

We thank you today for everything which keeps us right when we are tempted to go wrong...

For those who set good examples for us;

For those who give us good advice, and call us to task when we need it;

For colleagues and friends who make us want to be better than we are;

For those who believe in us and trust us;

For the voice of conscience to warn us and awaken us to our responsibilities.

Lord, open our eyes and our ears today in this great place that we might truly hear each other -- to hear the good things and the bad, to hear the calls to justice and equity for all people, to hear the voice of the people of this state as they express their expectations. And then let us act in the light of conscience to do what is right and just. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jim Brown and Janice Chyi.

The Journal of the twenty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

TWENTY-EIGHTH DAY, Monday, February 19, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Happy the nation whose God is Yahweh." (Ps. 33:12, JB)

On this day which honors Presidents Washington and Lincoln, we pray for the nation.

Gracious God, during this election year, we pray for a greater participation in the political process, and especially in the use of the ballot, by more of our citizens. We pray for whatever it takes from us to give leadership and shed the practices which add to the public's cynicism about elections and the political process. Let us undertake whatever reforms are needed in the financing of elections, and the access to our offices and services on the part of citizens and special interests. Rid us of naive reforms which only aggravate the problem, but let us be courageous about genuine reforms which might be painful to undertake, but which we know will be better for democracy in the long run. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lisa Crawford and Bryan Crawford.

The Journal of the twenty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

TWENTY-NINTH DAY, Tuesday, February 20, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Cast away all your transgressions...and get yourselves a new heart and a new spirit". (Ez. 18:31).

Today is Mardi Gras, from the French for "fat Tuesday", a reference to the time when the Catholic Church's Lenten discipline forbade the use of meat and meat by-products during the Lenten season, hence they were all consumed these days.

God of love and mercy, we pray for a spirit of conversion of heart, and of discipline, to permeate all Christian believers this season. We follow the end of a similar program for Ramadan which ended recently. We recognize that the Jewish community does similar soul- searching for their Yom Kippur celebration.

Too often today, we overlook the holiness which is practiced by so many devout people of every faith. Unfortunately we hear too much of the extremists, we do not know that Protestants and Catholics have a community of reconciliation in Correymeala in Northern Ireland or that Croats and Serbs and Muslims published an underground newspaper, searching for reconciliation in Bosnia at the height of ethnic killings there or that some of the most beautiful religious writing in the world comes from the sufi Islamic tradition. Yet the images of bombs in London offices and planes being blown up in the Middle East and buses being bombed in Jerusalem are all too common. Give us a new heart, O God, who is angered by our divisiveness, but loves us unconditionally, nevertheless, and calls us ceaselessly to conversion.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Dan Baumgart, Ben Grone, Brent Nesvik, Tradd Davidson, Drew Kifer, Christina McClain, Heather Eoff, Nick Glenn and Chas Reinkemeyer.

The Journal of the twenty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTIETH DAY, Wednesday, February 21, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Holy God, as we approach this sacred season in the history of Christianity, let us recall the importance of sacrifices -- giving up things that by our sacrifice will benefit others.

Especially in this House help us be conscious of those things that are selfish and self- serving -- and let us give them up so that concern for others and the good of many will outweigh the good of one. Help us be aware that when something is difficult for us to do or to be a part of, growth often comes in that struggle. Give us strength.

As the days grow warmer, with the knowledge that new growth lies just beneath the earth's surface, help us bring about growth in our own lives and in the lives of those who have entrusted us to these offices by faithfully carrying out our responsibilities.

And now bless those who are here that they may take joy in the jobs they've been selected to do, and feel your presence ever guiding them. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Dustin Steller, Lacey Farrar, Hannah Farrar, Gabriel Farrar, Matthew Warner, Marie Warner, Luke Warner, Ryan Morton, Bret Morton, Andrew Morton, Anna Wade and Ian Wade.

All moneys in such transportation trust fund shall be appropriated and disbursed only for transportation purposes as enumerated in sections 94.700 to 94.755. The provisions of this subsection shall apply only to taxes authorized by sections 94.700 to 94.755 which have not been imposed to retire bonds issued pursuant to sections 94.700 to 94.755.

2. All moneys received by a city which issues bonds pursuant to the provisions of section 94.705 and imposes the tax authorized by such section to retire such bonds shall be deposited in a special trust fund and shall be used solely to retire such bonds, except to the extent that such funds are required for the operation and maintenance of the capital improvements made with the proceeds of the bonds. Once all of such bonds have been retired, all funds remaining in the special trust fund required by this subsection shall be used solely for transportation purposes. Any funds in the special trust fund required by this subsection which are not needed to meet current obligations under the bonds issued pursuant to section 94.705 may be invested by the governing body in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of other municipal funds. The provisions of this subsection shall apply only to taxes authorized by section 94.705 which have been imposed to retire bonds issued pursuant to such section.

[2.] 3. Any portion or all of the funds on deposit in a transportation trust fund may be appropriated and paid by a city directly to an interstate transportation authority, a city transit authority or a city utilities board for its general purposes in providing a public mass transportation system within an interstate transportation district or a municipality; provided that, before such funds may be appropriated and paid to any such interstate transportation authority, city transit authority or city utilities board with a service area population in excess of two million persons, such authority or board shall develop, for mutual agreement, a program of transit service to be provided to the city. Such program shall define the service to be provided, the fare structure to be in effect, the estimated cost of the total transit service program of the authority or board, and the estimated cost of the city's portion of the program. Such agreement shall be renewed prior to the beginning of each fiscal year and, when such agreement is reached, the city shall appropriate to the authority or board funds as are designated in the agreement for the period of the agreement. A city may designate by contract with an interstate transportation authority, a city transit authority or a city utilities board that a designated portion of such funds shall be used by the interstate transportation authority, the city transit authority or the city utilities board to provide specific service or frequency of service to underwrite a certain fare structure, or for any other purposes consistent with providing a sound public mass transportation system.

[3.] 4. Any provisions of sections 94.700 to 94.755 to the contrary notwithstanding, at least seven percent of the proceeds of any sales tax imposed under sections 94.700 to 94.755 that are appropriated and paid by a city to an interstate transportation authority, a city transit authority or a city utilities board shall be expended only for the purchase of new public mass transportation equipment, for the construction of public mass transportation facilities, or for any other capital expenditures or improvements to the property of the interstate transportation authority, city transit authority or city utilities board used in providing public mass transportation service, or to pay the interest or principal payments, or to satisfy sinking fund requirements on any negotiable notes or bonds or other instruments in writing issued for any of the above purposes.

[4.] 5. Any provisions of sections 94.700 to 94.755 to the contrary notwithstanding, at least seven percent of the proceeds of any sales tax imposed under sections 94.700 to 94.755 that are appropriated and expended by a city for its general purposes in providing a public mass transportation system directly owned and operated by it shall be expended only for the purpose of new public mass transportation equipment, for the construction of public mass transportation facilities, or for any other capital expenditures or improvements to its properties used in providing public mass transportation service, or to pay the interest or principal payments, or to satisfy the sinking fund requirements on any negotiable notes or bonds or other instruments in writing issued for any of the above purposes.

[5.] 6. No funds may be appropriated and paid to any such transportation authority, transit authority or utilities board, unless and until such authority or board shall file or shall have filed with the city paying such funds, and the secretary of state of the state of Missouri, annually and within six months after the close of such authority or board's fiscal year, an independently audited report and accounting as to such authority or board's management and administration of any and all funds received and expended by such authority or board.

[6.] 7. Transportation authorities operating a public mass transportation system under sections 94.700 to 94.755 shall provide for interior and exterior advertising on each vehicle for mass transportation purposes.".

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-FIRST DAY, Thursday, February 22, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Be strong and of good courage, do not fear or be in dread of them: for it is the Lord your God who goes with you; he will not fail you or forsake you". (Deut. 31:6, RSV)

Gracious and Almighty God, as we gather in this place where important decisions are made and where lives are changed, help us never to allow our caution to become cowardice or our courage to become recklessness.

Help us never to allow carefulness to become meanness, or spending to become squandering.

Help us never to allow honesty to become discourtesy, or politeness to become evasion of the truth.

In this year of political challenge and faulty rhetoric help us be discerning in those we choose to listen to, hearing with careful ears the true agenda behind the political one.

Those here in this House have tremendous responsibilities to perform, Lord. Give them guidance as they serve in the name of justice and the people of Missouri. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Colleen Cariker, Jamise Mason, Quinton O'Brien, Scott Corrigan, Mary Coleman, Crystal Moore, Lyndel Culbertson, Jamie Smart, Le Ann Oestreich, Carrie Lynette McDowell and Pat Buckstead.

The Journal of the thirtieth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-SECOND DAY, Monday, February 26, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Clothe yourselves in love which binds everything together in perfect harmony." (Col. 3:14, NRSV)

We had our monthly Priests' Support group meeting last evening overnight at an old farmhouse. Nearby there is a lake. A couple of geese had made their home there and something happened to the male; the female was grieving loudly over his death. We began a discussion about the fact that this is normal for them, they are monogamous, the female does not mate again after a death and will mourn her mate all during the season. She may adopt and raise some orphan goslings.

Gracious God, it is amazing that you built in this bonding spirit so deeply even into the animal world that long friendships, and grief after a death are part of nature. Teach us to realize that the grieving process continues. Bless our own friendships, and our own marriages with the care they need and help us to do what needs to be done to preserve and defend and protect them from the many things that destroy them, especially neglect to work at the relationship and pray and worship together as couple and family. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as a Honorary Page for the Day, to serve without compensation: Richard Connor McIntosh.

The Journal of the thirty-first day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-THIRD DAY, Tuesday, February 27, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"These people are like irrational animals...they slander what they do not understand." (2 Pet. 2:12, NRSV)

Daily we hear of new bombings and shootings, at home and overseas. At times, it seems as if the only news is of tragedy. Then, we turn to page two or wait until the fast, breathless headlines are over, and we find heart-warming stories. There are people willing to talk, to listen to one another, to have conversations.

We ask today, God of Understanding, for the spirit of having an attentive heart, and an ear for listening. We begin at home, not trying to watch TV and listen to the hurt of a family member at the same time. We continue the process here, making sure that the voices which seek our attention are given a fair hearing. We pray that the same atmosphere of engaging in healthy and honest conversation would permeate the larger questions in life, in this year's political debate, in relations between states and nations, between ethnic and religious groups around the globe. Above all, we ask for a prayerful heart, gracious God, so that whatever words we speak would be influenced by what we have heard from you to discipline them and cleanse them of hatred, of hurt and of harm. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kyle Puetz, Susan Smythe, Valerie Elrod, Dana Rogers and Kimberly Shaw.

The Journal of the thirty-second day was approved as corrected.

3. If the jury returns a verdict of guilty and declares a term of imprisonment as provided in subsection 2 of this section, the court shall proceed as provided in subsection 1 of this section except that any term of imprisonment imposed cannot exceed the term declared by the jury unless the term declared by the jury is less than the authorized lowest term for the offense, in which event the court cannot impose a term of imprisonment greater than the lowest term provided for the offense.

If the jury is unable to decide or agree upon punishment, the court shall assess punishment as provided in subsection 4 of section 565.030, RSMo.

MESSAGE FROM THE SENATE

Mr. Speaker: I am instructed by the Senate to inform the House of Representatives that the Senate has taken up and adopted SCR 19.

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 19

WHEREAS, a one-page memo that Secretary of the Navy John Dalton signed January 12, 1995, clears the way for inactive Naval vessels to be scrapped or turned into museums; and

WHEREAS, the historic Battleship U.S.S. Missouri (BB-63) has been stricken from the Navy's rolls owing to the financial costs that would be incurred in maintaining the vessel as part of our national defense force; and

WHEREAS, the U.S.S. Missouri is best remembered within the annals of our nation's proud military tradition as the site of the formal surrender of Japan on September 2, 1945, an event which brought to an end the greatest global conflict in history; and

WHEREAS, the U.S.S. Missouri is currently located at mooring "G" at the Naval Inactive Ships Maintenance Facility located in Puget Sound Naval Shipyard, Bremerton, Washington; and

WHEREAS, special commemoration ceremonies were conducted aboard the U.S.S. Missouri on September 2, 1995, marking the Fiftieth Anniversary of VJ-Day, and two days later, the ship was closed to visitors; and

WHEREAS, several ideas have been put forth as to the final resting place for this gallant Lady of the United States Navy by a number of interested parties, who have firmly determined that this historic vessel should not be scrapped, but rather, be preserved for the education and enrichment of future generations; and

WHEREAS, though the state of Missouri would be proud to preserve the U.S.S. Missouri within its boundaries, the fact is that the guaranteed depth of water on the Mississippi River Channel is much too shallow to allow the ship to reach St. Louis or any other port in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the U.S.S. Missouri (BB-63) Memorial Association, Inc., of Honolulu, Hawaii, has expressed an interest in obtaining the Missouri and placing her on display in Pearl Harbor as a Naval Memorial and Museum; and

WHEREAS, it is entirely fitting and proper that the site for the ending of the second World War should be located at the site of the beginning of United States involvement in the war; and

WHEREAS, the American Legion, Department of Missouri, has urged the United States Navy to permanently locate the U.S.S. Missouri in Pearl Harbor, next to the U.S.S. Arizona Memorial:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate of the Eighty-eighth General Assembly, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby memorialize the Congress of the United States, the President of the United States, the Chief of Naval Operations, and the Secretary of the Navy to take any appropriate action necessary to permanently locate the U.S.S. Missouri (BB-63) at Pearl Harbor, Honolulu, Hawaii, next to the U.S.S. Arizona Memorial, for the purpose of serving as a Naval Memorial and Museum; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for the President of the United States, for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation, for the Joint Chief of Staff, United States Navy, for the Secretary of the Navy, and for the American Legion, Department of Missouri.

In which the concurrence of the House is respectfully requested.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-FOURTH DAY, Wednesday, February 28, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverand Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Trust in the Lord with all your heart, and do not rely on your own insight. In all your ways acknowledge him, and he will make straight your paths." (Proverbs 3:5-6, RSV)

O God of Graciousness, help us put our trust in you this day. In this place of many paths, help us choose the one that will best serve the needs of the people. Save us from being unwise; give us foresight to consider all possibilities with deliberation, making judgments upon counsel and advice from those with wisdom and experience.

As the issue of speed is taken up in this House, help us remember that, no matter what velocity we propel our bodies and our vehicles down a highway, we can only live life one day at a time - and help us use the 24 hours of the day you give us to add a dimension of quality to life. As we travel faster and farther, let us still take the time to observe the beauty of your creation around us. Don't let us go so fast that we miss the small nuances you've placed in nature - the drop of a leaf to the ground, the scampering of a squirrel up a tree - the little things that remind us that we are simply a small part of a much greater whole.

And now bless those here in the work that they must do; may they do it with your guidance and with the assurance of your presence in their lives. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kristopher Swanigan, Whitni Cayce.

The Journal of the thirty-third day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-FIFTH DAY, Thursday, February 29, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Great Guardian of our Lives, we come this morning conscious of our own shortcomings, but with confidence and composure, knowing that if we put our trust in you, our faith is well founded. Let us not tolerate anything in our personal lives which, if multiplied, would weaken this state and the people we serve.

Teach us that our state is no better than its citizens, and no stronger than those in whom it puts it's trust.

We pray for your guidance in all that takes place here, that with your blessing, we need not fear decisions, nor hesitate to act.

Be now with each representative as they complete their week here and as many of them travel home to loved ones and the routine of their "other" lives. Bring them back safely through this weekend, and strengthen them to renew their labor next week. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Journal of the thirty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 4

WHEREAS, most all necessities essential to man's survival stem from the soil, and the survival and success of nations is largely dependent on their ability to manage the resources provided by the soils within their borders; and

WHEREAS, agriculture forms the basis for the development, maintenance, and survival of any modern society; and

WHEREAS, citizens must be able to relate to these truisms to their own success and welfare in order to assure a cooperative, conflict-free relationship between urban and rural communities; and

WHEREAS, it is important that the agricultural community be a proactive force in the education of the urbanite and those members of the rural population who are unfamiliar with the role of agriculture in the preservation of their welfare and that of the nation; and

WHEREAS, although Missouri is one of the most agriculturally diverse states in the nation, little has been done to educate its citizens as to their total dependence on farmers and ranchers; and

WHEREAS, since the third generation without exposure to the farm is now growing up in the state's urban areas, little comprehension exists among this group concerning the tie that exists between the remote farmer/rancher and the dinner table; and

WHEREAS, because of information provided by various activists/environmentalists which has often been inaccurate, incomplete, or misleading, the farmer/rancher is often perceived as the enemy rather than the benefactor of mankind; and

WHEREAS, in order to correct these deficiencies in the public understanding and perception, a number of key leaders and organizations have voiced their support for the establishment of a combined Living History Farm and Agriculture Learning Center in Missouri; and

WHEREAS, this innovative Living History Farm and Agricultural Learning Center would be dedicated to the goal of educating consumers as to Missouri's wealth of agricultural products and the importance of these products in their everyday lives, and would also seek to preserve the skills, knowledge, and artifacts of previous generations of Missouri farmers and ranchers; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Agricultural Learning Center would be the most modern and effective in the nation, and would provide Missouri's forty-three commodity groups with the opportunity to tell their own story concerning the importance of their product; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Missouri Living History Farm and Agricultural Learning Center project has garnered a great deal of support and interest from both the private and public sectors, but still requires knowledgeable leadership to coordinate the efforts of these interested parties; and

WHEREAS, this leadership would best be provided by the Missouri Department of Agriculture, which has access to the largest body of knowledge and expertise pertaining to Missouri agriculture:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-eighth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby petition the Department of Agriculture to serve as the coordinating body for the initiation of the proposed Missouri Living History Farm and Agriculture Learning Center and in this capacity, form a study group to examine the value and feasibility of this project; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that in accepting this role, the Department of Agriculture be given full authority to call together all interested parties, to obtain firm commitments from these parties as to precisely what contributions and assistance they will provide toward the project's completion, and to then determine to what degree the project is workable; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that in serving as the coordinating body for the Missouri Living History and Agriculture Learning Center project, the Department of Agriculture determine project feasibility based upon the heretofore established plan which provides that the project be funded solely through non-governmental contributions; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Department of Agriculture report its findings together with recommendations for any action it deems appropriate to the Missouri General Assembly; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the Missouri Department of Agriculture, Mr. John Saunders, Director.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-SIXTH DAY, Monday, March 4, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"There is a time to keep and a time to throw away..." (Eccles. 3:6).

Today we begin a new month, and we begin our spring break at the end of this week. It is a time for checking on the score and the signals for the half way mark of this session. We have had our moments of anxiety with the election of a Speaker, some humor over the speed limit law filibuster, and lots of frustration with our weather going from a record high to a record low at the end of February.

Eternal God, give us the usual wisdom for which we rely on you to put this day and this month and this turning point in the session into the perspective of eternity and the big picture of life in our world.

We recognize and pray for the Celts of Welsh background who celebrate St. David on Friday and the Scotti, usually called the Irish, who will celebrate St. Patrick's Day on March 17. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Brent Birdwell and Erin Paul.

The Journal of the thirty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

RESOLUTIONS

Representative Griesheimer offered House Resolution No. 414, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

Representative Goward offered House Resolution No. 415.

House Resolution No. 415

Whereas, thirty years ago, a new political force was formed in Missouri when the thirteen African-American members of the Missouri General Assembly, a unique group of leaders, took initiative from the Civil Rights movement to establish the Missouri Legislative Black Caucus; and

Whereas, the Legislative Black Caucus was born to empower Blacks in the legislative process and to promote equality and a higher standard of living among African-Americans in Missouri, who had been forced to contend with poor housing, high unemployment, and widespread discrimination in employment practices; and

Whereas, these injustices began to be formally addressed for the first time through a comprehensive political strategy implemented by the original members of the Legislative Black Caucus, who were Senator Theodore D. McNeal from the Fourth District, and Representatives Henry Ross, District No. 10; Leon M. Jordan, District No. 11;

Whereas, the Legislative Black Caucus earned early recognition for its determination and strength of unity by winning a hard-fought battle to redraw the First Congressional District to bring about the election of the first Black Missouri legislator to serve in the United States Congress, the Honorable William L. Clay, Sr.; and

Whereas, over the past three decades, the Missouri Legislative Black Caucus has been a strong advocate and supporter of affirmative action, and has thereby positively influenced the quality of life for Black Missourians and for other minorities; and

Whereas, of the thirteen original founding members of the Black Caucus, four are still living, and one continues to serve in the Missouri House of Representatives:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-eighth General Assembly, hereby proudly join with the Missouri Legislative Black Caucus in commemorating thirty years of an exceptionally proud tradition of leadership and progress, and in the spirit of this Thirtieth Anniversary year, reaffirm our commitment to affirmative action; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for presentation during the Thirtieth Anniversary of the Missouri Legislative Black Caucus.

On motion of Representative Goward, Rule 63 was suspended and House Resolution No. 415 was adopted.

Representative Jacob offered House Resolution No. 416, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

Representatives Surface and Burton offered House Resolution No. 417, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

Representative Stoll offered House Resolution No. 418, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

Representative Hartzler (124) offered House Resolution No. 419 through 421, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

Representative Howerton offered House Resolution No. 422, which was referred to the Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions.

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY, Tuesday, March 5, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"In everything do to others as you would have them do to you." (Mt. 7:12).

As Super Tuesday approaches for us and we watch other primaries today around the nation, it is time for us to ask about campaign tactics and to be pro-active about our advertising message before our own re-election campaigns begin.

The major faiths echo our quote from Jesus today, the Jewish Talmud says "what is harmful to you, do not do to your fellow-humans" the Islamic faith says "no one of you is a believer until he desires for his brother that which he desires for himself" and Confucius wrote "if there is one maxim which ought to be acted upon throughout one's life, surely it is the maxim of loving kindness. Do not do unto others what you would not have them do to you."

Our prayer today, Gracious God, is to have the courage and the integrity to only tell the whole truth about ourselves and our opponents in mailings, radio and TV spots and to take the high road in our own campaigns. The high road is often lonely, it does not have too many traffic jams, but we pledge to take it this year and bring honor to our profession, to our party and to ourselves. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Jessica Evans, Kris Hamilton, Bruce Bishop, Riva Ridgway, Erik Cain, Jeff Evitts and Timothy Lauth.

The Journal of the thirty-sixth day was approved as corrected.

PERFECTION OF HOUSE BILL

HCS HB 945, relating to environmental audit privilege, was taken up by Representative Smith.

Representative Elliott offered House Amendment No. 1.

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 945, Page 1, In the Title, Line 2, by deleting all of said line and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"To repeal section 319.131, RSMo Supp. 1995, relating to environmental protection, and to enact in lieu thereof eight new sections relating to the same subject, with an expiration date for certain sections."; and

Further amend said bill, Page 1, Section 1, Line 1, by inserting immediately before said line the following:

"Section A. Section 319.131, RSMo Supp. 1995, is repealed and eight new sections enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as sections 319.131, 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6 and 7, to read as follows:

319.131. 1. Any owner or operator of one or more underground storage tanks containing petroleum products may elect to participate in the underground storage tank insurance fund to partially meet the financial responsibility requirements of sections 319.100 to 319.137. Current or former refinery sites or petroleum pipeline terminals are not eligible for participation in the fund. The existence of any aboveground storage tank or tanks at a site where a person is seeking underground storage tank insurance in accordance with this section shall not in any way adversely affect that person's ability to participate in this program; provided the aboveground storage tanks are protected by a secondary containment structure designed to contain any spilled or leaking product as specified by rules of the division of weights and measures within the department of agriculture and the applicant provides documentation of a reasonable assurance of the tank line's integrity.

2. The director of the department of natural resources shall establish an advisory committee composed of insurers and owners and operators of underground storage tanks. The committee shall monitor the fund and recommend statutory and administrative changes as may be necessary to assure efficient operation of the fund. Beginning in 1994, the committee, in consultation with the department of natural resources and the department of insurance, shall annually report to the general assembly on the availability and affordability of the private insurance market as a viable method of meeting the financial responsibilities required by state and federal law in lieu of the underground storage tank insurance fund.

3. Except as provided in this section, any person seeking to participate in the insurance fund shall submit an application to the director of the department of natural resources[,] and shall certify that the tanks meet or exceed and are in compliance with all technical standards established by the United States Environmental Protection Agency and the department of natural resources. The applicant shall submit proof that [he] the applicant has a reasonable assurance of the tank's integrity. Proof of tank integrity may include but not be limited to any one of the following: tank tightness test, electronic leak detection, monitoring wells, daily inventory reconciliation, vapor test or any other test that may be approved by the director. The applicant shall submit evidence that [he] the applicant can meet the financial responsibility requirements of this section.

4. A creditor, specifically a person who, without participating in management of an underground storage tank and not otherwise primarily engaged in petroleum productions, refining and marketing, holds indicia of ownership primarily for the purpose of, or in connection with, securing payment or performance of a loan or to protect a security interest in, or a lien on, the tank or the property where the tank is located, or serves as trustee or fiduciary upon transfer or receipt of the property may be a successor in interest to a debtor who has qualified specific real property pursuant to this section, provided that the creditor gives notice of the interest to the insurance fund by certified mail, return receipt requested. Part of such notice shall include a copy of the lien, including, but not limited to, a security agreement or a deed of trust as appropriate to the property. The term "successor in interest", for the purposes of this section, means a creditor to the debtor who had qualified specific real property in the insurance fund prior to the transfer of title to the creditor, and the term is limited to access to the insurance fund. The creditor may cure any of the debtor's defaults in payments required by the insurance fund, provided the specific real property originally qualified pursuant to this section. The creditor, or the creditor's subsidiary or affiliate, who forecloses or otherwise obtains legal title to such specific real property held as collateral for loans, guarantees or other credit and which includes the debtor's underground storage tanks shall provide notice of any transfer of creditor to a subsidiary or affiliate to the fund and liability pursuant to sections 319.100 to 319.139 shall be confined to such creditor or such creditor's subsidiary or affiliate. A creditor shall apply for a transfer of coverage and shall present evidence indicating a lien, contractual right or operation of law permitting such transfer and may utilize the creditor's affiliate or subsidiary to hold legal title to the specific real property taken in satisfaction of debts. Creditors may be listed as insured or additional insured on the insurance fund and not merely as mortgagees, and may assign or otherwise transfer the debtor's rights in the insurance fund to the creditor's affiliate or subsidiary, notwithstanding any limitations in the insurance fund on assignments or transfer of the debtor's rights.

5. Any person participating in the insurance pool provided in sections 319.100 to 319.137 shall annually submit an amount established pursuant to subsection 1 of section 319.133 which shall be deposited to the credit of the underground storage tank insurance fund.

[4.] 6. The owner or operator making a claim pursuant to this section and sections 319.129 and 319.133 shall be liable for the first ten thousand dollars of the cost of cleanup associated with a release from an underground storage tank without reimbursement from the fund. The underground storage tank insurance fund shall assume all costs, except as provided in subsection [5] 7 of this section, which are greater than ten thousand dollars but less than one million dollars per occurrence or two million dollars aggregate per year. The liability of the underground storage tank insurance fund is not the liability of the state of Missouri. The provisions of sections 319.100 to 319.137 shall not be construed to broaden the liability of the state of Missouri beyond the provisions of sections 537.600 to 537.610, RSMo, nor to abolish or waive any defense which might otherwise be available to the state or to any person. The presence of existing contamination at a site where a person is seeking underground storage tank insurance in accordance with this section shall not affect that person's ability to participate in this program, provided the person meets all other requirements of sections 319.100 to 319.139. Any person who qualifies pursuant to sections 319.100 to 319.139 and who has requested approval of a project for remediation from the fund, which request has not yet been decided upon by the department, shall annually be sent by the department a status report including an estimate of when the project may expect to be funded and other pertinent information regarding the request.

[5.] 7. The fund shall provide coverage for third-party claims involving property damage or bodily injury caused by leaking underground storage tanks whose owner or operator is participating in the fund. Coverage for third-party bodily injury shall not exceed one million dollars per occurrence. Coverage for third-party property damage shall not exceed one million dollars per occurrence. The fund shall not compensate an owner or operator for repair of damages to property beyond that required to contain and clean up a release of a regulated substance or compensate an owner or operator or any third party for loss or damage to other property owned or belonging to the owner or operator, or for any loss or damage of an intangible nature, including, but not limited to, loss or interruption of business, pain and suffering of any person, lost income, mental distress, loss of use of any benefit, or punitive damages. [Money from the fund shall not be expended for cleanup of releases being remediated prior to August 28, 1989.]

[6.] 8. The fund shall, within limits specified in this section, assume costs of third-party claims and cleanup of contamination caused by releases from underground storage tanks. The attorney general shall, upon request, bring an action against such owner or operator to recover any costs or expenses owed to the fund plus reasonable attorney's fees.

[7.] 9. Nothing contained in sections 319.100 to 319.137 shall be construed to abrogate or limit any right, remedy, causes of action, or claim by any person sustaining personal injury or property damage as a result of any release from any type of underground storage tank, nor shall anything contained in sections 319.100 to 319.137 be construed to abrogate or limit any liability of any person in any way responsible for any release from an underground storage tank or any damages for personal injury or property damages caused by such a release.

[8.] 10. The fund shall provide moneys for cleanup of contamination caused by releases from underground storage tanks, the owner or operator of which is participating in the underground storage tank insurance fund or the owner or operator of which has made application for participation in the fund by August 28, 1995, regardless of when such release occurred, provided that those persons who have made application are ultimately accepted into the fund. Applicants shall not be eligible for fund benefits until they are accepted into the fund.

[9.] 11. The fund shall provide moneys for cleanup of contamination caused by releases from underground storage tanks which have been taken out of use prior to August 28, 1995, provided such sites have been documented by or reported to the department of natural resources prior to August 28, 1995, and provided further that the fund shall make no reimbursements for expenses incurred prior to August 28, 1995.

12. A person who submits a request as provided in this section is not required to bid the costs and expenses associated with the environmental consultant who inspects the project. The department may disapprove all or part of the costs and expenses associated with the environmental consultant if the costs are excessive based upon comparable service costs or current market value of similar services. The person shall request bids for the actual remediation or clean-up work. The department shall, based on submittal of the required bids, select a reasonable cost ceiling for competent, effective and timely completion of the projected work. The person who submits the bid shall be informed of the cost ceiling and shall be responsible for costs incurred that exceed such cost ceiling.".

On motion of Representative Elliott, House Amendment No. 1 was adopted.

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 1, Line 26, by inserting immediately after the word "audit", the following: "

(4) "Punitive penalty", that portion of a penalty which exceeds the economic benefit or value gained by the owner or operator of a facility by violating environmental laws" ; and

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 2, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 2. 1. To participate in the environmental audit improvement program, an owner or operator of a facility must conduct an environmental audit.

2. To qualify for participation in the environmental audit improvement program, an owner or operator of a facility must submit an application to the department within sixty days after the completion of an environmental audit report. The application must contain the following:

(1) Written notice by the owner or operator of the facility that the facility has conducted an environmental audit;

(2) A dated environmental audit report including disclosure of all violations of environmental laws identified in the environmental audit;

(3) A commitment signed by the owner or operator of the facility to correct the violations of environmental laws as expeditiously as is reasonably practicable; and

(4) A compliance plan, and if more than ninety days will be required to correct the violations of environmental laws, a compliance schedule that identified the time that will be needed to correct the violations and a brief statement of the reasons that support the time periods set out in the compliance schedule.

3. The department shall review and may approve any compliance schedule. The compliance plan shall provide for correction of violations within ninety days following the date the application is received by the department, except that additional reasonable and necessary extensions of time may be granted at the department's discretion. In reviewing the reasonableness of a compliance schedule, the director may take into account information supplied by the regulated facility, any public comments, and information developed by department staff. The decision to approve or disapprove a compliance schedule shall be based on the following factors:

(1) The nature of the violations;

(2) The environmental and public health consequences of the violations;

(3) The economic circumstances of the facility;

(4) The availability of personnel, equipment, and material; and

(5) The time needed to implement pollution prevention opportunities as an alternative to pollution control approaches to remedying the violations." ; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 2 and 3, Section 3, Lines 1 to 24, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 3. 1. The department shall defer for at least ninety days any civil or criminal enforcement action for voluntarily disclosed violations of environmental laws against the owner or operator of a facility if an application that meets the requirements of section 2 of this act has been submitted to the department. If a compliance schedule was submitted and approved, the department shall defer civil or criminal enforcement actions for voluntarily disclosed violations of environmental laws for the term of the approved compliance schedule unless the facility fails to meet an interim performance date contained in the schedule. Provisions of sections 516.380 and 556.036, RSMo, to the contrary notwithstanding, in determining the period of limitation within which prosecution of an offense shall be commenced, time shall start to run on the earliest day on which such action may be filed pursuant to this section.

2. If an owner or operator of a facility has corrected all violations pursuant to a compliance plan within ninety days or by the date specified in the approved compliance schedule, whichever is later, the department shall not impose or seek to impose punitive penalties in a civil case or monetary punitive penalties in a criminal case involving ordinary negligence against the owner or operator of a facility for the voluntarily disclosed violations of environmental laws in the environmental audit report.

3. Nothing in sections 1 to 7 of this act shall preclude the state from taking any enforcement action for violations of environmental laws which were known by the state prior to the time the owner or operator of a facility submitted an application meeting the requirements of section 2 of this act to the department." ; and

Further amend said bill, Page 3, Section 3, Line 25, by deleting the words "3. Nothing in this section" and inserting in lieu thereof the words "4. Nothing in sections 1 to 7 of this act" ; and

Further amend said bill, Page 3, Section 3, Lines 28 and 29, by deleting all of said lines; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 3 and 4, Section 4, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 4. Nothing in sections 1 to 7 of this act shall be construed to prevent the state from bringing:

(1) A criminal enforcement action against any entity who commits a violation other than a negligent violation;

(2) A civil enforcement action, if the owner or operator of a facility:

(a) Failed to correct all violations in ninety days or within the time specified in an approved compliance schedule, whichever is later;

(b) Is found to have violated the same environmental law within a three-year period prior to submission of the application provided for in section 2 of this act; or

(c) Caused serious harm to public health or the environment; or

(3) An action against the owner or operator of a facility to enjoin an immediate threat to the public health or the environment." ; and

Further amend said bill, Pages 4 and 5, Section 5, by deleting all of said section and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

"Section 5. 1. If the department finds that the owner or operator of a facility acted in good faith, the department shall give consideration to the fact that the owner or operator of a facility applied to and participated in the environmental audit improvement program in deciding whether to pursue a civil enforcement action, or what, if any, penalty should be imposed. In assessing the amount of any nonpunitive penalty, the department may give credit to the owner or operator after considering at least the following factors:

(1) Whether the cost of corrective actions to achieve compliance exceeds the economic benefit of noncompliance; and

(2) The financial savings obtained by not having complied with the applicable environmental law over the time period of noncompliance.

2. In determining whether the owner or operator of a facility acted in good faith, the department may consider whether:

(1) When violations of environmental laws were discovered, the owner or operator of the facility took corrective action which was timely under the circumstances;

(2) The owner or operator of the facility exercised reasonable care in attempting to ensure compliance with respect to where violations of environmental laws occurred;

(3) The violations of environmental laws resulted in a significant economic benefit to the owner or operator of the facility;

(4) Prior to conducting the environmental audit, the facility had a history of good faith efforts to comply with environmental laws; and

(5) The owner or operator of a facility demonstrated good faith efforts to achieve compliance with environmental laws since conducting an environmental audit." ; and

Further amend said bill, Page 5, Section 7, Lines 2 to 6, by deleting all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following: "2002."

The Chair ruled the point of order not well taken.

Representative Dougherty moved that House Amendment No. 2 be adopted.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-EIGHTH DAY, Wednesday, March 6, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

In a world riddled with warring factions and terrorists attacks, in a world where the hungry and homeless are increasing in number daily, in a world where peace seems to be an unreachable goal, help us, O God of Justice and Compassion, see our part in making this world a better place. In this House - only one of many legislative bodies around this country - issues are debated and negotiated, bills are approved and rejected, laws become reality or more paperwork to file. Help those who struggle here make their decisions in the context of what is good for the people, not the party, of what is right for the people, not the politician. Guide them as they use values and judgments based on knowledge and wisdom, not hearsay.

Most of all, Gracious Lord, reassure each of them of your presence and undergird them with your love as they do the jobs they have been elected to do. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lakeisha Carter, Philip Strangman, Travis Miller, Elizabeth Scott, Emily Bira, Claire Bira, Ben Bira, Nick Bira, Daniel Dziesinski, Jordan Dziesinski and Clayton Prater.

The Journal of the thirty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

THIRTY-NINTH DAY, Thursday, March 7, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Once again the winter cold settles around, Lord God, and reminds us of the changeability of nature. We must be flexible to adjust to these changes in your creation's patterns. There is a lesson for us in that flexibility - for here in this place of government, we must also learn to be flexible. The rigidity of thought and ideas is not easily overcome, but help us learn to listen with discerning ears, so that we might hear new ideas and new thoughts. Help us listen with open minds, in case there just might be something by which we could learn and grow. Let us not shut our eyes and ears and minds to those who think differently than we do, but rather let us use the common sense you've given us to recognize when it's time to be flexible.

We ask your continued guidance in all that is transacted here today. Watch over these representatives as they enjoy a respite from the job at hand. Let them enjoy their time with family and friends. Refresh them and renew them; protect them and surround them with your loving arms, secure in the knowledge of your presence. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: David Henry, Abby Bouwhuis, Kevin Buss and Heather Woodyard.

The Journal of the thirty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

A RESOLUTION DESIGNATING AN AREA TO BE TARGETED FOR ECONOMIC DEVELOPMENT AND HOUSING DEVELOPMENT, AND ACKNOWLEDGING THE WORK OF THE ST. LOUIS REINVESTMENT CORPORATION.

Whereas, the program area of the St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation (SLRC) is a high density urban area encompassing the City of St. Louis and a section of north St. Louis County which contains almost one-third of the Missouri portion of the population of the St. Louis Metropolitan Statistical Area; and

Whereas, the program area of SLRC contains two-thirds of the people in the Missouri portion of the St. Louis Metropolitan Statistical Area whose incomes are below the poverty level; and

Whereas, residents of the program area have a median per capita income of $11,180, while the per capita income for the entire Missouri portion of the statistical area is $17,827, and the program area contains 70% of the residents in the Missouri portion of the statistical area who have incomes amounting to less than 50% of the poverty level; and

Whereas, the program area of SLRC contains 80% of the African American population of the Missouri portion of the St. Louis Metropolitan Statistical Area and contains 93% of the census tracts in which the African American population is more than 50% of the population in the census tract; and

Whereas, those in the program area desiring to start small businesses are prevented from doing so by the unavailability of conventional loans; and

Whereas, there is a strong need for new jobs to be created in the program area, as the unemployment rate for the area far exceeds the rate for the overall statistical area; and

Whereas, the program area of St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation, as defined by its bylaws, is a high-density urban area with a high concentration of low-income individuals and families, minorities, and unemployed individuals, along with a lack of new business development; and

Whereas, St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation has undertaken an ambitious and critically important project to assist low-income families in its area with the acquisition of affordable housing, to assist individuals with the development of new small businesses, and to create jobs and spur economic development in the area:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-eighth General Assembly, hereby designate the program area of the St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation as a significantly disadvantaged area with an urgent need of assistance for low-income families and individuals for the acquisition of affordable housing; and

Be it further resolved that the Missouri House wholeheartedly support the efforts of the St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation and praises the organization for its many significant contributions to the economic development of the region; and

Be it further resolved that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the St. Louis Reinvestment Corporation.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Municipal Corporations, to which was referred SCS SB 735, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass with House Committee Amendment No. 1.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-FIRST DAY, Monday, March 18, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Those who are attentive to a matter will prosper, and happy are those who trust in the Lord." (Proverbs 16:20, NRSV)

O God of all times and places, let us be attentive to the matters which are before us in this House this week -- whether it be matters great or small, all issues affect us in certain ways. Whether we be farmers fighting for home-town farms or industries fighting for business in a big way -- whether we be teachers looking for standards that accurately prove a learner's content or parents concerned for the education of their children. Whatever the issue, we are all involved. As decisions come before this body, help each one here give it the attention it deserves. Help us be discerning and discriminating in the judgments made. Most of all, give us your guidance according to the highest conscience and moral character. For the sake of our state, for the sake of peace, for the sake of each one, help us do the right thing as we look to account for this day. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Lucas Estes, Amanda Forshee, Rebecca Dorr, Cindy Cravens and Carrie Lynn Shuchart.

The Journal of the thirty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

The Journal of the fortieth day was approved as printed.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-SECOND DAY, Tuesday, March 19, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"So do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will bring worries of its own. Today's trouble is enough for today." (Matthew 6:34, NRSV)

O God of ages past and future, Jesus of Nazareth told us not to worry about tomorrow, that today's trouble is enough for today. And yet it is the business of this House to look toward tomorrow -- the tomorrows that make up the future of this state and its citizens. Give us your help and guidance in looking at the future and the problems facing our state and our nation each day -- the problem of lying, which is called propaganda; the problem of selfishness, which is called self-interest; the problem of greed, which is often called profit; the problem of materialism, the hook which is baited with security.

Hear our prayers, God, for an understanding which is better than political wisdom, so that our eyes may be opened to the problems as they are -- and that our hearts will be open to look for solutions that will better the lives of those we serve. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Travis Young, Mackenzie Daly, Andrew Hoppe, Cary Felzien, Stephanie A. Stineman, Jason Ray Piburn, Mark Andrew Guy, Emily IntlVeld, Leslie Reynolds, Lori Walker, Sylvia Biggs, Sabrina Maslin, Megan Honerkamp, Christy Porges, Rachael Morris, Adrianne Salas, Sasha Kind, Jessica Bradford, Derrick Lyons, Spencer Lyons, Richie Hess, Joyce Briscoe, Rachael Grime and Patrick Foster.

"304.050. 1. The driver of a vehicle [upon a highway], upon meeting or overtaking from either direction any school bus which has stopped [on the highway] or which is parked anywhere, including on a school parking lot, for the purpose of receiving or discharging any school children and whose driver has in the manner prescribed by law given the signal to stop, shall stop the vehicle before reaching such school bus and shall not proceed until such school bus resumes motion, or until signaled by its driver to proceed.

2. Every bus used for the transportation of school children shall bear upon the front and rear thereon a plainly visible sign containing the words "school bus" in letters not less than eight inches in height. Each bus shall have lettered on the rear in plain and distinct type the following: "State Law: Stop while bus is loading and unloading". Each school bus subject to the provisions of sections 304.050 to 304.070 shall be equipped with a mechanical and electrical signaling device approved by the state board of education, which will display a signal plainly visible from the front and rear and indicating intention to stop.

3. The driver of a school bus in the process of loading or unloading students [upon a street or highway] shall activate the mechanical and electrical signaling devices, in the manner prescribed by the state board of education, to communicate to drivers of other vehicles that students are loading or unloading. No driver of a school bus shall take on or discharge passengers at any location upon a highway consisting of four or more lanes of traffic, whether or not divided by a median or barrier, in such manner as to require the passengers to cross more than two lanes of traffic; nor shall [he] the driver take on or discharge passengers while the vehicle is upon the road or highway proper unless the vehicle so stopped is plainly visible for at least three hundred feet in each direction to drivers of other vehicles upon the highway and then only for such time as is actually necessary to take on and discharge passengers.

4. The driver of a vehicle upon a highway with separate roadways need not stop upon meeting or overtaking a school bus which is on a different roadway, which is proceeding in the opposite direction on a highway containing four or more lanes of traffic, or which is stopped in a loading zone constituting a part of, or adjacent to, a limited or controlled access highway at a point where pedestrians are not permitted to cross the roadway.

5. The driver of any school bus driving upon the highways of this state after loading or unloading school children, should remain stopped if the bus is followed by three or more vehicles, until such vehicles have been permitted to pass the school bus, if the conditions prevailing make it safe to do so.

6. If any vehicle is witnessed by a peace officer or the driver of a school bus to have violated the provisions of this section and the identity of the operator is not otherwise apparent, it shall be a rebuttable presumption that the person in whose name such vehicle is registered committed the violation. Notwithstanding the provisions in section 301.130, RSMo, every school bus shall be required to have two license plates. In the event that charges are filed against multiple owners of a motor vehicle, only one of the owners may be convicted and court costs may be assessed against only one of the owners. If the vehicle which is involved in the violation is registered in the name of a rental or leasing company and the vehicle is rented or leased to another person at the time of the violation, the rental or leasing company may rebut the presumption by providing the peace officer or prosecuting authority with a copy of the rental or lease agreement in effect at the time of the violation. "302.309. 1. Whenever any license is suspended [under] pursuant to sections 302.302 to 302.309, the director of revenue shall return the license to the operator immediately upon the termination of the period of suspension and upon compliance with the requirements of chapter 303, RSMo.

2. Any operator whose license is revoked [under these] pursuant to sections 302.302 to 302.309, upon the termination of the period of revocation, shall apply for a new license in the manner prescribed by law.

3. [(1)] All circuit courts shall have jurisdiction to hear applications for hardship driving privileges, and such applications may be heard and determined by either circuit or associate circuit judges.

[(2)] 4. When any court of record having jurisdiction finds that an operator is required to operate a motor vehicle in connection with any of the following:

[(a)] (1) A business, occupation, or employment;

[(b)] (2) Seeking medical treatment for [himself] such operator;

[(c)] (3) Attending school or other institution of higher education;

[(d)] (4) Attending alcohol or drug treatment programs; or

[(e)] (5) Any other circumstance the court finds would create an undue hardship on the operator;

The court may grant such limited driving privilege as the circumstances of the case justify if the court finds undue hardship would result to the individual, and while so operating a motor vehicle within the restrictions and limitations of the court order the driver shall not be guilty of operating a motor vehicle without a valid license.

[(3)] 5. An operator may make application to the proper court in the county in which such operator resides or in the county in which is located [his] the operator's principal place of business or employment. Any application for a hardship driving privilege shall name the director as a party defendant and shall be served upon the director prior to the grant of any limited privileges, and shall be accompanied by a copy of the applicant's driving record as certified by the director. Any application by such operator for a hardship driving privilege shall also be accompanied by proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo. Any application by a person who transports persons or property as classified in section 302.015 may be accompanied by proof of financial responsibility as required by chapter 303, RSMo, but if proof of financial responsibility does not accompany the application, the court in its discretion may grant the hardship driving privilege to the person solely for the purpose of operating a vehicle whose owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle, and the court's order [must] shall state such restriction. When operating such vehicle under such restriction the person [must] shall carry proof that the owner has complied with chapter 303, RSMo, for that vehicle.

[(4)] 6. The court order granting the hardship driving privilege shall indicate the termination date of the order, which shall be not later than the end of the period of suspension or revocation. A copy of the order shall be sent by the clerk of the court to the director, and a copy shall be given to the driver which shall be carried by [him] such driver whenever [he] the driver operates a motor vehicle. A conviction which results in the assessment of points under the provisions of section 302.302, other than a violation of a municipal stop sign ordinance where no accident is involved, against a driver who is operating a vehicle under the authority of a court order terminates the order, and the court in which the conviction occurs shall immediately so notify the driver, the director and the court which granted the order.

[(5)] 7. Except as provided in [subdivision (6)] subsections 8 and 9 of this [subsection] section, no person is eligible to receive hardship driving privilege whose license has been suspended or revoked for the following reasons or who meets the following criteria:

[(a) Who has been convicted] (1) A conviction of violating the provisions of section 577.010 or 577.012, RSMo, or any similar provision of any federal, state, municipal or county law, where the judge in such case was an attorney and the defendant was represented by or waived the right to an attorney in writing, until the person has completed the first thirty days of a suspension or revocation imposed under this chapter;

[(b) Who has been convicted] (2) A conviction of any felony in the commission of which a0 motor vehicle was used;

[(c) Who at the time he applies for such hardship driving privilege would not be eligible] (3) Ineligibility for a license because of the provisions of subdivision (1), (2), (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10) or (11) of section 302.060;

[(e) Who at the time he applies for a hardship driving privilege has previously been granted such a privilege within the period of five years next preceding such application;

(f) Whose license has been revoked] (5) Due to a revocation for the first time for failure to submit to a chemical test pursuant to section 577.041, RSMo, or [for] due to a refusal to submit to a chemical test in any other state, [and who] if such person has not completed the first ninety days of such revocation;

[(g) (f) Who has violated] (6) A violation more than once of the provisions of section 577.041, RSMo, or a similar implied consent law of any other state;

[(h) Who has had his] (7) Disqualification of a commercial driver's license [disqualified] under sections 302.700 to 302.780[.]; however, nothing in this subsection shall prevent a person holding a commercial driver's license who is suspended or revoked as a result of an action occurring while not driving a commercial motor vehicle or driving for pay, but while driving in an individual capacity as an operator of a personal vehicle from applying for hardship driving privileges to operate a commercial vehicle, if otherwise eligible for such hardship privilege; or

[(6) (a)] 8. A circuit court may, in the manner prescribed in this subsection, allow a person who has had [his] such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of ten years, as prescribed in subdivision (9) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges under this subsection if such person has served at least three years of such disqualification or revocation. Such [a] person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding three years and that [his] such person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state[;].

[(b)] 9. A circuit court may, in the manner prescribed in [this subsection] subsections 3 to 9 of this section, allow a person who has had [his] such person's license to operate a motor vehicle revoked where that person cannot obtain a new license for a period of five years, as prescribed in subdivision (10) of section 302.060, to apply for limited driving privileges under this subsection if such person has served at least two years of such disqualification or revocation. Such [a] person shall present evidence satisfactory to the court that such person has not been convicted of any offense related to alcohol, controlled substances or drugs during the preceding two years and that [his] such person's habits and conduct show that the person no longer poses a threat to the public safety of this state. Any person who is denied a license permanently in this state because of an alcohol-related conviction subsequent to a restoration of [his] driving privileges under subdivision (9) of section 302.060 shall not be eligible for limited driving privileges [under the provisions of this subdivision] pursuant to the provisions of subsection 8 or 9 of this section.".

House Amendment No. 1

AMEND House Substitute for House Committee Substitute for House Bills Nos. 1169 & 1271, Page 40, Section 302.530, Line 3, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"302.535. 1. Any person aggrieved by a decision of the department may file a petition for trial de novo by the circuit court. The burden of proof shall be on the state to adduce the evidence. Such trial shall be conducted pursuant to the Missouri rules of civil procedure and not as an appeal of an administrative decision pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo. The petition shall be filed in the circuit court of the county where the arrest occurred. The case shall be decided by the judge sitting without a jury. The presiding judge of the circuit court may assign a traffic judge, pursuant to 479.500, RSMo 1994, a circuit judge or an associate circuit judge to hear such petition.

2. The filing of a petition for trial de novo shall not result in a stay of the suspension or revocation order. But upon the filing of such petition, a restricted driving privilege for the limited purpose of driving in connection with the petitioner's business, occupation, employment, or formal program of secondary, postsecondary or higher education shall be issued by the department if the person's driving record shows no prior alcohol related enforcement contact during the immediately preceding five years. Such limited driving privilege shall terminate on the date of the disposition of the petition for trial de novo.

3. In addition to the limited driving privilege as permitted in subsection 2 of this section, the department may upon the filing of a petition for trial de novo issue a restricted driving privilege for the limited purpose of driving in connection with the petitioner's business, occupation, employment, or formal program of secondary, postsecondary or higher education. In determining whether to issue such a restrictive driving privilege, the department shall consider the number and the seriousness of prior convictions and the entire driving record of the driver.

4. Such time of restricted driving privilege pending disposition of trial de novo shall be counted toward any time of restricted driving privilege imposed pursuant to section 302.525. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to prevent a person from maintaining his restricted driving privilege for an additional sixty days in order to meet the conditions imposed by section 302.540 for reinstating a person's driver's license.";

And further amend said bill, Page 42, Section 312.407, Line 12, by inserting immediately after said line the following:

"479.500. 1. In the twenty-first judicial circuit, a majority of the circuit judges, en banc, may establish a traffic court, which shall be a division of the circuit court, and may authorize the appointment of not more than three municipal judges who shall be known as traffic judges. The traffic judges shall be appointed by a traffic court judicial commission consisting of the presiding judge of the circuit, who shall be the chair, one circuit judge elected by the circuit judges, one associate circuit judge elected by the associate circuit judges of the circuit, and two members appointed by the county executive of St. Louis County, each of whom shall represent one of the two political parties casting the highest number of votes at the next preceding gubernatorial election. The procedures and operations of the traffic court judicial commission shall be established by circuit court rule.

2. Traffic judges may be authorized to act as commissioners to hear in the first instance nonfelony violations of state law involving motor vehicles, and such other offenses as may be provided by circuit court rule. Traffic judges may also be authorized to hear in the first instance violations of county and municipal ordinances involving motor vehicles, and other county ordinance violations, as provided by circuit court rule.

[2.] 3. In the event that a county municipal court is established pursuant to section 66.010, RSMo, which takes jurisdiction of county ordinance violations the circuit court may then authorize the appointment of no more than one traffic judge authorized to hear municipal ordinance violations other than county ordinance violations, and to act as commissioner to hear in the first instance nonfelony violations of state law involving motor vehicles, and such other offenses as may be provided by rule. These traffic court judges also may be authorized to act as commissioners to hear in the first instance petitions to review decisions of the department of revenue or the director of revenue filed pursuant to sections 302.309, 302.311, 302.535 and 302.750, RSMo.

[3.] 4. In establishing a traffic court, the circuit may be divided into such sectors as may be established by a majority of the circuit and associate circuit judges, en banc. The traffic court in each sector shall hear those cases arising within the territorial limits of the sector unless a case arising within another sector is transferred as provided by operating procedures.

[4.] 5. Traffic judges shall be licensed to practice law in this state and shall serve at the pleasure of a majority of the circuit judges, en banc, and shall be residents of St. Louis County, and shall receive from the state as annual compensation an amount equal to one-third of the annual compensation of an associate circuit judge. Each judge shall devote approximately one-third of his working time to the performance of his duties as a traffic judge. Traffic judges shall not accept or handle cases in their practice of law which are inconsistent with their duties as a traffic judge and shall not be a judge or prosecutor for any other court. Traffic judges shall not be considered state employees and shall not be members of the state employees' or judicial retirement system or be eligible to receive any other employment benefit accorded state employees or judges.

[5.] 6. A majority of the judges, en banc, shall establish operating procedures for the traffic court which shall provide for regular sessions in the evenings after 6:00 p.m. and for Saturday or other sessions as efficient operation and convenience to the public may require. Proceedings in the traffic court, except when a judge is acting as a commissioner pursuant to this section, shall be conducted as provided in supreme court rule 37. The hearing shall be before a traffic judge without jury, and the judge shall assume an affirmative duty to determine the merits of the evidence presented and the defenses of the defendant and may question parties and witnesses. No term of imprisonment or confinement may be assessed by a traffic judge. In the event a jury trial is requested, the cause shall be certified to the circuit court for trial by jury as otherwise provided by law. Clerks and computer personnel shall be assigned as needed for the efficient operation of the court.

[6.] 7. In establishing operating procedure, provisions shall be made for appropriate circumstances whereby defendants may enter not guilty pleas and obtain trial dates by telephone or written communication without personal appearance, or to plead guilty and deliver by mail or electronic transfer or other approved method the specified amount of the fine and costs as otherwise provided by law, within a specified period of time.

[7.] 8. Operating procedures shall be provided for electronic recording of proceedings, except that if adequate recording equipment is not provided at county expense, then, in that event, a person aggrieved by a judgment of a traffic judge or commissioner shall have the right of a trial de novo. The procedures for perfecting the right of a trial de novo shall be the same as that provided under sections 512.180 to 512.320, RSMo, except that the provisions of subsection 2 of section 512.180, RSMo, shall not apply to such cases.

[8. On August 28, 1992, the]9. The circuit court shall only have the authority to appoint one commissioner with the jurisdiction provided in subsection [2]3 of this section. [Six months after August 28, 1992, in the event that the county has not established a county municipal court which has taken jurisdiction of county ordinance violations, the circuit court shall then have the authority to appoint the additional traffic judges with jurisdiction over county ordinance violations as provided in this section.]

[9.] 10. All costs to establish and operate a county municipal court under section 66.010, RSMo, and this section shall be borne by such county.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-THIRD DAY, Wednesday, March 20, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"Again I saw that under the sun the race is not to the swift, nor the battle to the strong, nor bread to the wise nor riches to the intelligent, nor favor to the skillful; but time and chance happen to them all." (Ecclesiastes 9:11, NRSV)

The time is getting closer each day, O God of eternity, when the business of this House will conclude, and we are conscious of needing to get so much done. Help us discern the important issues and deal with them with careful deliberation. Help us discern those issues which are simpler and less important, and dispatch those with expediency, remembering in both cases the affect that our decisions will have on us and on those whom we serve.

In this prayer today we ask you to be with each member of this body, its officers; men and women who feel the weight of responsibility and the need for your guidance; men and women who often are tempted and who need the support of your grace. Grant to them the courage to do the right as you have given them to see right, and to help make it clear to the rest of us. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Sarah Jackson, Stephanie Richter, Rachel Richter, Lydia Richter, Kayla Hatch, Jessie Felzien, Robert L. Becker, Elizabeth Hornbeck, Tom Schwartz, Jeff Talleur, Katie Vescovo, Dana Gilmore, Chad Kelly, Alicia Boyd, Cornelius Weaver and Taneka Jordon.

The Journal of the forty-second day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-FOURTH DAY, Thursday, March 21, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

"To everything there is a season, and a time for every matter under heaven..." (Ecclesiastes 3:1, RSV)

On this first day of spring, O Lord of all that is, we are aware of the changing of the seasons. It's in the warming of the air, it's in the small buds poking through, it's in the robins hopping across the still-brown lawns. And it's in our nature to feel the stirring of new life as it promises to burst forth in the birth of this season. In this House new ideas and new challenges are brought before us. Guide as we give consideration to the new. Strengthen us as we must deal with those things that have lost their newness. As the closing days grow closer, give us energy and encouragement to complete what we began.

And now we ask your protection, O God, on those who must travel; we ask your comforting hand on those families with special needs; we ask your guidance as we work our way through the things we must deal with on this day. Give these representatives and employees of this body a weekend of deserved rest and return them safely to continue another day. And thank you, God, for spring. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Haley Briggs, Lyla Freshwater, Freddie Frenny, Crystal McClone, Sharif Musaji, Clifford Heeley, Rachel Gehner, Jarrod E. Grebing, James Spring, Benjamin Spring, Jack Fields and Mary Theda Owens.

The Journal of the forty-third day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-FIFTH DAY, Monday, March 25, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"I will give over to him your authority... he shall be a father to (the city)." (Is. 22:21).

Once again we begin with a surprise from Mother Nature, a January-style winter day instead of a spring one. We remember those whose lives are most disrupted by this kind of day.

Soon (when spring weather comes and stays!), we will be seeing more of the phenomenon which is always present in this building, the presence of many ordinary citizens coming in person to meet you, their representatives and senators and the Governor.

This afternoon, we thank you, gracious God, that the direct personal meeting between those who govern and their employers, the citizens, has not been replaced by faxes, photo ops. for the evening news at airports and one line quotes from floor speeches on the radio networks. We regret that more people do not take an interest and do not vote. We pray for our constituents and for the citizenry in general, that they will care enough to make their voices heard and their faces known to us. Continue to pour out a spirit of wisdom and caring on them and a listening spirit on the legislative and executive branches in all that we do. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Danielle Fallon, Ingrid Gabbert, Camille Ehlers, Mathew Perkins, Jesse Perkins, Emily Perkins and Micheal Jones.

The Journal of the forty-fourth day was approved as corrected.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-SIXTH DAY, Tuesday, March 26, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Write down all that you see of present happenings and things that are still to come." (Revelation 1:19)

Last evening at the Academy Awards we got our annual chance to see what we liked at the movies and to see one major reflection of our national life and the issues we deal with. The struggle for freedom among people which was represented by "Braveheart" is with us against imperialism and colonialism and enslavement and ethnic dominance; alcoholism, prostitution and other crimes were represented by "Leaving Las Vegas", "Mighty Aphrodite" and the "Usual Suspects". The film "Dead Man Walking" is helping a national soul-searching on the death penalty. "Anne Frank Remembered" helps us see horrific tragedy in a manageable look through one young girl's eyes. And if all this serious tragedy and suffering overwhelm us, a pig and two toys lighten life for us in "Babe" and the "Toy Story".

We ask today, God of creativity and imagination and challenge, for the ability to see to what extent our art does imitate life and how films can make us think about issues. We also remember our own support staff here, and we include our own families, not actors playing a part, but truly human live people writing a script of love and of concern with their lives, in the real world where the outtakes and the scenes that went badly are part of the story and cannot so easily get thrown on the cutting room floor. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Inoke Rogoyawa, Stephanie Fordyce, Joshua Wakim, Anitra Lewis, Brooke Anderson, Cale Hoffman, Ananda Kincaid, Tim Krueger, Maurine Pfuhl, Daniel Pihlstrom, Adam Treece, Ryann Haeberle, Franci Culbertson, Jennifer Hyres, Blake Hicks, Daniel Olson, Elizabeth Ramey, Sera Hayes, Rayme Hooten, Joshua Speeler, Samuel Toole, Douglas Turner, Patrick Disbennett, Meghan McGrath, Michael Rathbone, Laura Murry, Mindy Sims, Sara Beth McCormick, Sarah Pore, Erin Elizabeth Gillick, Julie Lee Hurst, Tammy Erwin and Amy McLerran.

The Journal of the forty-fifth day was approved as corrected.

Section A. Section 226.550, RSMo 1994, is repealed and one new section enacted in lieu thereof, to be known as section 226.550, to read as follows:

226.550. 1. No outdoor advertising which is regulated by subdivision (1), (3) or (4) of section 226.520 or subsection 1 of section 226.527 shall be erected or maintained on or after August 28, 1992, without a one-time permanent permit issued by the state highways and transportation commission. Application for permits shall be made to the state highways and transportation commission on forms furnished by the commission and shall be accompanied by a permit fee of twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents[,]; except that, tax exempt religious organizations and fraternal organizations, service organizations and veterans' organizations as defined in subdivision (8) of section 313.005 RSMo, shall be granted a permit for signs less than seventy-six square feet without payment of the fee.

2. No outdoor advertising which is regulated by subdivision (1), (3) or (4) of section 226.520 or subsection 1 of section 226.527 which was erected prior to August 28, 1992, shall be maintained without a one-time permanent permit for outdoor advertising issued by the state highways and transportation commission. If a one-time permanent permit was issued by the state highways and transportation commission after March 30, 1972, and before August 28, 1992, it is not necessary for a new permit to be issued. If a one-time permanent permit was not issued for a lawfully erected and lawfully existing sign by the state highways and transportation commission after March 30, 1972, and before August 28, 1992, a one-time permanent permit shall be issued by the commission for each sign which is lawfully in existence on the day prior to August 28, 1992, upon application and payment of a permit fee of twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents. All applications and fees due pursuant to this subsection shall be submitted before December 31, 1992.

3. For purposes of sections 226.500 to 226.600, the terminology "structure lawfully in existence" or "lawfully existing" sign or outdoor advertising shall, nevertheless, include the following signs unless the signs violate the provisions of subdivisions (3) to (7) of subsection 1 of section 226.580:

(1) All signs erected prior to January 1, 1968;

(2) All signs erected before March 30, 1972, but on or after January 1, 1968, which would otherwise be lawful but for the failure to have a permit for such signs prior to March 30, 1972, except that any sign or structure which was not in compliance with sizing, spacing, lighting, or location requirements of sections 226.500 to 226.600 as the sections appeared in the revised statutes of Missouri 1969, wheresoever located, shall not be considered a lawfully existing sign or structure;

(3) All signs erected after March 30, 1972, which are in conformity with sections 226.500 to 226.600.

4. On or after August 28, 1992, the state highways and transportation commission may, in addition to the fees authorized by subsections 1 and 2 of this section, collect a biennial inspection fee every two years after a state permit has been issued. Biennial inspection fees due after August 28, 1992, shall be twenty-eight dollars and fifty cents; except that, tax exempt religious organizations, fraternal organizations, service organizations and veterans organizations as defined in subsection (8) of section 313.005, RSMo, shall not be required to pay such a fee.

5. In order to effect collection from a sign owner of delinquent and unpaid biennial inspection fees which are payable pursuant to this section, or delinquent removal costs pursuant to section 226.580, the state highways and transportation commission may require any delinquent fees to be paid before a permit is issued to the delinquent sign owner for any new sign.

6. Sign owners or owners of the land on which signs are located must apply to the state highways and transportation commission for biennial inspection and submit any fees as required by this section on or before December 31, 1992. For a permitted sign which does not have a permit, a permit shall be issued at the time of the next biennial inspection.

7. The state highways and transportation commission shall deposit all fees received for outdoor advertising permits and inspection fees in the state road fund, keeping a separate record of such fees, and the same may be expended by the commission in the administration of sections 226.500 to 226.600.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-SEVENTH DAY, Wednesday, March 27, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Eternal Source of Peace, in a world where there is so little peace, let us pledge ourselves each day to spend the hours we've been given in making this world a better and safer place for all your people. You know our nature and you read our deepest, most secret thoughts. We can hide nothing from you. Help us use wisdom and common sense in making decisions that can be life and death matters.

In these days of election concerns and shifting priorities, we pray that you will be a presence in the lives of those seeking office that they might seek your direction in all that they do. Give us the courage to look beyond party and politics and seek good character and high values in those we place in positions of leadership.

And now, O God of all Compassion, watch over us this day; provide guidance and comfort where needed; and refresh us to continue in our chosen paths. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Michelle Brungardt, Maureen Walterbach, Beth Kunze, Steve Ketcham, Tom Race, Sean Harris, Stephanie Harris, Carl Baker, Heather Woolf, Rachael Plaggenberg, Kenneth Duren, Inoke Rogoyawa, Stephanie Fordyce, Joshua Wakim, Anitra Lewis, Danielle Bills, Tylisha Anthony, Danielle Brewer and Catherine Kopf.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-EIGHTH DAY, Thursday, March 28, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"It is the Passover of the Lord." (Ex. 12:11)

On Sunday the Christian world will celebrate the beginning of Holy Week and the Jewish world will begin Passover on Wednesday at sunset.

We pray, Eternal author of freedom, for our own personal "passover" from slavery to new life, from death-dealing conduct to life-giving activity. May we cease to rationalize sin and violence against humans, against the earth and its resources so that we can enter into our own Promised Land and help create a place of Shalom/Peace which is given to us as a gift from you, our God, who wants us to live in freedom under your law. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Drew G. Phillips, Megan Stuesse, Brad Sadle, Jon Yochum, Jackie Suellentrop, Jessica Kerns, Jacqueline Kerns, Shanda Warden, Samantha (Reynolds) Nicholas, Luke Wood, Laura Pearcy, Abby Kropp and Naomi Evers.

The Journal of the forty-seventh day was approved as corrected.

House Resolution No. 347

Whereas, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives proudly join in supporting a worthwhile initiative to pay tribute to a brave group of Missouri fighting men whose valiant and heroic deeds have earned them a special place in history; and

Whereas, during the historic Battle of the Alamo in San Antonio, Texas, the most widely- recognized and time-honored event of the war between the United States and Mexico, five Missouri volunteers laid down their lives for the cause of securing independence and statehood for Texas; and

Whereas, few fighting men in history possessed the bravery and determination of these five dedicated volunteers, who were Captain William Charles M. Baker, George D. Butler, Charles Henry Clark, Jerry C. Day, and George W. Tumlinson; and

Whereas, other brave fighting men at the Alamo who had Missouri connections included Jacob Darst, who had moved from Missouri to Gonzales, Texas, and who touched off what is now considered to be the first shot of the Texas Revolution; George Washington Cottle, a member of one of Missouri's pioneering families who moved to Texas and settled in Gonzales; Daniel William Cloud, a would-be St. Louis lawyer who had come to Texas and enlisted with the Texas Volunteers; Gordon Jennings, a private in the Texas Militia; and John Smith, the first mayor of San Antonio who became the last man to leave the Alamo alive when he slipped through the fortress walls carrying a plea for help on behalf of the men inside; and

Whereas, the state of Missouri has figured prominently in the history of the state of Texas through the efforts of many Missouri-born settlers, soldiers, and leaders, including Moses Austin and his son, Stephen Austin, who was known as "The Father of Texas"; and

Whereas, Glen Whitener of Whitener Monuments, Inc, in Kennett, Missouri, and the Monument Builders of Missouri, are currently undertaking a project to erect a suitable memorial for the Missouri patriots who fought and died at the Alamo:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-eighth General Assembly, hereby wholeheartedly support the efforts of Glen Whitener and the Monument Builders of Missouri in their efforts to make a lasting memorial recognizing the role of Missourians in the fight for Texas independence, and respectfully request the Texas legislature and the Texas State Historical Society to join in supporting this most admirable project.

Committee on Urban Affairs, Chairman Thompson (37) reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Urban Affairs, to which was referred HCR 5, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 5

WHEREAS, the South African government is now a Government of National Unity after its first- ever free and fair elections, which have strengthened the global ideal of racial equality and democracy; and

WHEREAS, the South African government is now able to participate in global trade areas which include joint ventures, technology exchanges, and investment, and seeks partnerships in the areas of peace, democracy, and economic growth with the United States; and

WHEREAS, Missouri leadership and economic exchange is a vital link to the success of any such partnerships established between South Africa and the United States; and

WHEREAS, five female members of the New South African Parliament, Ms. Joyce Lesoana Kgoali, Ms. Lydia Kompe, Ms. Motlatji Ane Letsebe, Ms. Beatrice Marshoff, and Ms. Sibongile Elizabeth Mthembu, visited the Missouri House of Representatives in January, 1995, as part of a project entitled The U.S. Political Process, Constituency Relations: Ensuring the Accountability of Elected Representatives; and

WHEREAS, these five dignitaries from South Africa enjoyed a highly successful and productive visit to Missouri with the assistance of their U.S. Escort, Ms. Mary Beth Braun, and the leadership provided by Missouri Representatives Paula J. Carter, Sue Shear, Mary Bland, Rita Days, and Sheila Lumpe; and

WHEREAS, thirty percent of the parliamentarians in the new South African government are women, while only twenty percent of the legislators in Missouri's General Assembly are women, a fact which suggests that Missouri has lessons to learn from South Africa in our mutual efforts to achieve a just society; and

WHEREAS, the State of Missouri has unique ties to South Africa that have come by way of its educational facilities and teacher exchange programs; and

WHEREAS, South African interest in developing economic ties to the United States was clearly evident in 1993, when various business entities participated in a Made in USA Exhibition in Johannesburg; and

WHEREAS, South African government leaders have invited members of the Missouri Legislative Black Caucus to the country for insight into the needs and opportunities that exist there; and

WHEREAS, Missouri state employees visited Johannesburg and Capetown in South Africa to develop trade relations in 1993; and

WHEREAS, South Africa serves as the primary catalyst toward promoting trade with the remainder of the African continent; and

WHEREAS, Missouri legislators and business leaders can be at the forefront of the development of the "new South Africa":

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the Missouri House of Representatives of the Eighty-eighth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, that there be hereby created a new bipartisan "Commission on Investment Opportunities and Trade Relationships Between South Africa and Missouri" to implement the Commission Recommendations generated from the Report of the Joint Commission of Investment Opportunities and Trade Relations Between South Africa and Missouri delivered in April, 1995; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri Department of Economic Development be requested to provide representatives for consideration as appointed members of the commission and provide assistance in formulating plans of action for the Commission with a specific focus on raising the levels of imports and exports; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the commission be allowed to obtain any technical, clerical, or secretarial services it deems necessary from the Committee on Legislative Research, and further be allowed to call upon the Senate Research staff, the House Research staff, and any other persons and organizations with appropriate knowledge and expertise; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the members of the commission be reimbursed for the actual and necessary expenses incurred in the performance of their official duties from the House Contingency Fund.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Urban Affairs, to which was referred HB 1525, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that the House Committee Substitute Do Pass.

Committee on Workers Compensation and Employment Security, Chairman O'Neill reporting:

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Workers Compensation and Employment Security, to which was referred HB 1461, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Not Pass.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FORTY-NINTH DAY, Monday, April 1, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"Has not God turned the wisdom of this world into foolishness?" (1 Cor. 1:20)

Our popular culture celebrates April Fool's Day today. Paul the Apostle tells us to be fools for the sake of (the faith). All of us must take a stand, God of Wisdom, from time to time for the right and the true and the just which makes us look foolish to those who do not understand that higher wisdom. Then there are times when we do something that is foolish by common sense standards and we need the higher wisdom for a correction in the course we have taken. We appreciate wise mentors who help us in those times. Today we make a special mention of family members who concern us, especially those who have strayed from the path of wisdom, or the teenagers who may be testing every ounce of our own tolerance and keep us wondering if they will ever get wisdom. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: John Behrens, Jim Bono, Erica Chaney, Ann Malone, Michaela O'Leary Meckel and Hilary O'Leary Meckel.

The Journal of the forty-eighth day was approved as corrected.

Further amend said bill, Page 2, Section 288.036, Line 16, by inserting after all of said line the following:

"288.040. 1. A claimant who is unemployed and has been determined to be an insured worker shall be eligible for benefits for any week only if the deputy finds that:

(1) He has registered for work at and thereafter has continued to report at an employment office in accordance with such regulations as the division may prescribe;

(2) He is able to work and is available for work. No person shall be deemed available for work unless he has been and is actively and earnestly seeking work. Upon the filing of an initial or renewed claim, and prior to the filing of each weekly claim thereafter, the deputy shall notify each claimant of the number of work search contacts required to constitute an active search for work. No person shall be considered not available for work, under this subdivision, solely because he is a substitute teacher or is on jury duty. A claimant shall not be determined to be ineligible under this subdivision because of not actively and earnestly seeking work if:

(a) The claimant is participating in training approved under section 236 of the Trade Act of 1974, as amended, (19 U.S.C.A. Sec. 2296, as amended); or

(b) The claimant is temporarily unemployed through no fault of his own and has a definite recall date within eight weeks of his first day of unemployment; however, upon application of the employer responsible for the claimant's unemployment, such eight-week period may be extended at the discretion of the director;

(3) He has reported in person to an office of the division as directed by the deputy, but at least once every four weeks, except that a claimant shall be exempted from the reporting requirement of this subdivision if:

(a) The claimant is claiming benefits in accordance with division regulations dealing with partial or temporary total unemployment; or

(b) The claimant is temporarily unemployed through no fault of his own and has a definite recall date within eight weeks of his first day of unemployment; or

(c) The claimant resides in a county with an unemployment rate, as published by the division, of ten percent or more and in which the county seat is more than forty miles from the nearest division office;

Ineligibility under this subdivision shall begin on the first day of the week which the claimant was scheduled to claim and shall end on the last day of the week preceding the week during which the claimant does report in person to the division's office;

(4) Prior to the first week of a period of total or partial unemployment for which he claims benefits he has been totally or partially unemployed for a waiting period of one week. No more than one waiting week will be required in any benefit year. The one-week waiting period shall become compensable after unemployment during which benefits are payable for nine consecutive weeks. No week shall be counted as a week of total or partial unemployment for the purposes of this subsection unless it occurs within the benefit year which includes the week with respect to which he claims benefits;

(5) He has made a claim for benefits;

(6) The claimant is participating in reemployment services, such as job search assistance services, as directed by the deputy if the claimant has been determined to be likely to exhaust regular benefits and to need reemployment services pursuant to a profiling system established by the division, unless the deputy determines that:

(a) The individual has completed such reemployment services; or

(b) There is justifiable cause for the claimant's failure to participate in such reemployment services.

2. A claimant shall be ineligible for waiting week credit or benefits for any week for which the deputy finds he is or has been suspended by his most recent employer for misconduct connected with his work.

3. (1) Benefits based on "service in employment", defined in subsections 7 and 8 of section 288.034, shall be payable in the same amount, on the same terms and subject to the same conditions as compensation payable on the basis of other service subject to this law; except that:

(a) With respect to service performed in an instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity for an educational institution, benefits shall not be paid based on such services for any week of unemployment commencing during the period between two successive academic years or terms, or during a similar period between two regular but not successive terms, or during a period of paid sabbatical leave provided for in the individual's contract, to any individual if such individual performs such services in the first of such academic years (or terms) and if there is a contract or a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform services in any such capacity for any educational institution in the second of such academic years or terms;

(b) With respect to services performed in any capacity (other than instructional, research, or principal administrative capacity) for an educational institution, benefits shall not be paid on the basis of such services to any individual for any week which commences during a period between two successive academic years or terms if such individual performs such services in the first of such academic years or terms and there is a contract or a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the second of such academic years or terms;

(c) With respect to services described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, benefits shall not be paid on the basis of such services to any individual for any week which commences during an established and customary vacation period or holiday recess if such individual performed such services in the period immediately before such vacation period or holiday recess, and there is reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services immediately following such vacation period or holiday recess;

(d) With respect to services described in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this subdivision, benefits payable on the basis of services in any such capacity shall be denied as specified in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this subdivision, to any individual who performed such services at an educational institution while in the employ of an educational service agency, and for this purpose the term "educational service agency" means a governmental agency or governmental entity which is established and operated exclusively for the purpose of providing such services to one or more educational institutions.

(2) If compensation is denied for any week under paragraph (b) or (d) of subdivision (1) of this subsection, to any individual performing services at an educational institution in any capacity (other than instructional, research or principal administrative capacity), and such individual was not offered an opportunity to perform such services for the second of such academic years or terms, such individual shall be entitled to a retroactive payment of the compensation for each week for which the individual filed a timely claim for compensation and for which compensation was denied solely by reason of paragraph (b) or (d) of subdivision (1) of this subsection.

4. (1) A claimant shall be ineligible for waiting week credit, benefits or shared work benefits for any week for which he is receiving or has received remuneration exceeding his weekly benefit amount or shared work benefit amount in the form of:

(a) Compensation for temporary partial disability under the workers' compensation law of any state or under a similar law of the United States;

(b) A governmental or other pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity, or other similar periodic payment which is based on the previous work of such claimant to the extent that such payment is provided from funds provided by a base period or chargeable employer under a plan maintained or contributed to by such employer; but, except for such payments made under the Social Security Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974 (or the corresponding provisions of prior law), the provisions of this paragraph shall not apply if the services performed for such employer by the claimant after the beginning of the base period (or remuneration for such services) do not affect eligibility for or increase the amount of such pension, retirement or retired pay, annuity or similar payment[.];

(c) Wages in lieu of notice, terminal leave pay, severance pay, separation pay or dismissal payments, regardless of whether the remuneration is voluntary or required by policy or contract. Lump sum payments and periodic payments shall be prorated by weeks on the basis of the most recent weekly wage of the individual for a standard work week.

(2) If the remuneration referred to in this subsection is less than the benefits which would otherwise be due, he shall be entitled to receive for such week, if otherwise eligible, benefits reduced by the amount of such remuneration, and, if such benefit is not a multiple of one dollar, such amount shall be lowered to the next multiple of one dollar.

(3) Notwithstanding the provisions of subdivisions (1) and (2) of this subsection, if a claimant has contributed in any way to the Social Security Act or the Railroad Retirement Act of 1974, or the corresponding provisions of prior law, no part of the payments received under such federal law shall be deductible from the amount of benefits received under this chapter.

5. A claimant shall be ineligible for waiting week credit or benefits for any week for which or a part of which he has received or is seeking unemployment benefits under an unemployment insurance law of another state or the United States; provided, that if it be finally determined that he is not entitled to such unemployment benefits, such ineligibility shall not apply.

6. (1) A claimant shall be ineligible for waiting week credit or benefits for any week for which the deputy finds that his total or partial unemployment is due to a stoppage of work which exists because of a labor dispute in the factory, establishment or other premises in which he is or was last employed. In the event he secures other employment from which he is separated during the existence of the labor dispute, he must have obtained bona fide employment as a permanent employee for at least the major part of each of two weeks in such subsequent employment to terminate his ineligibility. If, in any case, separate branches of work which are commonly conducted as separate businesses at separate premises are conducted in separate departments of the same premises, each such department shall for the purposes of this subsection be deemed to be a separate factory, establishment or other premises. This subsection shall not apply if it is shown to the satisfaction of the deputy that:

(a) He is not participating in or financing or directly interested in the labor dispute which caused the stoppage of work; and

(b) He does not belong to a grade or class of workers of which, immediately preceding the commencement of the stoppage, there were members employed at the premises at which the stoppage occurs, any of whom are participating in or financing or directly interested in the dispute.

(2) "Stoppage of work" as used in this subsection means a substantial diminution of the activities, production or services at the establishment, plant, factory or premises of the employing unit.

7. On or after January 1, 1978, benefits shall not be paid to any individual on the basis of any services, substantially all of which consist of participating in sports or athletic events or training or preparing to so participate, for any week which commences during the period between two successive sport seasons (or similar periods) if such individual performed such services in the first of such seasons (or similar periods) and there is a reasonable assurance that such individual will perform such services in the later of such seasons (or similar periods).

8. Benefits shall not be payable on the basis of services performed by an alien, unless such alien is an individual who was lawfully admitted for permanent residence at the time such services were performed, was lawfully present for purposes of performing such services, or was permanently residing in the United States under color of law at the time such services were performed (including an alien who was lawfully present in the United States as a result of the application of the provisions of section 212(d)(5) of the Immigration and Nationality Act).

(1) Any data or information required of individuals applying for benefits to determine whether benefits are not payable to them because of their alien status shall be uniformly required from all applicants for benefits.

(2) In the case of an individual whose application for benefits would otherwise be approved, no determination that benefits to such individual are not payable because of his alien status shall be made except upon a preponderance of the evidence.".

Representative Burton offered House Amendment No. 3.

"173.250. 1. There is hereby established a "Higher Education Academic Scholarship Program" and any moneys appropriated by the general assembly for this program shall be used to provide scholarships for Missouri citizens to attend a Missouri college or university of their choice pursuant to the provisions of this section.

2. The definitions of terms set forth in section 173.205 shall be applicable to such terms as used in this section. (3) Select qualified recipients to receive academic scholarships, make such awards of academic scholarships to qualified recipients and determine the manner and method of payment to the recipient.

4. A student shall be eligible for initial or renewed academic scholarship if he or she is in compliance with the eligibility requirements set forth in section 173.215 excluding the requirement of financial need and undergraduate status and excluding the provisions of subdivision (6) of subsection 1 of section 173.215, and in addition meets the following requirements:

In the freshman year of college, scholarship recipients are required to maintain status as a full-time student;

(2) Academic scholarships are renewable if the recipient remains in compliance with the applicable provisions of section 173.215 and the recipient makes satisfactory academic degree progress as a full-time student.

5. A student who is enrolled or has been accepted for enrollment as a postsecondary student at an approved private or public institution beginning with the fall, 1987, term and who meets the other eligibility requirements for an academic scholarship shall, within the limits of the funds appropriated and made available, be offered an academic scholarship in the amount of two thousand dollars for the first academic year of study, which scholarship shall be renewable in the amount of two thousand dollars annually for the second, third and fourth academic years or as long as the recipient is in compliance with the applicable eligibility requirements set forth in section 173.215 except as provided in this section, provided those years of study are continuous and the student continues to meet eligibility requirements for the scholarship; provided, however, if a recipient ceases all attendance at an approved public or private institution for the purpose of providing service to a nonprofit organization, a state or federal government agency or any branch of the armed forces of the United States, the recipient shall be eligible for a renewal scholarship upon return to any approved public or private institution, provided the recipient:

(3) Meets all other requirements established for eligibility to receive a renewal scholarship.

6. A recipient of academic scholarship awarded under this section may transfer from one approved Missouri public or private institution to another without losing eligibility for the scholarship. If a recipient of the scholarship at any time withdraws from an approved private or public institution so that under the rules and regulations of that institution he or she is entitled to a refund of any tuition, fees or other charges, the institution shall pay the portion of the refund attributable to the scholarship for that term to the coordinating board for higher education.

7. Other provisions of this section to the contrary notwithstanding, if a recipient has been awarded an initial academic scholarship pursuant to the provisions of this section but is unable to use the scholarship during the first academic year because of illness, disability, pregnancy or other medical need or if a recipient ceases all attendance at an approved public or private institution because of illness, disability, pregnancy or other medical need, the recipient shall be eligible for an initial or renewal scholarship upon enrollment in or return to any approved public or private institution, provided the recipient:

(1) Enrolls in or returns to full-time status within twenty-seven months;

(2) Provides verification in compliance with coordinating board for higher education rules of sufficient medical evidence documenting an illness, disability, pregnancy or other medical need of such person to require that that person will not be able to use the initial or renewal scholarship during the time period for which it was originally offered; and

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTIETH DAY, Tuesday, April 2, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Father Hugh Behan.

"I delight in the law of God." (Rom. 7:22).

Today we go to the polls. We pray for the health of democracy and for the cure of the growing disease of those who are dissenting from the norms of the Republic and who are selectively editing the Bible, the Constitution and the Bill of Rights to create a sectarian and racist society and threaten the rule of law by taking it into their own hands with guns and their version of morality against legitimate law enforcement officials.

We acknowledge gracious God, that we ourselves in positions of authority sometimes contribute to this atmosphere by playing games and manipulating the system and undermining the rule of law by not being fair, just and consistent in how the law is applied with liberty and justice for all. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Kim Kestler, Sarah Kimmel, Kim Gleich, Christina Woodsin, Stephanie Clubb, Amy Schroeder, Meredith Larson, Stephanie Majkowski, Patrick O'Brien, Lauren Stahlhuth, Adam Eldin, Benjamin Young, William Young, Alex Anderson, Molly Anderson, Sarah Moore and Hanna Coller.

The Journal of the forty-ninth day was approved as corrected.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTY-FIRST DAY, Wednesday, April 3, 1996

Speaker Pro Tem Daniels in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

In this week called Holy by many, Redeeming God, help us remember your place in our lives -- in whatever form you come to us. Remind us of your Spirit's presence and let that Spirit touch every part of our lives with your power. May your Spirit be in our minds, that we might be eager to learn and adventurous to think new thoughts and ideas. Let us never stray from the path of truth, justice, and integrity.

Most of all, Lord, in the midst of news of police brutality, terrorist bombings, continued threats of violence, angry citizen rebellions -- let us remember those who are constructively working to better this land -- those whose advocacy has brought needed attention to abused and neglected children, to the plight of homeless and hungry people, to the needs of the aged to the needs of all people for self-worth and respect -- and bless them in their efforts.

Grant now your guidance for those in this House in these waning days of session so that they might feel intensely your presence in their lives. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Matthew Besserman, Adam Magers, Brandon Laun, Nichole Harris, Kristen James, Shawna Surbaugh, Charles Surbaugh, Matthew Young, Jimmy Young, Craig Zumwinkel, Mark Zumwinkel and Kurt Zumwinkel.

"197.285. Sections 197.285 to 197.297 shall be known and may be cited as the "Women's Special Medical Care Protection Act".

197.286. 1. In any abortion facility other than licensed ambulatory surgical facilities where abortions are performed, a license to establish and operate an abortion facility shall be required. An application for the licensing of an abortion facility shall be made in writing to the department of health on forms provided by the department of health.

2. Each application for a license shall be accompanied by an annual license fee of two hundred dollars. Applications shall be made by the person operating the abortion facility. Separate licenses are required for facilities maintained on separate sites even though operated by the same owner.

House Journal

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTY-SECOND DAY, Thursday, April 4, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Cheryl L. Tatham.

Comforting God, we pause a moment this morning to remember Secretary Ron Brown and the others whose lives were so tragically ended this week... we remember their families and ask that you comfort them, support them with your presence, and sustain them in the days ahead as they learn to live their lives without their loved ones.

We are constantly reminded of how brief life is -- let us never forget to appreciate each moment -- each moment of time spent with family, each moment of time spent in recreation and relaxation. Time is a precious commodity -- help us use it wisely.

As we deliberate in these halls today, give us guidance to make decisions based on accurate, factual data, not biased opinion or emotion. Give us guidance to choose that which benefits the people we serve in the most productive manner. Bless and care for those who serve here in whatever position they fill -- and give the reassurance of your presence in all that they do. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.

The Speaker appointed the following to act as Honorary Pages for the Day, to serve without compensation: Katie Beers, Kelsey R. Leake, Kristen Strebler and Corey Hartmann.

The Journal of the fifty-first day was approved as corrected.

House Resolution No. 484

Whereas, the Missouri House of Representatives fully recognizes the importance of preparing our youth to become active and productive citizens through worthwhile governmental or citizenship projects; and

Whereas, the House has a long tradition of rendering assistance to those programs which sponsor these projects in the interest of our young people; and

Whereas, one clear example of such a program is the Cedar Hill Gifted Program, which seeks to give students an insight into the democratic process through active participation in a Mock Legislative Session:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Eighty-eighth General Assembly, that the sponsors and participants of the Cedar Hill Gifted Student Program be hereby granted permission to use the House Chamber for the purpose of conducting a Mock Legislative Session from 2:00 p.m. to 5:00 p.m. and the House Committee Hearing Rooms from 10:00 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. on Friday, April 12, 1996.

Mr. Speaker: Your Committee on Miscellaneous Bills and Resolutions, to which was referred HCR 11, begs leave to report it has examined the same and recommends that it Do Pass.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 11

WHEREAS, the legalization and regulation of gambling within the several states has long been recognized as a matter within the exclusive province and expertise of the state under the police powers of the individual sovereign state in establishing public policy and specific restrictions and limitations on gaming activities; and

WHEREAS, the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act of 1988 and other federal statutes explicitly provide that the laws, and therefore, the public policy of the several states respecting gambling must be recognized in the federal authorization of and the tribal operation of Class III gaming establishment in Indian country; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri Constitution generally prohibits conducting lotteries and gift enterprises, including casino-styled games of chance, in the State of Missouri; and

WHEREAS, the two narrow exceptions to this general prohibition, to allow creation of the Missouri Lottery and to allow casino-styled games of chance only on riverboats operating on the Missouri River or the Mississippi River, were passed by a vote of the people only after several failed attempts and only upon representations that these gaming operations would be strictly regulated, that revenue from these gaming operations would be earmarked to fund education, and that casino-styled games of chance would be prohibited in any city or county unless first approved by a separate vote of the people in that city or county; and

WHEREAS, in response to the wishes of the people and concern that gaming operations may be susceptible to corruption and illegal activity and therefore must be closely regulated, the Missouri Legislature and the Missouri Gaming Commission (the "Commission") enacted the strictest statutes and rule in the United States regulating gaming operations; and

WHEREAS, these statutes and rules provide that casino-styled games of chance are allowed only after licensure by the Commission, a process that includes investigating the applicant prior to licensure in order to review the application which must contain a full financial disclosure by each applicant, to determine the identity of all individuals with a financial interest in the proposed gaming operation, and to conduct a criminal background check on all individuals with a financial interest in the proposed gaming operation along with all employees of the proposed gaming operation; and

WHEREAS, once a gaming operation is licensed, it is under the supervision of and subject to investigation by the Commission regarding any alleged violations of games statutes and rules; and

WHEREAS, a member of the Missouri Highway Patrol is present on each gaming boat in Missouri whenever gaming activities are being conducted in order to assure that operations are conducted in accordance with the law, which provides that the sale and service of liquor on gaming boats be strictly regulated, that the purchase and ownership of gaming equipment be regulated and monitored, and that the licensee may be penalized for any environmental damage it causes during its gaming operations; and

WHEREAS, the people of the State of Missouri have demonstrated their continued moral objection to casino-styled games of chance by voting to create only a narrow exception to the Constitutional prohibition on casino-styled games of chance on riverboats based on the belief that these gambling operations would fund education, would be strictly regulated and would not be forced on any city or county without local approval by election; and

WHEREAS, casino-styled games of chance operated by an Indian Tribe on land located in the State of Missouri that is taken into trust by the federal government would constitute land- based gaming operations; and

WHEREAS, casino-styled games of chance operated by an Indian Tribe on land located in Missouri that is taken into trust by the federal government would not be subject to Missouri statues and rules regulating gaming; and

WHEREAS, no revenue from casino-styled games of chance operated by an Indian Tribe on land located in the State of Missouri and taken into trust by the federal government would go to the state to further state programs such as education; and

WHEREAS, casino-styled games of chance could be operated on land located in the State of Missouri that is taken into trust by the federal government without a local option election to verify that the gaming operation is favored by a majority of the voters in the city or county where the land is located; and

WHEREAS, the federal prohibition against taxing motor fuel sold on tribal land, the removal of large tracts of land from the local tax base and other exceptions from taxation that apply to tribal land could make the taking of land into trust for gaming purposes detrimental to the economic interests of other distributors of motor fuel, state and local government, and local businesses in Missouri:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the Missouri House of Representatives of the Second Regular Session of the Eighty-eighth General Assembly, the Senate concurring therein, hereby indicates its opposition to the taking of Missouri land into trust for gaming purposes and the operation of land-based gaming by Indian Tribes in the State of Missouri on any land that may be taken into trust by the federal government where such operations are not subject to the strictest regulation, do not provide a direct financial benefit to the state, and do not recognize the right of local residents to vote regarding the appropriateness of such a gaming operation as expressed by the people of Missouri; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly further urges the Missouri Attorney General to use any legal remedies which are available to him and which he believes are proper and prudent in opposing the taking of Missouri land into trust for gaming purposes and the operation of land-based casino-styled games of chance on any land that may be taken into trust by the federal government under the Indian Gaming Regulatory Act of 1988 and other federal statues that are contrary to the provisions of this resolution.

Second Regular Session, 88th General Assembly

FIFTY-THIRD DAY, Tuesday, April 9, 1996

Speaker Gaw in the Chair.

Prayer by Reverend Ommie L. Nelms, Pastor of Cameron United Methodist Church.

Almighty God, you rule all the peoples of the earth. Inspire the minds of all women and men to whom you have committed the responsibility of state government and leadership. Give them the vision of truth and justice, that by their counsel and leadership, all people of our state may work together. Give to these legislators the zeal for justice and strength of forbearance, that they may guard our liberty in accordance with your gracious will. Especially, do we pray for Randall (Randy) Relford as he takes his place among this body of leaders. As you anointed leaders and called prophets of old, give your anointing to this our representative from the 6th district, city of Cameron, Missouri. Keep in his heart the love of your people, as he alone with other legislators strive to accomplish the common good for all Missourians. We pray all this in the name of God. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the flag was recited.
